BEWARE OF EUROPE, GEDDES WARNS U. S.

Civilization is Tottering, Our Age is Dying, World in Turmoil, Says British Ambassador

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador, speaking tonight at the ninety-ninth annual commencement of George Washington University, warned America against enmeshment in the social "disentanglements" of Europe.

"So far the swell of the storm centered in Europe laps your coast," he declared. "Yet your daily press is already filled with news of strikes, what is vaguely called industrial unrest. We all know it was your tradition to keep clear of Europe entanglements.

"Here is a European disentanglement that is already filling the waters on your social beaches, a disentanglement of the complicated interweaving of man and man in the social fabric."

Sir Auckland declared he doubted if ever before was the future for as many nations, as many individuals, so closely shrouded in dark clouds, pregnant with storms.

"In Europe we know an age is dying," he continued. "Here it would be easy to miss the signs of the coming change, but I have little doubt but that it will come. A realization of the aimlessness of life lived to labor and to die, having achieved nothing but avoidance of starvation and the birth of children also doomed to the weary treadmill of life, has seized the minds of millions."

Ambassador Geddes asserted that the next fifty or sixty years "are going to be the most glorious or the most disastrous in history." The present generation "cannot hope to see a successful end to the world revolution now in progress," he said, and, turning to the recipients of degrees, he added, "Yours may."

"The way out of world turmoil must be led by those who keep in view three essentials," he said, naming them as beauty, service and truth.

"Keeping these three in view," he added, "civilization will sail safely. Let one be occulted and civilization is in danger. Let two be occulted and peril is nigh. Let three be occulted and civilization falls. Thus Babylon fell, thus Egypt, thus Rome . . . and I doubt not fell all civilizations. So today civilization totters."

AMERICAN SUFFRAGE LEADERS REACH PARIS

Posed on the Royal George,

American women who will attend the convention of the Woman Suffrage Alliance in Geneva. Suffragettes Reach Paris on Way to Geneva Conference.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, May 31.—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National Woman Suffrage Association of the United States, and Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the American Secretary of the Navy, with twenty-eight other American delegates, alternates and visitors who will attend the Congress of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance at Geneva, Switzerland, on June 6-12, arrived in Paris today.

They were joined here by eight other American representatives. The party will leave for Geneva tomorrow. Mrs. Daniels has gone to The Hague to visit her brother, Lieut.-Commander David W. Bagley, naval attache to the American Legation there.

"American women are hoping very much," Mrs. Catt said today, "to hear before June 6 that the thirty-sixth State shall have ratified the suffrage amendment so that we will not have the humiliation of representing the women of an unfranchised nation. The women of twelve nations have received suffrage since the last congress in 1913."

GENEVA (Switzerland) May 31.—Fifty nurses, representing fifteen countries, have been awarded the Florence Nightingale medal for heroism on the battlefield by the Geneva Red Cross. Six American, eight British and eight French nurses received the decoration, which was granted posthumously to Edith Cavell, the British nurse who was executed at Brussels.

FRENCH WIN AT AINTAB.

Turk Army Loses 1200 Killed.

Opposition to France's Occupation of Region in Asia Minor Broken.

Banditry in Syria Increases and an Army Must be Sent There.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 29. (Via Paris, May 31.)—It is reported here that the victory of the French at Aintab has broken the opposition of the Turks' Nationalist army to France's occupation of its specified region in Asia Minor.

The Aintab defeat, after a bitter, bloody and prolonged struggle, has taken from the Turks considerable of their morale. Also they must use what guns they have left against the British and the Greeks.

It is said negotiations for peace between the French and the Turks now are near.

The second French column, which took Aintab, killed 1200 Turks and has not yet been able to count the wounded. The Turks had artillery outranging the French 75's, but they were unable to train their guns effectively on the advancing columns.

Increasing banditry in Syria against the French is expected shortly to force France to send an ultimatum to the Feisal government. It is learned from authoritative France sources. The French claim 40,000 troops in Syria, with reinforcements on the way.

Simultaneously comes a report that the French and Turks are dickering for a Cilician armistice, the French intending to evacuate. An armistice would release thousands of French troops for a Syrian occupation, although the officials are certain Feisal will get some support from the Turks, irrespective of any agreement.

A change of the Red policy from the internationalists to the Nationalists is dampening Mohammedan enthusiasm for the Bolshevik movements. The Reds and Mustapha Kemal, however, are now negotiating on a joint Near East policy.

Enver Pasha's wife has been receiving letters from her husband dated Baku. It is understood Enver is not commanding an army, but is conducting propaganda.

The slogan here seems to be Wilsonism or Bolshevism.

Acceptance of an Armenian mandate now would involve the United States not only in the Turkish imbrogolio, but in the Russian question, Armenia being hemmed in from the south by Nationalists and from the north by Bolsheviks.

CONTINUE CAMPAIGN QUERY

Senate Committee is to Take Evidence After Republican Convention.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Senate investigation of preconvention financing campaigns for the Presidential nominations will be continued after the Republican convention and before the Democratic convention, under plans of the committee.

A score of witnesses have been summoned for tomorrow, and Chairman Kenyon said tonight it was proposed to drive through with their examination and to halt the investigation temporarily Thursday night so members and others concerned might attend the Republican convention.

W. T. Neville, a financial officer of the Plumb Plan League, will be asked tomorrow, the chairman said, whether that organization—formed to bring about tri-partite control of the railroads—had backed any candidate.

Rev. H. A. Baker of Westerville, O., general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America, had been summoned for examination as to whether his organization had spent any money for any Presidential candidate, but after he had telegraphed he could not come before Wednesday, Chairman Kenyon advised him he need not come.

R. F. Wolfe, publisher of the Columbus (O.) Dispatch and the Ohio State Journal, has been summoned for examination concerning details of the Ohio primary contest between Gen. Wood and Senator Harding. F. A. Alger, named as the chief financial backer of the Wood campaign in Michigan, also will be heard. William Loeb of New York, who, it was testified, turned in $295,000 to the Wood campaign fund for a New York committee, will be called later, Senator Kenyon said.

The committee plans to revert to campaign expenditures made by Gov. Lowden in Missouri.

California's primary fight, which has been prolific of allegations concerning the use of money, still bulks large in the committee's program with representatives of Herbert Hoover and Senator Johnson summoned.

Mrs. Antoinette Funk, Chicago suffragist, is to be questioned this week as to her knowledge, if any, of a campaign fund for W. G. McAdoo, Democrat.

SAFEGUARD LIFE, RESTORE ORDER, WORD TO MEXICO.

Fall's Report Urges United States to Withhold Recognition Until Good Faith is Proven by Obregon.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Armed intervention in Mexico, should the forces now in control show inability or unwillingness to set up a stable government more friendly toward Americans, was recommended to the Senate today by the Foreign Relations subcommittee investigating Mexican affairs.

Should a stable government be established, the committee recommended that full recognition be accorded it and that financial assistance be offered by the United States, it was said, would be in the form of recommendations to the President.

ARRAIGNS DIAZ SUCCESSORS.

The report contains more than 2,225,000 words, and its summary sharply arraigns those who have directed Mexican affairs since the overthrow of Porfirio Diaz in 1911. For the Mexican people, however, it sounds a note of sympathy, declaring the people of Mexico, that is, that great voiceless submerged inarticulate mass, the "99 per cent, whom President Wilson saw from the platform at Indianapolis several years since, are inarticulate except when they reached civilization on this side of the line and seek work from supposedly despised Americans, that they may live and hope to send back a few dollars with which to rescue their families from starvation."

"Their condition has grown worse and for ten years the United States, that great Christian civilized nation of the world, has stood by 'diddling' while Mexico burned."

The report was based on the testimony obtained from 237 witnesses and a mass of documentary evidence. It set forth that since the Madero revolution began, there have been killed in Mexico 441 Americans and many other foreigners. The number of Americans killed on the American side was placed at 123.

MILLIONS IN DAMAGES.

The aggregate damage that the committee estimated should be paid for the death of these Americans was given at $14,675,000, while the total summary of losses incurred in Mexico was placed at $505,008,494. Losses suffered by the National Railways was placed at $80,000,000 and for other railways in Mexico there was credited a loss aggregating $50,000,000. The losses of one American mining concern was fixed at $25,000,000, but it was pointed out much of the loss had been borne by small property owners.

According to the investigation of the committee, the population of Mexico has decreased nearly one-third since 1910 as a direct result of the disturbed condition. Much of this is due to disease, attributed in a large part, it is asserted, to starvation.

HOSTILE ATTITUDE.

During this period, it was claimed, Mexican authorities have displayed a hostile attitude toward the United States and as an indication of the manner in which the Carranza administration regarded the United States, and its President, there was published in the report the following copy of a letter written by Candido Aguilar, son-in-law of Carranza, to Elisa Arredondo, Mexican Minister at Madrid, three weeks after Aguilar had placed a wreath on Washington's tomb:

"Your note dated the fourth of the past month received. In view of the internal crisis which the United States is experiencing with

REVOLUTIONARY RUMORS IN GERMANY SPREADING.

High Official Asserts Country is Sitting on a Volcano; Another Coup d'Etat is Expectation.

BY WILLIAM G. DREHER.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, May 31.—Rumors of an immense revolutionary outbreak here continue. Reports are conflicting, some saying that the Right has planned a coup d'etat and others that the Left will attempt a new Kapp revolt. All the reports are regarded in Conservative circles as grossly exaggerated. However, certain prominent Social Democrats have been warned anonymously that their names are on the death list and that they should leave the city at once. Some of them have left.

The government service says there is no serious danger. The bourgeois council in Munich gave out a statement which it said was based on excellent authority disclosing that the Socialist and Communist revolutionaries were on the eve of attempting a decisive blow against the present order. The council said the revolters were counting on the help of the Red army, which has its headquarters at Remscheid and Halle. The Radicals hope to set up a soviet republic, the council added.

President Hoersing of Magdeburg, in an interview with the Tribune correspondent, absolutely scouted the idea of a Red revolt in Halle and Remscheid. Hoersing's remedy for the present unrest is remove the military and manage to keep peace with the use only of the police.

NOT NOTICEABLE.

A government official just returned from a five-day trip through Pomerania said he regarded that district as dry tinder in case of an outbreak, but that the prospects of revolutionary action starting there were not noticeable.

Officials of the reichswehr in Berlin and members of the government, however, take a more serious view of the situation that reports from over the country seem to justify. One high official said to the Tribune correspondent today:

"Germany is sitting on a volcano; the ground all around us is smoking. outbreaks can occur at any time from the right or left. The chief danger is in the southern Ruhr Valley, where the Spartacists took refuge. France has prevented our driving them out of that region."

Rumors of the impending uprising seem to increase in number with the approach of the national elections, which are now only one week off. Socialists of both factions vie with the Nationalists in predicting that the coup d'etat will come.

Women are taking a prominent part in the campaign, frequently making the principal speeches at important rallies.

The campaign has taken on a decidedly anti-Semitic character, particularly among the Nationalists. The leading organs of that party are printing cartoons designed to excite Jew-baiting and the Jews have become greatly alarmed by these attacks.

Fire Causes Steerage Panic

SEATTLE, May 31.—More than 100 steerage passengers on the liner Suwa Maru, in port here, were thrown into a panic late tonight when an explosion of unknown origin set fire to first-class and officers' quarters above decks. The flames were quickly gotten under control and the steerage passengers, who were awaiting examination by immigration authorities, were not removed. No estimate of the damage has been made.

Sisal Burns, Million Loss

GALVESTON (Tex.) May 31.—Sisal estimated at $1,000,000 was consumed in a fire of unknown origin at pier No. 41, Galveston Wharf Company, which broke out late last night, and early today was still burning. The warehouse in which the sisal was stored also burned at an estimated loss of $500,000. The sisal was the property of several New York firms, which have been accumulating it here from Yucatan, Mex. While the identity of the individual owners could not be learned, the warehouse was under lease to the Cotton Concentration Company.

Osuna Joins in Revolt

MEXICO CITY, May 31.—After a conference with Gen. Trevino last night, Andres Osuna, recently nominated for Governor of Tamaulipas, joined the revolution. At Gen. Obregon's headquarters today it was explained that the recent hostility of Osuna to the revolution was based on a misconception of Adolfo de la Huerta's assumption of the post of provisional President. Confidence that the international relations of Mexico would be adjusted satisfactorily was expressed today by Secretary of Foreign Relations Ascona. He added that he had received unofficial advices that the United States was friendly to the revolution.

Find Woman Unconscious

A pretty young woman who says her name is Mrs. Lucile Reynolds of South Rampart Boulevard was found unconscious on the sidewalk near Vermont avenue and Ninth street early this morning. She was treated at the Receiving Hospital. In her purse was found a note reading thus: "If anything should happen to me please bury me in the prettiest cemetery in Los Angeles. I have never had very much of the good things of this life and I want to rest in peace when I am dead. I cannot see very well, so you will excuse this scribble. I hope others do not have the trouble I have had. By-by, dear girl. [Signed] Lucile."

FORMER PRESIDENT OF GUATEMALA IN PRISON

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

SAN SALVADOR (Republic of Salvador) May 31.—Estrada Carrera, formerly President of Guatemala, has been imprisoned upon orders from Carlos Herrera, leader of the revolution, which overturned the Guatemalan government early in April, according to advices received here. This step was taken after political supporters advised Herrera that it was necessary to restrain Cabrera during the coming Presidential campaign.

TRAIN CRASH KILLS SEVEN.

Head-on Oklahoma Collision; Two Killed in Colorado Accident.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TULSA (Okla.) May 31.—Two St. Louis and San Francisco passenger trains met head-on at White Oak, Okla., today, resulting in the death of seven persons. Three other persons probably were injured fatally and twenty or more received less serious injuries.

Confusion of train orders was responsible for the wreck, railroad officials stated.

Both engineers died at their posts of duty. A mail clerk, a news agent and a negro also were killed.

The two engines were welded together by the force of the impact.

A special train of the dead and injured was sent to Vinita.

No statement of the cause of the wreck has been given out by the railroad. The dead and injured were all from Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma.

TRAIN PLUNGES TO RIVER.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

GRAND JUNCTION (Colo.) May 31.—R. D. Ray, engineer; G. N. Clute, fireman, of Grand Junction, and Edward Mahoney, brakeman, lost their lives today when a Denver and Rio Grande stock train plunged into the flooded Gunnison River, in Unaweep Canyon, twenty miles south of here.

ST. PAUL FATALITIES.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

ST. PAUL, May 30.—Two persons were burned to death and two others slightly injured when fire today destroyed the Burlington Hotel, a landmark on the Mississippi River bluffs.

SAN FRANCISCO INJURIES.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—Battalion Chief Samuel J. Spear was injured responding to a fire in the business section today and Michael Flagan, a fireman, and Samuel Scears, a night watchman, were hurt fighting the flames. Hospital attendants announced the injuries were not serious.

The fire destroyed two flats, a mattress factory and a garage. Mrs. Rose Vail carried her 72-year-old mother and her 5-year-old son to safety from one of the flats, and F. Rayla, a shipworker, rescued his two small children.

BONUS BILL UP IN SENATE.

Opponents Say Measure Will be Pigeon-Holed in Committee.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The soldier relief bill was before the Senate today, probably for reference to committee, which opponents of the measure said would be virtually a interment in the legislative graveyard. Passage of the measure by the House, Saturday ended three months of hearings, discussions, disputes and party strifes.

Senate leaders said that the bill had no chance for consideration before the recess, which is expected to continue until September 1, while opponents insisted the legislation would never advance further than to be referred to the committee.

After making slight modifications the House bill broadening the powers of the government to deport alien anarchists and to prevent their admission into the country, the House Immigration Committee ordered the measure favorably reported.

House and Senate conferees on the army appropriation bill tentatively agreed to fix the appropriation for the army air service at $35,000,000, of which $600,000 would be used for experiment and $5,250,000 for construction work. The House bill fixed the appropriation at $27,255,000, and the Senate increased it to $40,000,000.

Sale of the government-owned merchant ships as soon as practicable, with provisions authorizing the Shipping Board to sell certain classes of ships to aliens if considered advisable, was tentatively agreed on by the House and Senate conferees on merchant marine legislation.

By a vote of 233 to 58 the House passed and sent to the Senate the bill permitting farmers, planters, ranchmen, dairymen or fruit growers to combine for the collective marketing and sale of their own products notwithstanding antitrust laws.

Republican leaders of the House and Senate agreed tentatively on a final adjournment of Congress Saturday.

By unahimous vote the Senate Agricultural Committee ordered a favorable report on the Wadsworth bill authorizing the acquisition and operation by the War Department of the nitrate fixation plants at Sheffield and Mussel Shoals, Ala., through a corporation to be organized under the direction of the Secretary of War.

NO RIVER AND HARBOR APPROPRIATION LIKELY

SENATE AND HOUSE HAVE REACHED DEADLOCK ON MEASURE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Senate and House conferees on the annual River and Harbor Appropriation Bill reached a deadlock today and voted that further efforts to perfect the measure in conference would be futile.

Members of the Conference Committee said that with a recess impending the disagreement meant there would be no river and harbor appropriations this year.

As it passed the House the bill carried $12,000,000, but the Senate increased its total to $24,000,000. Today the Senate conferees offered to agree to a total of $15,000,000, but the suggestion was turned down by the House representatives.

FRENCH SOLDIERS IN CLASH IN SILESIA.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, May 31.—A serious incident is reported from Beuthen, Silesia, where during a quarrel with a French soldier, a man said to be a German-American was killed, says a Berlin dispatch to the Central News.

Much excitement continues in the district regarding French occupation, the dispatch adds.

A Berlin dispatch to Reuter's says French soldiers pulled a man named Heide, said to be either a British or American citizen, out of a tram car. They declared he shouted: "Down with France!" An altercation ensued, a shot was fired and Heide fell dead.

CONTEST ON DELEGATES TASK FOR REPUBLICANS.

More Than Usual Amount of Friction from Southern Contingents Will Occupy Time Till Friday.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, May 31.—In open session today the National Republican Committee began deciding contests of State delegations to the convention, but made slow progress.

In what Chairman Hays characterized as "judicial rather than political decisions," the committee seated regularly reported delegates from Arkansas and Alabama, postponed the District of Columbia contest until tomorrow and, after giving an extended hearing to a three-cornered contest from Florida, adjourned without a decision.

From today's rate of progress Chairman Hays estimated that the contests would not be cleared before Friday. Today's decision will not be factors in the strength of any candidate, and range principally about the questions of regularity, although the race issue frequently was injected.

In all decisions, the committee was guided on questions of law and precedent by Charles B. Warren of Detroit, national committeeman from Michigan, acting at the request of Chairman Hays as the committee attorney. After each contest, Mr. Warren issued a statement of the reasons upon which the committee was acting. Mr. Hays said that was a part of his plan to lay the committee work before the country.

Only seven of the 127 contests were decided today.

The committee struck a snag in the Florida contest where three sets of delegates—one each reported favorable to Gen. Wood, Gov. Lowden and Senator Johnson, respectively—were contesting. For more than three hours the committee argued complicated technical points of the cases and finally referred it over night to a sub-committee of three for recommendation tomorrow.

The three committeemen were Warren of Michigan, Du Pont of Delaware and Parsons of New York.

GEORGIA CONTEST.

Beside the Florida decision, the committee tomorrow will take up the hard fought controversy between the Wood and Lowden forces in Georgia, and that between three sets of delegates from the District of Columbia.

The Florida contest, vigorously argued by the committee and the contestants, involves the question whether there is in law a Republican party in Florida. A regular faction headed by George W. Bean of Tampa, national committeeman, bases its claims on the Palatka convention of January 29, held under a call issued by D. T. Gerow of Jacksonville, the Republican State chairman who was elected in 1916 for four years.

The delegation headed by H. L. Anderson of Jacksonville claimed title to election in 1918 under a State primary law of State executive committee, while the third group headed by A. L. Church and W. L. Van Duzer, of Jacksonville, claimed their seats by virtue of a second convention.

The regularly reported faction further claimed a holdover title from the State committee chosen in 1916.

CLAIM PARTY DEFUNCT.

The regularly reported delegates were charged by Mr. Anderson with having forfeited their right to seats by neglecting to file primary nominations for the State committee. He asserted they became defunct as a party organization under a State Supreme Court decision rendered last May, which held that under the primary law the party had failed to poll 5 per cent of the votes cast at an election and ceased to be a party organization under the law.

The Church-Van Duzer group contended that both the Bean and the Anderson organizations were defunct and that, representing the "real Republicans" of Florida, they were calling "for a redeal all around." They reported that with the large increase of northern immigration into Florida, the State could be considered a doubtful one if the National Committee would recognize a Republican organization, which, they argued, would command the support of the electorate.

The regulars were charged with maintaining rule in Florida for patronage purposes largely and, Mr. Anderson declared, "in collusion" with the Democrats. The Bean-Gerow organization, he charged, was a "close corporation" and an "office holders' trust."

Charges of collusion were denied by Lake Jones of Jacksonville, who argued the case for the regular delegation, and declared both the opposing delegations were acting under title from a former chairman who had registered as a Democrat. He also contended that the court decision did not wipe the party out of existence, but applied merely to the primary nominations for vacancies.

WOOD TAKES CHARGE.

Wood chieftains began assembling at headquarters today with the arrival of Maj.-Gen. Wood, accompanied by Senator Moses, his eastern manager, from Washington.

Almost coincident with the arrival of Gen. Wood, the Johnson headquarters announced that Senator Johnson would arrive Thursday at noon, and that a parade had been arranged to follow his reception at the railroad station.

Senator Harding is expected here late this week, but the Hoover headquarters announced it was problematical as to whether Mr. Hoover would come to Chicago during the convention. Gov. Lowden already is here.

Shortly after arrival of Gen. Wood, it was announced at Wood headquarters that the meeting between the Wood leaders scheduled for tonight had been postponed until tomorrow. At that time Gen. Wood, William Cooper Procter, his campaign manager, Senator Moses, his eastern manager and Frank H. Hitchcock will decide on the man to lead the general's fight in the convention.

Gen. Wood said he was in excellent health and that the situation in the East looked exceptionally bright.

Some limitation of immigration, not sufficiently strict to interfere with "advantages capital naturally sees in a large foreign labor supply" was recommended today for inclusion in the party's platform by the Immigration subcommittee of the Advisory Committee.

The committee declared that both the interests of capital and demands of labor for relief from the competition of cheap foreign labor should be considered.

Limitation of new arrivals in this country to a given percentage of the naturalized citizens of their race now in the country was suggested. Stricter requirements as to mentality and past records of immigrants also were suggested.

Chairman Hays announced solution of the problem of seating the fifty-six extra delegates chosen from ten States. It was found forty additional chairs can be placed in the space arranged for delegates on the floor of the Coliseum, and the other sixteen will be accommodated by occupying spaces of delegates who happen to be absent.

In announcing the plan Chairman Hays said:

"In almost every case the election of these extra delegates in the various States ironed out bad factional differences, and has made for harmony within the party. I do not want to recommend establishing troublesome precedents, but I am suggesting a way to seat these delegates and preserve the good accomplished in the States by their election."

At the headquarters of the Hoover Republican clubs today it was announced Herbert Hoover would be placed in nomination by a "distinguished Republican," and that the seconding speech would be made by a Republican of equal prominence.

The following program of chaplains for the Republican convention was announced today:

Tuesday, June 8: First session, Rt. Rev. Charles E. Woodcock, Louisville, Ky.; second session, Bishop Thomas Nicholson, Chicago.

Wednesday, June 9: First session, Rev. John Timothy Stone, Chicago; second session, Rabbi Emil G. Hirsch, Chicago.

Thursday, June 10: First session, His Eminence, Cardinal James Gibbons, archbishop of Baltimore, Md.; second, Dr. Ernest Fremont Tittle, Evanston, Ill.

Friday, June 11: First session, Rev. Johnston Myers, Chicago; second session, Rev. Gardner McWhorter, Libertyville, Ill.

It's all in the spelling. If they say to you, "How's your dog," you say "Fine." If they say "House your dog," you say "Sure." Be that as it may, it has nothing to do with the fact that many of the scions of our front families are daily parking their dogs in WOOLF & BEAN'S HOTEL ALEXANDRIA and putting their classic brows into the cooling and uplifting influence of one of those swagger new STRAWS. 'Tis said that said STRAWS are highly conducive to cool-headedness. Speaking of canines, brings to light the fact that these WOOLF & BEAN STRAWS have a tendency to help the wearer "put on the dog"—and get away with it.

RENT PROFITEERS CALLED ON CARPET.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) May 31. Owners and lessees of seven apartment-houses in Portland and an owner of a rooming-house were today summoned to appear Tuesday before Mayor Baker's committee of eight, appointed to investigate cases of rent profiteering.

They will be asked to show cause why they should not be given publicity as profiteers or to refute investigators' figures on profits they have made, the committee announced.

CHICAGO VAST BAGGAGE-ROOM.

Trunks and Boxes of Women Delegates Arriving.

Question of Costumes Bothering Unattached.

Several National Leaders Already in the City.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 31.—Chicago will be the baggage-room for more visiting trunks than any city in the nation during the week of the Republican National Convention. How will the multitudinous trunks, the hat boxes and hand bags be delivered and housed during the big event?

The problem of the baggage is a natural consequence of the entrance of femininity into politics and political conventions. Women delegates from the four corners of the country have no doubt been planning convention toilettes ever since there has been a remote probability of their attending, and the more so because it is inevitable that rumors of the grand affairs Chicago is planning for the visitors have reached their ears.

Those women who are instructed, who know exactly to which faction they will devote themselves upon arriving, are really in luck, as regards the question of apparel.

For, indeed, the necessary costumes are dependent more upon their Presidential affiliations than even upon fickle Chicago weather.

PINK TEAS TABOO.

For example, consider the Lowden women's announcement that pink teas and social functions are taboo and that things will be conducted in man-like fashion! That would lead the delegates to believe that tailor-mades and street frocks were the only important apparel to bring along. On the other hand, the Wood and Hoover fans must have afternoon and evening gowns with white gloves in abundance—and feather hats, judging from the list of teas and luncheons and receptions planned for the visitors. And the Johnson people—well, perhaps gingham frocks and garments that are distantly reminiscent of back-to-the-soil propaganda.

And bewildered indeed must be the woman who has formed no affiliations previous to her arrival. A wardrobe trunk is all that will do, for undoubtedly welcome rumors of yachting parties on the lake, luncheons at the homes of Chicago's millionaires, teas at clubs where the cream of society gathers, have drifted to their ears.

Clothes are by no means all that the women are thinking about, however. Women delegates to the coming convention, as well as club women all over the country, are vitally interested in the new platform of the G.O.P. A woman's platform has been sent to party leaders. Feminine framers are hoping that the tentative draft which will be ready for submission early this week to present to prospective members of the Resolutions Committee will contain their planks, relating to women in industry, public health, citizenship of married women, child welfare and similar subjects.

Mrs. Maud Wood Parke, chairman of the League of Woman Voters, which is the outgrowth of the National Suffrage Association, and the organization that framed the platform, will arrive in Chicago June 5 to request a hearing at the convention.

Hoover women enthusiasts are beginning to drift into Hoover headquarters. Mrs. F. Louis Slade of New York, director of the League of Woman Voters for the Middle Atlantic States, is expected to arrive tonight. Mrs R. J. Burdette of Pasadena is expected at Hoover headquarters early this week. Other Californians of note expected tonight are S. Lee of San Diego, a cousin of Theodore Roosevelt; Mrs. Herbert H. Cable of Los Angeles, who helped organize California women for the Presidential primary and toured every county in Southern California for Hoover.

WEDS ATHLETE.

Los Angeles Couple Married in San Diego.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, May 31.—Combining love and baseball, Robert G. Norris, well-known athlete of Los Angeles, who is in the city for three days with the Goodyear baseball team of the northern city, and Mrs. Mabel L. Fuller of Los Angeles were married by Judge J. Edward Keating.

Mrs. Fuller, her sister, Miss Edith Lovejoy, and Mr. Norris came down from Los Angeles for the games to be played by the Goodyear organization with local teams and after arriving Mrs. Fuller and Mr. Norris decided to have their wedding here.

They visited the County Clerk's office and then called upon Judge Keating having first called a friend, Clifford Webster, on the phone to secure his services as best man. Miss Lovejoy attended her sister at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Helen E. Lovejoy of 1644 West Twenty-third street, and formerly lived in San Diego, where she was well known, socially.

The groom at one time lived in San Diego and is now a resident of Los Angeles. During the war he served in the Engineer Corps in the Twenty-sixth Division in France and took part in a number of the major engagements.

He received fourteen shrapnel wounds in the leg and won the rank of captain. Mr. and Mrs. Norris will live in Los Angeles.

WOMEN DELEGATES TO HAVE SPECIAL TRAIN.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, May 31.—Led by Mrs. John Sherwin Crosby a special train carrying fifty-four women delegates and alternates to the National Democratic Convention in San Francisco will depart from New York June 19. This will be the first expedition of its kind in the United States. Many of the women will be accompanied by their husbands, children or other relatives.

The party will be augmented by delegates from other States from various points enroute to Chicago, and after the convention the members will visit Pike's Peak, the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, Riverside, Hollywood and Los Angeles, the Catalina Islands, and other resorts.

WILSON CONFERS WITH CUMMINGS

President to Direct Convention of His Party.

National Chairman's Keynote Speech Approved.

Predict White House Will Name Next Candidate.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 31.—In a conference of two hours with Chairman Cummings of the Democratic National Committee at the White House today President Wilson outlined his plans and issued his instructions whereby he intends to dominate the San Francisco convention, name the candidate of the party and write the platform. Mr. Cummings is to leave for San Francisco tomorrow.

The President told Cummings he had not the slightest doubt that the Democratic nominee would be the next President, and thought that any doubt on this score in any quarter must have been swept away by the mistakes and inaction of the Republican Congress in dealing with questions of vital national import.

President Wilson and the national chairman were agreed that the Republicans were going to split on the rock of radicalism, and that the radical Republicans, failing to achieve the nomination of Senator Johnson, would bolt and form a third party.

PRESIDENT VIGOROUS.

President Wilson, who entertained his guest at a movie exhibition in the East Room, and afterward at luncheon, was described by Mr. Cummings as displaying his old-time vigor, and as being in excellent humor. The President, Mr. Cummings said, found much amusement in the investigation of the campaign expenditures of Republican candidates, and expressed the opinion that the Presidency could not be purchased, and suggested that the revelations would make excellent Democratic campaign material, particularly in identification of Republican candidates with various big business interests.

If the President confided to Mr. Cummings the name of the man he intends the Democratic convention shall nominate, the national chairman is keeping the secret.

President Wilson approves the rough draft of the keynote speech Mr. Cummings will deliver as temporary chairman of the convention. It praises the President and his administration to the skies, and echoes Mr. Wilson's most trenchant utterances in defense of the League of Nations covenant without reservations, and denunciation of the Republican reservationists and irreconcilables.

The League of Nations and other important planks of the platforms the President desires adopted are being prepared by Mr. Wilson himself, and will be forwarded to San Francisco. A wet plank will not be among them, and President Wilson desires none adopted, Mr. Cummings said that the platform the President wants is essentially the platform adopted by the Virginia Democratic Convention, which the national chairman believes reflects the attitude of the party overwhelmingly.

PROBABLE PLANKS.

The Virginia platform was silent on the liquor issue and included the following planks:

Advocated ratification of the peace treaty with its League of Nations covenant "without reservations which would impair its essential integrity."

Condemns "an indiscriminate bonus to enlisted men" of the Army and Navy as a smirch on true patriotism."

Condemns the Republican Congress for failing to accept the President's advice to revise the tax laws by repealing war taxation and readjusting the revenue act to a peace basis.

Accuses the Republicans of failure to aid the farmer, of advancing measures to cripple the agricultural interests.

Advocates devices for determining labor disputes, so as to prevent strikes and lockouts.

Mr. Cummings said that he did not anticipate a love feast in San Francisco, but he expects the President to control, and that Bryan will be disposed of effectually when he endeavors to commit the party to League of Nations reservations or adoption of a dry plank.

The President has a definite plan of procedure regarding further efforts to procure ratification of the treaty, but Mr. Cummings said it would be improper for him to disclose it.

COMPLETE COMPILATION OF PRIMARY RETURNS.

OREGON DELEGATES TO REPUBLICAN CONVENTION ARE NAMED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SALEM (Or.) May 31.—Compilation of official returns of the primary of May 21, last, was completed today by Secretary of State Sam Kozer so far as they relate to selection of delegates to the Republican National Convention. The result showed the followed delegates-at-large chosen:

Wallace McCamant, Charles H. Carey, John L. Rand and Conrad P. Olson.

Under the Oregon primary law the delegates are pledged to use their endeavors to further the nomination of the Republican choice of Oregon voters as expressed in the primaries, except McCamant, whose name was placed on the ballot by petition and who has declared himself for Wood. As Johnson won the Republican preference in Oregon the other delegates stand pledged to him.

TO DECIDE LABOR'S STAND ON IRELAND.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, May 31.—A meeting of the "triple alliance," made up of railroad men, miners and transport workers, passed a resolution today urgently requesting the convening of a special trades union congress to decide on what the attitude of labor shall be toward the production and handling of munitions for Ireland and Poland.

WOOD COMMANDS CHICAGO SECTOR

General Arrives to Personally Conduct Fight.

Hoover Forces Prepared for Strong Offensive.

Lowden's Sponsor in Convention is Not Disclosed.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 31.—Gen. Leonard Wood is now in active command of his own Republican convention fighting men. He arrived from the East this afternoon, conferred for an hour with Col. William Cooper Procter, and went to Fort Sheridan.

Gov. Lowden, at his personal headquarters at the Blackstone Hotel, was in consultation with more than half of the members of the national committee, and with State delegation leaders. Whether he is to remain in Chicago during the convention is to be determined.

The Hoover campaign organization moved into the entire ninth floor of the Congress Hotel, and opened up the most elaborate convention headquarters of any of the candidates.

Senator Hiram Johnson gets here Thursday, and in person will direct his own campaign. It has been arranged already that he shall be on the floor of the convention if the strategy of his candidacy so requires. There was much talk coming from Wood sources that preparations may be made whereby Gen. Wood will be in the convention.

TO ELIMINATE FRICTION.

Assumption of personal command by Gen. Wood of the convention contests, it is understood, tends to eliminate any friction between Wood men involved in questions of policy between the elements of the Wood strength friendly either to the Procter or the Hitchcock leadership.

Wood headquarters announced that conference is to be had tomorrow morning between Gen. Wood and former Postmaster-General Frank H. Hitchcock, at which the question of the floor management of the Wood campaign is to be considered. Mr. Hitchcock said today that he had not been invited at that time to such a conference, but reiterated an earlier statement that he is prepared to go the route with the Wood forces.

It was stated at Wood headquarters that the tentative program for the making of the nominating and seconding speeches had been completed, including Gov. H. J. Allen of Kansas as the man who will place Gen. Wood in nomination, a seconding speech by former Secretary of War H. L. Stimson of New York, and seconding speeches by spokesmen for a half dozen other States. This plan, of necessity, may be changed by any regulation that the Committee on Rules will make limiting the number of speeches and time schedule of the convention oratory.

Gov. Lowden has not designated the maker of his nominating speech, and it was indicated tonight that this will not be determined until late this week. The Harding and Johnson nominators have been named.

Out of all of the corridor gossip and headquarters claims there seems to be nothing definite that indicates that any candidate has any particular edge for the nomination over any other.

CAPT. LUCEY ARRIVES.

Arrivals at Hoover headquarters included Capt. J. F. Lucey, national chairman of the Hoover Republican Club, and H. A. Vivian, national manager of publicity. Ralph Arnold of Los Angeles, vice-chairman of the Hoover National Republican Club and one of the big Hoover organizers in the West, will arrive tomorrow. The gathering of these men presages a real fight, particularly as there is a strong undercurrent of sentiment for the former Food Administrator.

The spirit exhibited by the Hoover forces indicates that they are just moving forward for the real attack preceding the decisive contest.

Speculation as to the position of Senator Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania took another new turn with the arrival of a telegram last night stating that Mr. Penrose will reach Chicago Friday noon.

His proxy in the national committee that was held by John T. King of Connecticut was turned over yesterday morning by Mr. King to A. J. Cassett of Philadelphia, who sat for Senator Penrose all through yesterday's session of the national committee.

Mr. King was conspicuous in the contests. His attitude has been such, inside leaders indicated, as to forecast the impossibility of any reconciliation between himself and the Wood camp.

PLACE OF HONOR FOR VETERAN OF TWO WARS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, May 31.—O. J. Stough, 102-year-old resident of San Diego, was an honorary participant in the Memorial Day parade of veterans. Stough is the only living veteran of the Mexican War now residing in San Diego, and receives a pension for his services in that war. He enlisted in 1846 from Mansfield, O., under Capt. McLaughlin. He was wounded in the battle of Matamoras. He also served in the Civil War. Mr. Stough headed the automobile section of the parade, made up of Civil War veterans.

MEXICO MUST PROVE FAITH.

Fall Urges Recognition be Withheld for a Time.

Make Rebels Restore Peace and Order First.

son's policy is provoking indignation among the parties and the press in attacking the President severely. He goes from one blunder to another and shows each day more clearly that he is a perfectly incompetent person.

"If the failure in Europe were not sufficient, it would be corroborated by the inexpedient notes that we have received from Washington and which President Carranza has answered with the impertinence those Yankees merit. I see in all this a criminal intention to intervene in our country. Time will show me to be right."

The committee points out that a new regime has come into power in Mexico and says:

"We should first follow one policy, viz:

"(a.) Wait before recognizing Gov. De la Huerta as President of Mexico until it shall be assured that his election is approved by the Mexican people and that his administration is possessed of stability to endure and of the disposition to comply with the rules of international comity and the obligations of treaties.

"(b.) We should let everyone who assumes to exercise authority in any part of Mexico know in the most unequivocal way that we shall vigilantly watch the fortunes of those Americans who cannot get away, and shall hold those responsible for their sufferings and losses to a definite reckoning. That can be and will be made plain beyond the possibility of a misunderstanding. (President Wilson's address to Congress on Mexican conditions August 27, 1913.)

MUST PROTECT LIFE.

"(c.) Repeat to the Mexicans now what Evarts said in 1878: 'The first duty of a government is to protect life and property. This is a paramount obligation . . . This duty the government of the United States has determined to perform to the extent of its power toward its citizens on the border. It is not solicitous; it never has been, about the methods or ways in which that protection shall be accomplished, whether by formal treaty stipulation or by informed convention; whether by the action of judicial tribunals or that of military forces. Protection, in fact, to American lives and property is the sole point upon which the United States is tenacious.'

"Then if satisfied as to (a) recognize De la Huerta (or successor) upon conditions plainly expressed and affirmatively accept that:

"Article CXXX of the constitution of 1917 shall not apply to American missionaries, preachers, ministers, teachers or American schools, nor to American periodicals, but that American missionaries, ministers and teachers shall be allowed freely to enter, pass through and reside in Mexico, there to freely reside, preach, teach and write, and hold property and conduct schools without interference by the authorities so long as such ministers, teachers or missionaries do not participate in Mexican politics or revolutions."

"That Article III shall not apply to any American teaching or conducting primary schools. This article prohibits any minister or any religious corporation or establishing or directing schools of primary instruction.

ONLY UPON LIMITATION.

"That none of the provisions of Article XXVII of said constitution with reference to limitations upon rights of property heretofore acquired by Americans or which may hereafter be acquired, shall apply to Americans except where the limitation is written in the deed, lease or other instrument of title, and particularly:

"The provision of said article to the effect that the subsoil products other than of metalliferous minerals shall be the property of the national government of Mexico, to be disposed of by decree or by law, shall not apply to the property of American citizens purchasing from other individuals or from state, municipal or municipal authorities of Mexico, unless the limitation or reservation with reference to such subsoil products shall be written in the original deed or other instrument of conveyance transferring the surface of the property to such American purchaser.

"That the prohibition against the ownership of property in lands, waters or their appurtenances or against the concessions for the development of mines, waters or mineral fuels in the republic to foreigners, shall not apply to American citizens.

"That subsection of said Article XXVII shall not apply to church properties or episcopal or residences, rectories, seminaries, orphan asylums or collegiate establishments of religious institutions or schools held or owned by Americans. (This clause operates without condemnation or other process to confiscate the property above mentioned.)

"That the subdivisions of subsection 7 of Article XXVII described as 'a, b, c, d, and e,' shall not apply to the property of any Americans now owned under whatsoever title or which may hereafter be acquired where distinct reservations and limitations covering such provisions are affirmative set out in the documents or evidences of title or transfer of such property.

EXCLUSIVE RIGHT.

"That Article XXXIII of said constitution, providing that 'the executive shall have the exclusive right to expel from the republic forthwith and without judicial process any foreigner whose presence he may deem inexpedient,' shall not apply to American citizens who shall, when they so demand, have access to their consulate or consular agent or diplomatic representative and have the right to avail themselves of the assistance of such officials and until after due judicial proceedings upon application of such American.

"That such agreement should provide for the immediate appointment of a claims commission to pass on all claims for damage to Americans in Mexico, or upon its boundaries, the committee to be composed of American citizens appointed by the President of the United States and a like number of Mexican citizens to be appointed as that government may in said agreement provide, and that the decision of this commission shall be binding upon the respective governments and shall be immediately carried out by the payment of the damages adjudged.

ARBITRATION COMMISSION.

"That a like commission should be in such agreement provided for the settlement of disputes concerning the international boundary, and waters of the Rio Grande River and of the Colorado River and particularly the Chanmizal dispute and the Colorado River irrigation complication, with power to such commission to render decision for the payment of money and transfer of property, if any, necessary, in the final settlement of such disputa.

"It is not necessary to point out all the provisions of this constitution of a similar character to those referred to.

"Having recognized any Mexican government upon the conditions as above set forth, then not only the moral support, but financial aid without stint so far as same is necessary for the refunding of all Mexican bonds, including external as well as the internal debt, with additional funds in sufficient amounts to rehabilitate all Mexican railroads and to maintain same and also sufficient amounts to enable the recognized government to re-establish, organize and thoroughly equip a purely national army not belonging to any particular chief, chieftain or general, but operating solely under the national government, which shall immediately proceed where necessary to disarm all other armed forces or individuals in the republic; together with sufficient funds to enable the Mexican government to buy and pay for all arms and equipment which may be brought in and surrendered by individuals or armed bands or so-called armies.

"Preferably this aid should be extended by the people of the United States as a national loan from them to the people of Mexico, upon long time and with moderate rates of interest, so that Mexico may not be compelled to refound her debts and finance her necessities through appeal to individuals and by granting special privileges or concessions to such individuals.

"We have the legal right and it is our duty to refuse to recognize any government in Mexico which will not agree by way of a treaty to the foregoing conditions of recognition.

WOULD FOLLOW WARNING.

"Should any government proposing to be recognized refuse to accede to the foregoing conditions of recognition, immediate renewed notice should be given as suggested under B and C, with the statement to the de facto officials wherever found.

"That action would follow the warning in each and every case where action was necessary to preserve life or the property of an American citizen.

"Following such warnings and statements, should such governments not therefore have restored order and peace in the Republic of Mexico, and effectively extended protection to our citizens, due notice to the Mexican people that we would not war with them, but in the words of McKinley:

"First—In the cause of humanity and to put an end to the barbarities, bloodshed, starvation and horrible miseries now existing there and which the parties to the conflict are apparently unable or unwilling to stop or mitigate.'

"That we will send a police force consisting of the naval and military forces of our government into the Republic of Mexico to open and maintain open every line of communication between the City of Mexico and every seaport and every border port of Mexico.

"And that we owe to our citizens in Mexico and those who have been driven out of that country, the duty, as McKinley said:

"'To afford them that protection and indemnity for life and property which no government there can or will afford, and to that end to terminate the conditions that deprive them of legal protection.'

"In the giving notice that we are not warring upon the Mexican people," the committee's report added, "we should request that they refrain from joining any armed band in any attacks upon our troops or forces whose purpose would simply be the restoration of peace and order; protection of our citizens; protection of Mexican citizens; restoration to American citizens of their properties; the affording of opportunity for the opening of mines, fields and factories; and last the affording of opportunity for the Mexican people themselves, whatsoever manner they desire, to constitute a Mexican government of serious, competent, honest and honorable men, who will meet the civilized world upon a friendly ground and bind themselves to deal with other people as they themselves would be dealt with."

SOVIET ENVOY VISITS LONDON.

Bolshevik Minister Confers With English Officials.

Trade Relations Discussed; Peace is Not Mentioned.

Red Troops Occupy Important Inland City in Persia.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, May 31.—Premier Lloyd George received Gregory Krassin, Russian soviet Minister of Trade and Commerce, and one of his colleagues at the Premier's official residence in Downing street this afternoon. Andrew Bonar Law, the government leader, and Earl Curzon, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, also were present.

The interview was confined to a discussion of trade, the Associated Press was informed officially. It was stated that no suggestion relative to peace was put forward.

The conference lasted an hour and a quarter after which the following official statement was issued:

"A conference took place at No. 10 Downing street this afternoon between the Prime Minister, Mr. Bonar Law, Lord Curzon, Sir Robert Horne and Mr. Harmsworth (Cecil B. Harmsworth, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs,) on the one hand, and M. Krassin and Klisko on the other. A preliminary discussion took place in regard to the resuming of trade relations between Russia and Western Europe."

Immediately after the conference Premier Lloyd George left for his country home. M. Krassin refused to talk to the newspaper men.

The Ukrainian mission has addressed a protest to Premier Lloyd George, to be forwarded to the supreme economic council, claiming for Ukrainia a proportional share of the gold which the mission understands Gregory Krassin, Russian soviet Minister of Trade and Commerce, proposes to use to buy supplies for soviet Russia.

The protest says the Moscow government has at its disposal gold belonging to the Russian state bank and also the Russian gold reserve captured in the Kremlin. It points out Ukrainia has accepted liability for its proportionate share of the debts of the former Russian Empire up to the revolution and the declaration of the Ukrainian republic.

Consequently, the protest says, this responsibility extends to the Russian gold reserve, and Ukrainia, like all other border states of the former empire, has a claim to a proportionate share of it.

WILL CONFER WITH FRENCH.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, May 31.—French experts on finance and economics in London will meet Gregory Krassin, Russian soviet Minister of Trade and Commerce, to discuss tentatively the possibility of commercial exchanges with soviet Russia. They will not, however, participate in any discussions of a political nature, it was said today at the Foreign Office.

It is probable French representatives will intimate that a complete cessation of the military activities of the Bolsheviki in the Caucasus will be a condition requisite to a resumption of commercial relations.

WILL COME TO AMERICA.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BUDAPEST, May 28.—Former Premier Hussar will soon leave for the United States to seek means for the repatriation of the Hungarian war prisoners in Russia, it was announced today. Count Teleky, the Foreign Minister, said today that since the defeat of Admiral Kolchak nothing had been learned as to the whereabouts of the prisoners who had been in the vicinity of Lake Baikal.

A warrant for the arrest of Count Michael Karolyi, former provisional President of Hungary, has been issued by the commandant of the military tribunal.

Count Karolyi is charged with having instigated murder and with acting against the national defense.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 31.—Resht, an important city in Persia, sixteen miles southeast of Enzeli, the most important Caspian seaport of that country, and about 150 miles northwest of Teheran, has been occupied by Russian Bolshevik troops, according to advices received by the Persian Legation here.

PRAGUE (Czecho-Slovakia) May 31.—President Thomas G. Masaryk yesterday granted amnesty to all political offenders with the exception of those convicted of either espionage or murder.

LONDON, May 31.—The official organ of the Bolsheviki reports an estimated deficit for 1920 on the operations of nationalized industries, of 23,756,700,000 rubles, according to a Berlin dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

SYBIL DESCRIBES NEXT PRESIDENT.

Wears Glasses, Slightly Bald, Popular and Has Fine Children.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BUDAPEST, May 31.—Is there in America a man who is blond, slightly bald, wears glasses, is surrounded by fine children and who is an aspirant to the Presidency?

If there is, he is the man of destiny, according to the revelation of Mme. Sybilline Bellangh, the Hungarian national prophetess, who was asked recently to apply her gifts to the task of determining who the next American President would be. In addition to the foregoing distinguished peculiarities, Mme. Sybilline declared he was the most popular man in America, and one whose election is demanded by the masses of the people, she added that an attempt was made to assassinate him within the last two years. The next President will be a good man, successful and popular, she declared.

America will yield to popular sentiment and turn anti-prohibition, the prophetess asserted.

SAYS MANERO ACTS WITHOUT AUTHORITY.

OBREGON ASSERTS SO-CALLED REPRESENTATIVE HERE WITHOUT ORDERS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 31.—GEN Alvaro Obregon, the Mexican leader, today sent this dispatch to the Associated Press:

"In the newspapers today Antonio Manero's name appears as my representative in the United States. I desire to say that Senor Manero bears no authority whatsoever to act for me."

SOLDIER AT PRESIDIO KILLED BY OWN RIFLE.

YOUNG MAN OF LOS ANGELES SLIPS ON STAIRS AND GUN EXPLODES.

As the result of a fall at the Presidio of San Francisco, Victor Francis Oldenhage, 17 years of age, a soldier in Co. G, Forty-fourth Infantry, was accidentally killed yesterday when the rifle he was carrying exploded. The young man, in company with other soldiers, had been to target practice and was returning from the range. As he walked down a flight of steps leading from the parapet he slipped and in some unexplained manner the trigger of the rifle caught and the gun exploded. The bullet entered the young man's head and death was instantaneous.

The dead boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Oldenhage of 1512 West Twenty-first street. The family has lived in this city for the past ten years, having come here from Kohaka, Mo. The body of the dead soldier will arrive here this morning for burial. Funeral arrangements will be completed later.

The young man was well known in this city. He was a graduate of the Berendo-street school and attended the Needles High School for one year. He also was employed at Needles for about a year by the Santa Fe Railway Company. Besides his parents he leaves two sisters, Mrs. Margaret McIntosh of this city and Mrs. Nina McMannus of Needles, and a younger brother, Emmet, a High School student.

DEAF MUTE MISSING.

Not Seen Since He Went to Ball Game; Relatives Anxious.

Fears for the safety of Edward F. Mayer, 23 years of age, and deaf and dumb, yesterday caused relatives to ask the Nick Harris detectives to assist in finding some trace of him following his disappearance Sunday morning.

Mayer had about $1 in his pockets and went to the ball game. That was the last seen of him. He is described as of dark complexion, wore a brown and green suit, brown hat and shoes and a white and lavender stripped shirt. The young man came here from New Jersey. His mother, Mrs. Nellie Mayer, and her daughter, now at 1101 West Sixty-ninth street, were visiting him on the day of his disappearance.

HURRY FINISH OF BIG PLANT.

Goodyear's Formal Opening in Middle of Month.

Delayed Machinery Cause of Short Postponement.

Transformation Effected in Last Eleven Months.

Preparations are going forward today to start the wheels of the great Goodyear rubber tire plant at Ascot Park, the completion of which later this month will give Los Angeles the greatest industry of its kind in the West. There was to have been a formal opening to the public today, but owing to shipments of machinery being delayed this has been postponed until June 15. Meantime the nearly 500 rubber experts, selected from Goodyear company's famous "flying squadron" at the Akron plant, will be fitted by the local executives into their various jobs in readiness for the start of an organization which will represent an investment of $20,000,000, the employment of approximately 7500 rubber tire and cotton operatives and the fabrication of 7500 tires daily. The men brought here from Akron are all specialists in the various branches of the rubber business, and will form the "backbone" of the factory organization which will be built up at the Los Angeles plant.

It was eleven months ago, in July, 1919, that F. A. Siberling, president of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, spaded up the dirt on the spot where the cornerstone of the great factory at the former Ascot Park site has since been erected.

BIG INVESTMENT.

The Goodyear Company had previously purchased 580 acres upon which to erect this mammoth plant, which comprises a group of great buildings, one a rubber tire factory, another a cotton factory, and a third a giant warehouse. These buildings face Central avenue below Sixty-first street. Each has a frontage of 380 feet by a depth of 520 feet. They will represent upon completion an actual building investment of $4,000,000. They are constructed of brick and concrete, and represent the last word in factory construction. The building is being done by the Hunkin-Conkey Company of Cleveland, from plans prepared by the Goodyear Company's engineering department. In the eleven months since the first load of materials was laid on the job an amazing change has come over the face of the old Ascot Park neighborhood, long known as a center of horse and automobile racing in Southern California. On a site that was for years farmed as a "cabbage patch" great buildings have risen, streets have been cut through and paved, street and steam railroad extensions have been made to serve the mammoth factories, and store buildings and dwellings have been constructed as rapidly as materials and men became available. A "city within a city" has been erected.

HOMES IN PARK.

Incidental to the Goodyear factory assemblage is "Goodyear Gardens," the 160-acre allotment for workmen's homes near the factory center. This is now being made into a beautiful park. Plans have been prepared by Hunt & Burns, local architects, which call for the eventual construction of 500 model homes, constructed largely of cement. These will be sold to Goodyear employees on a basis of cost plus 6 per cent.

The general direction of the Los Angeles Goodyear plant will be under A. F. Osterloh, vice-president and general manager and one of the original associates in the early days of the Akron Goodyear plant. As soon as possible after the formal opening of the rubber tire plant will come the completion and opening of the cotton mill. This will employ about 3500 cotton operatives. It will consume the product of several thousand acres of Pima long-staple cotton now planted in the Salt River Valley of Arizona and the Imperial Valley of Southern California.

ITALY WOULD AMEND WAR-MAKING POWERS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ROME, May 31.—The government has presented to Parliament a bill to amend the law regarding the declaration of war and conclusion of treaties. The bill stipulates that the government shall not have the power to declare war without previous consent by both chambers of Parliament, although it would retain power to take urgent measures for defense.

Every treaty or international agreement, according to the bill, must be communicated to both chambers, provided the interests or the safety of the State are not in danger.

NEW LOAN TO BELGIUM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 31.—A new loan to Belgium, the proceeds to be used to liquidate $50,000,000 acceptance of credit maturing in June, was announced tonight by J. P. Morgan & Co. and the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, fiscal agents of the Belgian government.

In accordance with arrangements there will be offered for subscription at 97 1-4 and interested on June 2, a $50,000,000 issue of twenty-five-year 7½ per cent sinking fund bonds, dated June 1, 1920, to be payable in gold at 115 per cent of the principal on or before June 1, 1945, the fiscal agents stated.

By the terms of the loan contract, it was stated, Belgium has agreed to pay to sinking fund trustees here at least $2,300,000 in United States gold coin on or before March 10, 1921, and the same amount each year until 1945. These payments are to be applied to the redemption by lot, at least $2,000,000 of the bonds at 115 and accrued interest. The entire issue is to be retired at 115 per cent by maturity through the operation of this sinking fund, it was explained.

FEMALE TARZAN CAPTURED.

Woman in Wild Man's Garb Taken in Cave After Battle; Tries Suicide.

Trapped in a cave near the entrance to the Mill Creek Canyon in the San Bernardino Mountains, and at first mistaken for a wild animal, Helene Seifert was captured by a party of Los Angeles campers and Ranger J. H. Sanborn and brought to Redlands early yesterday morning.

The woman, dressed in a garb that gave her the appearance of some monster, was captured at the point of a gun, and put up a terrific fight when she learned that she was to be taken to civilization. She attempted to end her life by drinking a strong poison which she carried secreted in her clothes, and was reaching for a knife when overpowered by the ranger and his assistant. Still fighting with uncanny strength, the woman was tied with a rope to the seat of an automobile and was taken down the mountain to Redlands, where she was turned over to Marshal Larimore, and by him taken to San Bernardino. There she was recognized by the officers as the woman arrested late in December, 1918, in the caves in the Death Valley and later sent to Patton as an insane man. There her true sex and identity were discovered a few days later.

According to the Sheriff's office in San Bernardino and the officials of the Patton Hospital, the woman escaped from the institution about four months ago. She had been living in the mountains above Redlands all this time, though she first said she had been working on different ranchees, and that she adopted the wild costume in which she was captured because her dress was torn. A bed of dried leaves, moss and rags was found in the cave, originally a tunnel used in the construction of the powerhouse.

TAKEN AFTER BATTLE.

The cave in which the woman was living was found just at dusk when a couple from a nearby camp saw the "wild man" in the semi-darkness. They rushed back to camp and a posse was organized. Fearing to tackle the dark fort alone, they telegraphed for Ranger Sanborn. He arrived with a large revolver and a searchlight, and was joined by William Wheeler, a former Los Angeles newspaper man, similarly equipped. Sanborn was boosted over the ledge and gun in hand climbed into the cave, ordering the dark figure in the back part to throw up its hands.

There was no reply for a moment, and then the strong rays of the two searchlights fell full upon the strange figure, disclosing what looked like a wild man, except that the face was smooth and comparatively white. "Hands up!" came the second command, and then, reluctantly, the figure raised its arms.

Sanborn and Wheeler then searched the stranger, and while looking for hidden weapons, discovered that it was a woman they had captured. Her hands were thick and rough, and the face almost masculine in its features. The hair was cut short, but the smooth cheeks were very prominent. No papers or tokens of identification were found in the cave. At first the woman talked freely, and said she had been working around the ranches. A bunch of keys was found in one of her pockets. The ranger announced that she would be taken to Redlands.

"You'll never take me alive," the woman screamed, and tearing herself free, reached into a pocket and tried to drink the contents of the bottle of bichloride of mercury. This was taken away from her, and she was overpowered by the two men.

Still fighting every inch of the way and screaming that she never would return to the city, the woman was taken to the automobile, and there tied with a rope to the seat. The car was driven to Redlands, where the woman was turned over to the authorities.

In the Sheriff's office, Helene Seifert was recognized by the officers who handled her case more than a year ago. At that time she was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Dick Bright and an operative of the Department of Justice. Reports of a strange, wild-looking man living in absolute solitude near the caves in Death Valley, caused the government officers to suspect that it was a draft evader. The arrest was made and the man gave the name of John Bauer, or John Bowers. After a court hearing "Bowers," who gave "his" age as 24, was committed to Patton. Three days later the hospital authorities discovered that "Bowers" was a woman, and January 30, as the result of the story of the capture being published, she was identified as Miss Seifert, daughter of B. H. Seifert of Kansas City. The identification was made through a photograph.

According to information received here then, Helene left her home about ten years ago and came to California. Here she began wearing men's clothes, and all efforts to locate her failed for that reason. She later went to live near Blythe, and when the first call for the draft examinations was issued, she went to Death Valley, and lived there until the time of her arrest.

Yesterday the woman was very bitter. She is particularly angry at her own sex, and is believed to have chosen the life of solitude because of her masculine features and her belief that she is too ugly to dress as a woman. She pleaded to be left alone, and begged not to be taken to the hospital.

As a man she would not be considered insane, the doctors said at the time of her arrest in 1918. But her delusions, which become acute under stress of excitement, were brought about by the solitude and hardships endured during the years spent on the desert, the physicians believed. For that reason, when the woman's parents wanted to come here and take her back to Kansas City, they were discouraged from doing this, and the physicians said though gradual improvement in the living conditions and good treatment may bring about a change for the better in the mental condition of the woman.

Last night she was taken back to Patton, where she will be placed back in her ward and the treatments will be resumed

FAVOR INCREASE FOR MAIL FORCE

Congressional Commission Reports Recommendations.

Would Amount to About $33,000,000 First Year.

All Classes of Postal Employees Are Affected.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Increased salaries for postal employees amounting to approximately $33,000,00 for the first year, effective July 1, were recommended in a report to Congress today by a joint Congressional commission.

Increases of from $150 to $250 annually for postal clerks and letter carriers, with $400 for supervisory officers, were recommended. No increases for first-class postmasters receiving above $5000 a year were proposed, however.

Estimates by the commission place the increase of the postal payroll at about $2,000,000 for the second year and $43,000,000 for the third and fourth years.

For rural delivery carriers, the commission recommended $1800 for a twenty-four-mile route, and an additional $20 for each mile in excess. Motor route carriers covering fifty miles or more would receive not in excess of $2600.

VILLAGE CARRIERS.

The pay of village delivery carriers would be from $1000 to $1200. Should recommendations of the committee based on hearings held be adopted, clerks at first and second-class postoffices and city carriers would be divided into five classes, with those in the first class receiving $1400 annually, and $100 added for each class. Substitutes and temporary clerks would receive 40 cents an hour, while special clerks would be paid from $1900 to $2000. Watchmen, messengers and laborers would be divided into two grades, the first receiving $1350 and the second $1450.

Clerks in the postal mail service would be divided into six classes, with those in the first class receiving $1600; those in the sixth, $2300, and the other graduated between. Service for all clerks, the commission's report recommended, would be on an average of eight hours per day, 306 days per year. Division superintendents in the postal mail service, under the commission's recommendation, would receive $4200 annually; assistant superintendents, $3200; chief clerks, $3000, and assistant chief clerks, $2500; pay of postoffice inspectors would range from $2200 to $4200, with an allowance of not more than $5 a day for expenses while traveling.

Clerks at division headquarters of the postoffice inspection service would receive from $1600 to $2600.

FIRST-CLASS POSTMASTERS.

A graduated increase was proposed for first-class postmasters receiving less than $5000 annually, ranging from $200 to $400 for postmasters now receiving $3000 to $3700 annually; $400 to $500 for those now getting between $3700 and $3800, and $500 and $600 for those whose pay now is between $3900 and $4000.

Second-class postmasters whose present salary ranges from $3000 to $3600 would receive an increase from $100 to $300. Assistant postmasters whose present salary ranges from $2200 to $3000 would receive an increase from $100 to $300. Assistant postmasters would receive $50 for each grade up to $2150. Third-class postmasters would be increased $300 from basic salaries each, the salaries ranging from $1000 to $2200. The commission also recommended fourth-class postmasters be allowed 140 per cent on cancelations of $75 per quarter and less; 115 per cent from $75 to $100 of cancelations per quarter, and in excess of $100 per quarter, 100 per cent on the first $100 and 75 per cent on the next hundred and 60 per cent on the remainder.

JAPANESE AMBASSADOR TO LONDON RECALLED.

WILL CONSULT WITH GOVERNMENT ON ALLIANCE WITH ENGLAND.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

TOKIO, May 30 (Delayed in Transmission.)—Hayashal, new Ambassador to London, has been called back to Japan to consult the government concerning revision of the Anglo-Japanese alliance. It is understood formal negotiations with the British will be held early in July.

Marquis Okuma declares an Anglo-Japanese alliance is more than ever necessary in view of the post-bellum situation, especially in the Orient.

"Without such an alliance," he says, "there is danger hereafter in China, Siberia and India, particularly in the latter. This is a critical moment with the Bolsheviki threatening Turkestan and Afghanistan. The greatest encouragement to the Reds would be the knowledge that Japan would not interfere whatever happens in India. The same applies to Japan regarding Siberia.

"The League of Nations is welcome but it is not yet founded on a solid enough basis morally to control the world as is shown by the Anglo-French alliance guarantees to France plus the refusal at present of American ratification.

"The necessity is not limited to the contracting parties, but extends to other powers for safeguarding the world's peace.

"America is vitally interested in the preservation of peace in the Orient and should lead in welcoming a continuance of the Anglo-Japanese alliance. Because of the Monroe Doctrine America is unable actually to participate in the alliance, but if it were made possible, it would surely be welcomed into the group, forming a triple alliance and increasing the efficiency of the machinery for maintaining peace."

NEWSPAPER MAN IS FREED BY PERSHING.

ROBERT MINOR WAS HELD IN OCCUPIED REGION OF GERMANY AS RED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Gen. Pershing told the Senate Judiciary Committee today that he had ordered the release of Robert Minor, an American newspaper man arrested in the occupied area of Germany on a charge of circulating radical propaganda among American troops there.

The general said he had acted on the recommendation of Gen. Bethell, Judge Advocate of the A.E.F., who reported that while he believed Minor guilty, an officer of the Army Intelligence Service was the only available witness against him and for that reason he thought the prisoner should be liberated.

About the Most Accommodating Man in Town

SAFE-TEA FIRST

Fourteen Hours a Day—Frail Containers—Dissatisfied Customers

TRULY, the grocer is the man of our convenience—an essential cog in the wheels of civilization. A box of matches, a cake of soap, a package of tea, he serves you through long hours with a cheerful "Thank you."

Often, too, the cause of complaints is not of his making. Frail packages, especially, are an added burden to him and a source of dissatisfaction to the customer.

For instance, in regard to tea, unless carefully handled, ordinary packages, even if slightly broken or damaged, mean inconvenience and loss; besides, the atmosphere soon robs the tea of its natural goodness and flavor.

RIDGWAYS TEA, the choice of England's elite for over 84 years, comes to you with all its original full piquant flavor and freshness as the day it was gathered from the sunny fields of India and Ceylon. The tea is packed only in TIN.

These famous tea merchants long ago realized the attributes of true satisfaction. In fact, it only reaches its zenith when even the seemingly smallest things like packages are perfected to insure enjoyment for the customer—and convenience for "most accommodating man in town."

NATION PAYS TRIBUTE TO DEAD WAR HEROES.

Whole Country Joins Honoring Memory of Those Who Fell; Graves in Europe are Decorated.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 31.—A plea that the American people be not swerved by personal ambition or political expediency from fulfilling obligations to less fortunate peoples who confidently look to us for help marked the Memorial Day address of Gen. Pershing, delivered today in the amphitheater at Arlington National Cemetery, where the formal exercises in honor of the day centered.

"To the memory of our beloved dead," he said, "we owe a duty to complete the task they sanctified. The white crosses in France, standing as symbols of brotherhood in common purpose against militarism and oppression, eloquently cry out to us. . . .

"The appeal that rings in our hearts must not be in vain. Rather let us go forward . . . to the well-being of our fellows as the vital aim, reawaken the fine spirit which made possible our war achievements. Doing our full duty as patriotic citizens may we meet our obligations and give encouragement and comfort to less fortunate peoples who confidently look to us for help.

JUSTIFY SACRIFICE.

"May this day of solemn meditation bear fruit to justify the sacrifices of those who died."

The general also pleaded for adequate preparedness.

"In this solemn presence," he said, "and on this day, my countrymen, I pray you to take such reasonable measures in times of peace that never again shall it fall to the lot of a commander to suffer the anguish of soul that comes when of necessity our gallant young manhood must unjustly bear the burden of our thoughtlessness and be sent to battle without adequate preparation."

A few British dead, some of whom died while serving here during the war, asleep at Arlington, were not forgotten. Lady Geddes, wife of Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador, placed wreaths on the graves.

HEROES OF EARLIER WARS.

Heroes of earlier wars shared today the nation's Memorial Day tribute with those who fell in the World War. In doing them honor grizzled Civil War veterans marched with khaki-clad young veterans to the Arlington National Cemetery, where for the first time the graves of those who fell in France were decorated.

The memorial amphitheater there recently dedicated was used for the first time. Gen. Pershing was the principal speaker.

Government business was suspended. Congress, however, remained in session. King Albert of Belgium in a message assured President Wilson that American graves in Belgium would be decorated, adding that he desired to express the "sentiments of gratitude and admiration which Belgium feels toward the heroic American soldiers, sailors and marines who fell in the great war for the cause of civilization and for the liberty of the world."

VETERANS OF THREE WARS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 31.—Fifty thousand veterans of three wars marched in Memorial Day parades held in the five boroughs of the city today to pay tribute to the soldier dead of the nation. Featured in the lines of march were bearded veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, who despite their years, marched at the head of the column.

The main parade of the day was in Manhattan, in which marched, in addition to the men of '65, Spanish-American War veterans and smooth-faced youths with gold chevrons won at St. Mihiel and in the Argonne. Lieut.-Gen. Nelson A. Miles, U.S.A., retired, was the chief reviewing officer. With him were Mayor Hylan, Gen. Horace Porter, Admirals J. H. Glennon and C. D. Sigsbee and other military and naval officers.

TRIBUTE TO ROOSEVELT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

OYSTER BAY, May 31.—Reverent tribute was paid today to the memory of Theodore Roosevelt at his grave here by hundreds of citizens, headed by the members of the Quentin Roosevelt Post of the American Legion and veterans of the Spanish-American and Civil War.

The former President's grave was a veritable mound of flowers. It was estimated that at least 2000 persons brought floral offerings.

G.A.R. LEADS PARADE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, May 31.—Led by a slender column of men in the Grand Army's faded blue, 50,000 American war veterans, militiamen and war workers today marched in Chicago's Memorial Day parade, following patriotic services at every burial ground, under the auspices of the G.A.R., Spanish War veterans, American Legion and their auxiliaries.

The American Legion division of the parade gave the posts of honor to its wounded comrades in automobiles and to members of the women's posts. Canadian veterans marched with the Legion men.

The Confederate veterans held special ceremonies.

MINUTE GUNS AT BAY CITY.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—Ushered in by booming minute guns and given a benediction in the form of martial taps, Memorial Day was observed on land and sea here today. Veterans of wars going back as far as the Indian campaigns, were remembered in services at the National Cemetery at the Presidio while the battleship Tennessee steamed solemnly outside the heads and stopped while her crew cast blossoms on the waters in memory of the navy's dead.

Scores of American Legion men attended today's exercises, the second held since their organization came into being. Col. Henry G. Mathewson, a State Legion leader, spoke at the Presidio, and Rear-Admiral Joseph L. Jayne, commanding the Twelfth Naval District, addressed a gathering on the Tennessee.

FLOWERS DROPPED IN RIVER.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, May 31.—Business activities generally were suspended in Sacramento in observance of Memorial Day. In memory of the sailor dead wreaths were dropped this morning in the river. Spanish-American War veterans dedicated their plot in a local cemetery today.

A patriotic program and a parade of veterans was under guidance of the Grand Army of the Republic and in the line of march were veterans of three wars.

PARADE AT FRESNO.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

FRESNO, May 31.—A morning parade from the business district to the cemeteries, an afternoon program of speech-making and music and the decoration of graves of war heroes featured Fresno's observance of Memorial Day. The services were held jointly under the auspices of the Civil War veterans and the American Legion.

"My Business is Different"

The average man has a deep-seated conviction that he is just a little bit "different" from the rest of mankind. His beard is the stubbornest of hirsute growths; his sense of humor is a degree keener than most.

His dentist informs him that his teeth are most unusual, his tailor pronounces him "my hardest customer to fit." Man takes unaccountable pride in these assertions.

Most business men readily admit the value of advertising in every line but the one they happen to be in. But, in that one business—"advertising is useless; trade conditions are abnormal," or "selling methods unusual," or "standard practices inflexible."

Yet cranberries and anchor chains; bonbons and leather belting; granite monuments and ostrich plumes, are advertised successfully. So also are pickles and grave vaults, fruit and furniture.

These businesses are certainly "different," yet, in common with other industries, find advertising profitable.

Often the very distinctiveness of a business makes possible an advertising appeal both potent and original. Good advertising men are trained to discover and exploit the unusual.

DEATH'S CALL FOR WAR HERO.

One of First Ten Thousand is Summoned Beyond.

Served Five Years; End Comes on Memorial Day.

Awarded Five Service Medals, One from Italy's King.

Death's call came yesterday, Memorial Day, to Lieut. R. G. H. Davis, veteran of five years of fighting on the western front. One of the first 10,000 to be rushed from England with the declaration of war, he entered into rest at the Barlow Sanatorium as the light of another Memorial Day was breaking behind the mountains. Unless cables from England cause an alteration in the arrangements, the young Englishman will be buried in Hollywood Cemetery tomorrow.

Lieut. Davis was only 25 years old when he died. He enlisted as a private in the Queen's Westminsters the day war was declared and was immediately rushed overseas. After thirteen months in the trenches before getting leave, he was given a commission and transferred to the Royal West Kents. After a period of terrific struggle with them, he responded to the call for volunteers for the Royal Air Force. His first venture in the air alone resulted in a bad crash and months in a hospital, but immediately upon recovery he returned to the service, where he served with marked distinction till November, 1918, winning five distinguished decorations, including the Croce de Guerra from the King of Italy. He fought over the same Ypres salient as an aviator in which he had fought as a private and gave eleven months' continuous service as a scout bomber on the Italian front, most of which was at altitudes of 15,000 feet, where the terrific atmospheric conditions were responsible for wrecking his health. He flew for 900 hours altogether under active conditions.

Lieut. Davis came to California four months ago, residing with his friend Neville Woodcock of this city, who also served through the war. He had meant to settle here and made many friends, but his condition soon became worse and he went to the Good Samaritan Hospital, then to the sanatorium where he died.

TAPS TODAY FOR ARGONNE VETERAN.

AMERICAN LEGION TO PAY FULL MILITARY HONORS TO MEMORY OF ARTHUR NELSON.

Full military honors will be accorded Arthur M. Nelson, former first sergeant, Three Hundred and Sixty-fourth Infantry, Ninety-first Division, A.E.F., veteran of the Argonne and well-known newspaperman, who died Sunday night, when his remains are cremated today at Rosedale. A firing squad of Los Angeles Post, American Legion, will fire the volley that will be the last tribute to his memory.

Funeral services will be conducted in the chapel of Alvarez & Blue at 12:30 p.m., today and will be attended by a number of long-time newspaper acquaintances, a special guard of honor of Los Angeles Post, and of El Centro Post, American Legion, the last of which Mr. Nelson helped to organize. Pallbearers will be chosen from among American Legion members by Lieut. Burton R. Fitts, acting commander of the American Legion, Department of California. A delegation from El Centro Post will arrive in this city this morning to pay last respects to Mr. Nelson.

Mr. Nelson was born at Seattle, where he began his newspaper career. He was for some time developing agent for the State of Washington. Following newspaper work in Los Angeles he was correspondent of The Times in Imperial Valley and was employed in this capacity when appointed development agent for Imperial Valley. In France he was slightly gassed and suffered from exposure in the Argonne. He resumed his development work in Imperial Valley upon his return, but soon went to Washington, D. C., to work for the American Legion soldier settlement measure in Imperial Valley. While there he became ill and returned to Los Angeles, where he put up a losing fight for his life. He leaves his mother, Mrs. Mary Nelson.

CONGRESS MAY QUIT.

Final Adjournment for Session Expected by Saturday.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Republican leaders of the House and Senate today agreed tentatively on a final adjournment of Congress Saturday.

Many members, however, have indicated they prefer a recess for the political conventions to a sine die adjournment, and this may cause a change in the plans.

The agreement contemplates the calling up by Representative Mondell, Republican leader, in the House tomorrow of his resolution proposing final adjournment at 4 p.m. Sunday.

Final decision as between a recess or an adjournment, it was said, might hang fire until the last moment.

Only the Armenian mandate resolution and conference reports are included in measures slated for passage before Congress quits and it is likely that after the Senate has voted on Armenia tomorrow it will spend its time on various bills of a minor or special character while the House considers Armenia.

Alexander Hamilton Estate Sold.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

IRVINGTON (N. Y.) May 31.—The famous Alexander Hamilton estate "Nevis" on the bank of the Hudson River, has been purchased by James W. Gerard, former Ambassador to Germany, for a client, it was said today. The estate includes sixty-eight acres of land and a large colonial mansion.

Mrs. O'Hare Leaves Penitentiary.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) May 31.—Mrs. Kate Richards O'Hare, whose sentence of five years under conviction of violation of the anti-sedition act was commuted Saturday by President Wilson, was released from the Missouri penitentiary at noon today. She had served fourteen months.

Three-Year-Old Girl Hit by Milkman Who Tries to Escape.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EUREKA, May 31.—Ernestine Paula, 3 years old, was in a hospital here tonight with a fractured skull as the result, police said, of being struck by an automobile driven by Joseph Lawrence, a dairyman of Ferndale. With her mother the little girl was returning from a cemetery where she had decorated her father's grave.

Lawrence, the police said, attempted to drive away after the accident, saying his cows needed milking. He was arrested after he had been compelled to stop by passersby. He was released on $500 cash bail.

COBB OFF TO CONVENTION.

Chicago the Political Mecca of America, with Men of Importance Nationally, or to Themselves, Pouring Into the City to Help G. O. P. Nominate.

BY IRVIN S. COBB.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

[Editor's Note.—Mr. Cobb, who has covered many conventions, a political writer of recognized ability, will cover the Republican convention in his own inimitable way for the Los Angeles Times. The following is his first story, an advance article on the great event:]

EN ROUTE (Mich.) May 31.—On board this train is one of those persons who believes that in six days the Lord created Heaven and earth and spent the seventh framing up a bet with satan on the issue of how long it would be before the Garden of Eden displayed a to-let sign.

This person is a typical example of a large and prevalent class in our country who think the only proper and suitable answer to any argument is an offer to bet you're right and the other fellow is wrong. He would bet you on anything—on your blood pressure, on your grandmother's maiden name, on whether Cleopatra was as good-looking as Lillian Russell. He would just as leave bet you $10,000 as $10. He told me so himself, only a few minutes ago, shortly before we parted.

He first tackled me when we were just the other side of Albany, and all the way through to Rochester and points west he was shoving attractive betting propositions at me. If I had covered all of them I estimate that we would now have staked at least $300,000 apiece and I'd be wiring back home for the remaining $299,900 needed in order to cover my bets with cash. I brought a hundred with me.

I was sitting in the club car as we neared Albany, trying to think up a suitable beginning for this dispatch when he breezed in from the diner. He was using a private gold toothpick, thus stamping him as a person of undoubted culture, and as though to denote that expense was absolutely no object to him, he had a few morsels of caviar adhering to his moustache. By the pound, he was probably the most influential person on the train. He had three extra chins and a mezzanine; and I judge they must measure him for his waistcoats by the front foot. He sat down alongside of me and said in that informal way which so many of our countrymen while traveling adopt towards persons they never saw before:

"Well, who's going to get the nomination out at Chicago this coming week?"

SWEEPING VICTORY.

When a man has authentic information upon a subject which is of interest to the entire country I believe he should divulge it freely for the benefit of the masses generally. So I said:

"Besom will be the nominee."

"Whaddeya mean, Besom," he replied. "Who's this here Besom?"

"Jasper K. Besom," I explained. "The New Broom of the Miami Valley. Motto: 'He'll sweep clean'."

"Never heard of him," he said. "Anyhow I don't take no stock in all this dark horse stuff. The way politics is handled nowadays them dark horses all run for Sweeney. I'll lay you even money right now in any amount that it's Wood inside of the four ballots."

I declined. My idea of a sporting venture is to pick a favorite and then wait till the race is over, and if my man has won then to spend a pleasant evening figuring how much money I'd have if I had only put up a few ducats on him at the prevalent odds. But this thing of chancing your cash before the returns come in does not appeal to me—there's too great an element of risk in it. I'm adventurous, but I'm not foolish with my money.

Finally he gave me up in disgust and moved off down the car. The last I saw of him—and heard—he was offering to bet a delegate from Ohio $5000 at five to one that U. S. Grant could have licked Von Hindenburg the best day Von Hindenburg ever saw.

After he had left me I fell to making mind bets with myself. I am still engaged in that pleasant pastime. I have just bet myself half a million dollars that by this time next Tuesday Chicago will be so jammed that the overflow will have to stand out in the Lake. Three nights hence the fellow who gets a cot in a hotel hallway will be the lucky one, because he will sleep by himself, whereas nearly all the rest of us will be bunking in with parties unknown and probably will not be on good terms with them either.

Politics certainly does make estranged bedfellows, especially at a national convention. And you must intimately and affectionately have known a man for a great many years before you can lie all night about six inches away from him and he sleeping with his muffler cut-out open, and still continue to care for him. In the case of individuals whom you never saw before, it just naturally cannot be done.

I have made another large bet with myself—which I confidently expect to win—that throughout the week, starting Monday, Chicago restaurant prices will reach a pinnacle hitherto unapproached in the annals of civilized mankind. If, in proportion, they are as high this year as they were four years ago in this same town upon a similar occasion, I figure that they will charge about a dollar and a quarter for a lesser amount of scrambled eggs than a careless feeder in the old days would have worn away from the breakfast table on his shirt-front.

When a national convention is coming to town, it is customary for all the leading hotel-keepers to enter into a solemn compact not to raise the rates and then, immediately after affixing their signatures on the agreement, to start doing so. So I consider this bet as practically the same as won now.

FAVORITE-SON BUNK.

Also I have posted with myself a mental wager that the ovations for each and every favorite son who is nominated will last for a longer period of time than ever they have previously, going upon the basis that they invariably do. Likewise my right-hand trousers' pocket has just bet my left-hand trousers' pocket $50,000 at odds of fifty to one that there will be more self-picked candidates for the Vice-Presidential nomination bobbing up than ever before in the history of our country. The confidence of my right-hand trousers' pocket here is inspired by the fact that the census returns for 1920, although as yet incomplete, show generally a large increase in our population.

But here is a bet I am absolutely certain to win myself from myself. Cobb bets Cobb $10,000 that the convention will shy away from the prohibition question. The first Cobb personally is of the opinion that the Eighteenth Amendment should be enforced on the principle of the selective draft, with exemptions for certain favored classes going upon the theory that intoxicating liquor is a bad thing for some people, and a blamed sight too good for some of the others. The second Cobb agrees in the conclusion but is not sure what the Republicans will do.

It isn't in reason and it has no backing of precedent to expect that a national convention will take a chance by committing itself to one side or the other of any new national issue until the leaders find out which way the cat, in their opinion, is liable to jump. See America Thirst is a good enough shibboleth for any professional politician so long as he has a well-stocked cellar of his own. That's what the first Cobb says.

This is as far as I have gone in the matter of bets with myself. I shall leave the matter of picking the winners to the professional forecasters, and then I carefully shall copper all their selections because it has been my observation that next to being a forecaster the most consistent thing a political prophet does is being wrong.

POLITICAL MECCA.

By all accounts there is going to be quite a crowd of onlookers in Chicago. I heard somewhere the other day that 150,000 applications had already been made for the 9000 or 10,000 gallery seats, and I am sure the figures could not have been overdrawn because from the condition of my car and the adjacent cars I gather that at least 75,000 convention visitors are aboard this train.

In every Pullman tonight we shall be sleeping two deep and in some cases two abreast. Apparently nearly everybody of consequence, either nationally or to themselves, is headed for the convention. Owing to an unfortunate series of circumstances Mr. Nickey Arnstein of New York will be detained at his present residence, but I should not be surprised to find that other and equally well-known world-traveler, Mr. G. Cleveland Bergdoll of Philadelphia, circulating freely among the throng.

CARL OTTO, ESCAPED FOLSOM CONVICT, SEED IN SACRAMENTO BARBER SHOP.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PAWNEE CITY (Neb.) May 31.—A starving-out plan is being followed by posses in hunting for Dick Barrett and Walter Deason, convicts who escaped from a road gang near here, and who are thought to be hiding in a thicket ten miles southeast of Pawnee City.

SACRAMENTO, May 31.—Carl Otto, who escaped Thursday from Folsom prison, where he was serving a life term, appeared Friday at a Sacramento barber shop and was shaved by C. Schoeliopkf, who told his story today to the local police.

Schoeliokpf said he thought nothing of the occurrence until he saw a picture of Otto in a newspaper yesterday, and was certain then of the identity.

Otto appeared very nervous, Schoeliopkf said, and insisted on taking a chair that was not near any window. The shave completed, Otto hurried away in the direction of the bridge which crosses the Sacramento River into Yolo county.

Otto wore a suit of tattered clothing, Schoeliopkf declared. He had only 25 cents in his possession, and told the barber the shave would leave him penniless.

SILK PRICES STILL DECLINE IN JAPAN.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

TOKIO, May 28. — (Delayed in transmission.) Developments today in the financial and commercial world of Japan included suspension of two small banks at Yokosuka, and heavy withdrawals from provincial banks which have dealings with the raw silk interests.

An attempt was made yesterday to reopen the Yokohama silk exchange, but with the supply increasing and foreign demand virtually at a standstill, prices declined sharply, and business again was suspended.

The new silk dealers have decided to reduce production. The Habutai dealers have asked for governmental aid. The price of cotton yarn continued to fall today.

REDS SAY ARMY BEING SENT ACROSS PERSIA.

DOCTORS PREFER CALOTABS FOR A LAZY LIVER
Wonderful How Bright and Cheerful the World Looks After Taking This Nausealess Calomel Tablet — Perfectly Safe.

Have you tried the nauseating calomel that makes calomel taking a displeasure? If you have, you can appreciate the wonderful virtues of calomel when robbed of all its dangerous and nauseating effects.

Calotabs is the favorite calomel with the drug trade. Pharmacists recommend it as the best remedy for the liver. Its effect in biliousness, constipation, headache and indigestion is simply delightful.

The next time your liver needs a thorough cleansing try Calotabs. One tablet at bedtime with a swallow of water, that's all. No salts, no nausea, no salts, no griping. You simply wake up in the morning feeling fine, with your system thoroughly cleansed and a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you do not find them effective and delightful. [Advertisement.

LIFE WAS A MISERY TO HER

Says this Woman Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Carrollton, Ky.—"I suffered almost two years with female weakness. I could not walk any distance, ride or take any exercise at all without resting. If I swept the floor or did any kind of work it would bring my sickness on. I was weak, languid, had no energy and life was a misery to me. I was under the care of a good physician for several months and tried other remedies. I had read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking twelve bottles I found myself much improved and I took six more. I have never had any more trouble in that respect since. I have done all kinds of work and at present am an attendant at a State Hospital and am feeling fine. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound to dozens of my friends and shall always recommend it."—LILLIAN T. TRAMP, 824 S. 6th St., Carrollton, Ky.

Mr. Dodson Warns Against the Use of Treacherous, Dangerous Calomel.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.—[Advertisement.

MOTHER'S FRIEND for Expectant Mothers A Soothing Emollient

PAL TELLS HOW THE LOOT WENT.

Says Jesseman Spent Stolen $20,000 Lavishly.

Money Taken from Boston Bank; Thief Poisoned.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BOSTON, May 31.—How Oscar B. Jesseman and Frank Tymm "made the money fly" following the theft of $20,000 in thousand-dollar bills from the Old Colony Trust Company by Jesseman, was told last night by Tymm, the pal who fled with him, upon the latter's arrival at headquarters here this afternoon. He was arrested in Chicago a few days after Jesseman was found dead from narcotic poisoning in a Pullman in Wyoming.

"Jesseman came to the store where I worked and said to me: 'Frank, I've done it. I've pinched $20,000 from the bank. I've got it here with me. If you don't come with me I'll kill myself.'" said Tymm. "We went to Montreal and bought ourselves the best outfits money could buy. We planned to go to Cairo, Egypt, but we tore up the tickets and went to Winnipeg instead. We used the names Ray Williams and Fred Gordon, the latter being Jesseman!

"At Winnipeg Jesseman blazed out by buying $1500 worth of jewelry, including diamond rings. We went to Vancouver, hired expensive apartments and gave several classy parties to newly made theatrical friends.

DISGUISED AS WOMEN.

"Then, disguising ourselves as women, we moved on to Portland, Or. Jesseman was tipping all the way with $5 and $10 bills; everything was in proportion. We bought more men's and women's clothes and Jesseman acquired some more luxuries, including perfumes at $25 a tiny bottle.

"At San Francisco, still disguised as ladies, we stayed a week with a Miss Clark, who conducted a morphine establishment. I remember buying two bottles of cocaine and one of morphine at $75 a bottle. Jesseman was so tickled at getting the dope that he gave Miss Clark a $50 tip. We then motored south, visiting Los Angeles and Pasadena.

GO TO VANCOUVER.

"Our funds were getting low and we hustled back to Vancouver to get $10,000 Jesseman had left in a safe deposit bank. We saw a vaudeville act by two men that Jesseman liked and we got acquainted with them and Jesseman bought them a lot of clothes and things.

"Then Jesseman asked me to go to Chicago to communicate with his mother. I got in touch with his sister there, and not hearing from him for several days wired our vaudeville friends, then in Minneapolis. They wired back that he had died on the train in Wyoming.

"I wired his mother and a couple of days later was arrested at my hotel. We had a merry excursion but it looks rotten enough now."

ANNOUNCE PRICE RISE FOR HAWAIIAN SUGAR.

SCHEDULED TO COST THIRTY CENTS THE POUND TO CALIFORNIA CONSUMER.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—A price of 28.30 a hundred weight was declared by the California-Hawaiian Sugar Refining Company here today for its latest sugar allotment, the new price being a rise of $3.05 over the previous figure.

Jobbers and retailers' profit rules imposed by the United States Attorney-General would mean a price to the consumer of 29 3-10 cents a pound in the San Francisco Bay region. Elsewhere the freight from the San Francisco seaboard will be added to the charge.

Recently H. Clay Miller, chairman of the Federal Fair Trade Commission here, announced that this rise would be the last one and that future allotments of sugar were due to be sold at a decreased price.

NEW PLAN PROPOSED.

English Minister Asserts League of Churches will Maintain Peace.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, May 31.—A strong international league of churches working in harmony with the League of Nations would maintain world peace for ever, Rev. Alfred Ernest Garvie of London, said today at a union meeting of Chicago ministers.

"There is nothing more important to the interests of world peace than such a union of all the Christian churches," Dr. Garvie said. "The League of Nations controlling the political aspects of world affairs alone would be unsuccessful."

Dr. Garvie said the United States and Great Britain, "representing the backbone of the Anglo-Saxon race and of the Christian Church must be the first layer in the foundation for the International Church Union."

AMERICAN ENVOY ON THE RHINE RESIGNS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Desire to return to his business interests in this country has caused Pierrepont B. Noyes, representative of the State Department in the American occupied area of Germany to resign his post, it was stated officially last night. His duties, largely those of an observer at the meetings of the Interallied Rhineland Commission, have been assumed by Maj.-Gen. Henry T. Allen, commander of the American forces in Germany, and it is said to involve no change of policy concerning American occupation.

Relinquishment by Mr. Noyes of his duties was taken in some quarters as indicating that American officials regard the situation in the American occupied area as having quieted completely.

Co-Operation of Smokers Asked.

We Are No Stronger Than Our Fighting Blood

Physical Fitness Our Sole Reliance.

Courage without physical fitness is absolutely worthless. That is why our great army was made up only of men who were without the slightest physical defect.

But there is a constant warfare closer home, that you are vitally interested in. It is the warfare of disease against your health, a struggle that is always going on, and one for which you must always keep your system prepared.

And your blood supply is the fortress upon which you must depend. If it is kept pure and free from any weakening influence, the germs of disease cannot find lodgment, but are promptly expelled, and good health is assured.

But you should take no chances with this mainstay of defense. Impurities are liable to creep into your blood and so weaken your system that it is unable to resist even the most ordinary ailments. This means the beginning of the attack which will result in the undermining of your health.

S. S. S., the world's most renowned blood remedy, will tend to keep the blood absolutely pure and free of impurities. This great old remedy, which has been in constant use for more than fifty years, keeps the system in perfect condition by tending to purify the blood and cleansing it thoroughly. Be Young In Body, Mind and Looks Despite Your Years

How often you have wished that you could indulge in the strenuous exercise of out door sports with the vigor and enthusiasm of youth! But the end of the week finds you all in—you are tired, listless and lack the energy to go out for a vigorous walk or a round of the links—or any other exercise that requires physical exertion. Many a man, even in middle life, has a secret feeling that he is getting old—and right at a time when he should be in his very best physically. And the sense that the years are pressing heavily upon him is in the sense that a vital force are wasting away faster than Nature requires the utmost tissues.

Thousands—yes millions—of people find themselves in this condition early in life. And there is no excuse for it. You can check that tendency to grow old. You can carry your youth with its love and enthusiasm into your 70's and 80's. But you must give Nature all the help you can. The best assistance you can find—making use of a sound, constructive character in the use of

JAPANESE URGE AMERICAN WAYS

Christian Laymen's Alliance Passes Resolutions.

Counsels 100,000 Japanese to Heed Good Example.

Follow Teachings of Christ and be Loyal Citizens.

Six hundred members of the Japanese Christian Laymen's Alliance of Southern California participating in a picnic at Elysian Park yesterday unanimously adopted resolutions favoring the Americanization of 100,000 Japanese people in this country, and declaring themselves to be followers of Christ. The resolution was presented by K. S. Inui, a member of the faculty of the University of Southern California, who is himself a native of Japan.

The resolution is as follows:

"We, the pastors and laymen of the twenty-six Japanese evangelical churches and missions of Southern California, believing that Americanization can only be realized through Christianization of the Japanese people, believing further that no one can wholly appreciate, without acquiring the fundamental teachings of Christ, the mighty spirit of the foundation of this nation, of liberty, equality and humanity, which emanate through her history, do hereby adopt the following principles and policies for the Americanization of 100,000 Japanese who are enjoying peace and prosperity in this country;

"We who are in the United States are to be, first of all, loyal to the land of our adoption.

"We are to endeavor to embody consistently in our daily life the fundamental principles and spirit of the American government, and of Christianity, respecting her customs and institutions, and abiding by the laws of the land.

"Having chosen our life work here, we deem it our first duty to promote the welfare of our adopted country, and to contribute our share to its civilization. Furthermore, we will gladly be regarded as the forsaken band by the country that gave us birth.

"As to the education of our children, we think it best and sufficient to give them wholly American education, thus enabling them to become loyal and useful American citizens. In addition, we desire to afford them the spiritual education based upon the teachings of Jesus. To carry out the purpose of this resolution, irrespective of our religious affiliations we do hereby unite and co-operate in our utmost endeavor to Americanize the Japanese in this country. We do this in the spirit of hope, patience and justice which is the spirit of Christ, whose followers we are."

FRIEND OF McKINLEY DIES IN LOS ANGELES.

INTIMATE OF DEAD PRESIDENT WAS BORN IN OLDEST HOUSE IN OHIO.

Charles Nathaniel Nye, well known for the past seventeen years as an elder in Immanuel Presbyterian Church, retired business man formerly living in Canton, O., where he was a neighbor and close friend of President William McKinley, died at his home in this city, 7017 West Twenty-fifth street, yesterday morning, while his comrades of the Grand Army were preparing to march in the Memorial Day parade.

Seventy-seven years ago Mr. Nye was born in Marietta, O., of a pioneer family of the Middle West. The historic house where he was born in the oldest town in Ohio was built by Rufus Putnam, an ancestor of Revolutionary fame. Mr. Nye was graduated from Marietta College twenty years later and there married Harriett Frances Wickes, a daughter of one of the famous preachers of a generation ago.

In Marietta and Canton he leaves many friends. He is survived by his relatives in Los Angeles: His widow, his children, Mr. and Mrs. William Putnam Nye of Covina and their four children; Prof. and Mrs. Arthur Nye of Los Angeles, the former of the faculty of the University of Southern California, and his brother, Col. Reuben Nye, of this city.

Funeral services will be held at Immanuel Presbyterian Church tomorrow at 2:00 p.m.

BULLET WOUND FATAL.

Man Who Shot Woman Will be Charged with Murder.

Mrs. Pearl Albert, who was shot in the head last Saturday night by George W. Smith, died yesterday at the California Hospital. Smith, who is in the County Hospital, suffering from a self-inflicted bullet wound in the scalp, will be charged with murder today.

According to Police Detectives Wood and Murphy, who are investigating the case, Smith shot and fatally wounded the woman following a quarrel. He then attempted to take his own life.

When taken into custody, he refused to tell the reasons for his act.

RUSH TIN PLATE WEST.

Fruit Men's Plea Brings Action by Commerce Commission.

As a result of representations made to the Interstate Commerce Commission by Senator Phelan that heavy losses will be sustained by California fruit men unless the tin plate shortage is relieved, orders were issued yesterday by the commission, according to Washington advice, to give priority to tin plate shipments for the Coast. Senator Phelan acted as a result of pleas for relief from growers of the State.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY WOMAN'S CITY CLUB.

The Woman's City Club yesterday re-elected Mrs. Herman S. Darling as president by a large majority. Other officers chosen are: First vice-president, Mrs. Emma L. Reed; second vice-president, Mrs. John S. Myers; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. John T. Coleman; directors, Mrs. Harriet H. Barry, Mrs. Robert T. Brain and Mrs. H. C. Falland.

AGAINST ALIEN LAND CONTROL.

Anti-Asiatic Body Will Put Out Initiative Petition at Meeting Tomorrow.

Fifteen hundred copies of an initiative petition in favor of a constitutional amendment to prevent land leasing or ownership by aliens in California will be distributed at a meeting of the Los Angeles County Anti-Asiatic Association at 349 South Hill street tomorrow evening. It is the purpose of the association to place the proposition on the August primary ballot.

The 1500 copies will bear 105,000 signatures to the Secretary of State during the coming month, if the campaign meets with maximum success. Two hundred and fifty copies of the petition, which have space for 17,500 names, have already been distributed in San Diego county.

ON AERIAL "JOY RIDE."

McAdoo's Brother and Friends Going to Bay City Today on Avion.

An airplane party composed of Malcolm McAdoo, a consulting engineer of New York, brother of William G. McAdoo, ex-Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. and Mrs. Tarroll Miller Hall and Capt. C. D. Hall, of Jamestown, N. Y., will leave this morning for San Francisco aboard the Syd Chaplin airplane Avion. The party expects to arrive in the Bay City at about 4 o'clock this afternoon and will leave San Francisco tomorrow morning for this city.

Airplane "joy-riding" has become a favorite a pastime in the eastern cities, it is reported, and this trip is believed to be a forerunner of a number of such rides to be staged by society folk in Southern California.

SUICIDE BY HANGING.

Wife of Mexican Cafe Owner Finds Her Husband's Body Suspended.

Albert Almada, a Mexican, ended his life yesterday by hanging himself from the balustrade of his home, 120 South Flower street. The body was found by his wife, and the doctor who examined it declared life had been extinct for several hours.

Mr. Almada was 57 years of age a native of Alamos, Son. He came to this country about five months ago and opened a restaurant in West Second street which he conducted with the aid of his five children. The body has been removed to the J. D. Button chapel, where the funeral services will be held tomorrow.

HEADS JERSEY FOLK.

Redlands Man is Elected Society President at Annual Picnic.

Dr. C. P. Moore of Redlands was yesterday elected president of the New Jersey State Society of Southern California at the annual picnic of the organization in Sycamore Grove. Over 700 former Jersey folks attended the affair.

Other officers elected are G. M. Bartlett of Pasadena, first vice-president; Ernest Smith of Orange, second vice-president; W. H. Borton of Los Angeles, third vice-president; W. K. Tower of Glendale, fourth vice-president, and Mrs. H. M. Dole of Pasadena, secretary and treasurer.

Rev. Charles C. Seleeman of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, South, delivered the Memorial Day address.

ARMENIAN SOLDIER APPEALS FOR AID.

Five hundred members and friends of the Armenian Congregational Church attended the annual picnic of the Armenian colony in Sycamore Grove yesterday. Games were a feature of the day's programme.

Rev. A. S. Yeretzian, pastor of the church, spoke on the possible American mandate over Armenia, and what it would mean to the Armenian people. Rev. V. Tahmizian, who has just arrived in this country, told of conditions in Armenia, and appealed to the people here for help. He was followed by A. Neghian and K. Shirinian, the latter a former Armenian soldier in France.

Is Backache Slowing You Up?

"Every Picture Tells a Story"

ARE you dragging along week after week with a dull, throbbing backache? Do you feel lame in the morning, tired all day; suffering sharp, torturing twinges at every sudden move? Then there's something wrong! So why not find out what it is and try to correct it? You may never have suspected your kidneys, yet often it's the kidneys that are at fault. A cold, a strain, or overwork congests the kidneys and slows them up; poisons accumulate in the system and many mysterious aches and pains result. You may have headaches and dizzy spell, too, with perhaps some annoying bladder irregularity. Don't wait for more serious trouble. You owe it to yourself to get well and stay well. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have helped many Los Angeles folks. They should help you.

Ask your neighbor!

These are Los Angeles Cases:

East Thirty-third Street

Abraham Wood, retired, 1640 E. 33d St., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a reliable remedy. They have done me lots of good. My kidneys troubled me a great deal. I often had dull backaches and soreness in my kidneys. The action of the secretions was scanty and irregular. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. They helped me wonderfully by strengthening my back and regulating my kidneys."

South Hope Street

Mrs. V. Muckenthaler, 1828A South Hope St., says: "I hurt my back by doing too much bending over while attending patients in the hospital where I was a nurse. From then on I suffered from severe backaches. My kidneys were weak and caused annoyance. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon cured me of the attack. I can conscientiously recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for this reason." (Statement given May 4, 1917.)

On October 7, 1919, Mrs. Muckenthaler said: "I very seldom have need of a kidney remedy now. The occasional use of Doan's Kidney Pills keeps my kidneys in good shape."

East Forty-second Street

Mrs. Kathleen Sullings, 1465 E. 42d St., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills from experience. I know they can't be beat for kidney complaint. My kidneys were out of order and I had severe backaches and pains across my kidneys. I could hardly keep going. The action of my kidneys was irregular. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me sound and well. I cannot say too much for this remedy. I know they are just as represented."

No package of Doan's Kidney Pills is genuine unless it bears the mapleleaf trade-mark and the signature—"Jas. Doan."

South Avenue Twenty-one

E. B. Crouch, retd., carpenter, 512 S. Ave., 21, says: "I was severely injured in my back and as a result was left with a weak back. After I took cold or moved too hard I had a dull aching across my kidneys. These organs showed a weakened condition by the too frequent action. Doan's Kidney Pills always relieved me of attacks of backache and regulated my kidneys." (Statement given January 22, 1918.)

On October 8, 1919, Mr. Crouch said: "The occasional use of Doan's Kidney Pills keeps my kidneys in a good, healthy condition, and I always recommend them."

South Griffin Avenue

Mrs. W. Fiddament, 645 S. Griffin Ave., says: "Kidney trouble made me miserable. I had no energy or ambition to do my housework. My back just ached constantly. I was tired out mornings and couldn't rest well nights. The action of my kidneys was never regular. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them as directed. They were what I needed and soon rid me of the backache. I have felt fine and could sleep and my kidneys were soon in good shape."

BENNETT LEADS THE MOTORBIKE HOUNDS.

Wells Bennett led the thirty-seven contestants who finished the 500-mile motorbike endurance here last night. The course was from Los Angeles to San Diego and back. Bennett was also the first to arrive at San Diego on the initial lap. The riders left San Diego at 5 o'clock yesterday morning.

Three of the riders fell by the wayside on the return trip, the difficult roads proving too much for their machines. Bennett checked in here at 6:57 o'clock last night. He was followed at minute intervals by the other thirty-six successful competitors. Announcement of complete scores will not be made until a thorough check is made of the various control sheets. Following is the order in which the riders finished:

Wells Bennett, A. F. Van Order, C. A. Chapman, F. Reynolds, Frank Clark, George Chaney, Victor Danner, Ernest Stark, J. L. Sorensen, R. E. Roe, Al Floyd, Vernon Gruber, R. Falk, R. Fletcher, C. C. Ziegler, John Reeves, Al Simmer, Pete O'Cana, Orrell Easton, Lee Black, George Campbell, M. Thompson, Otis Hackett, N. Cooper, A. Cooper, Ed Hamilton, Guy Henry, T. D. BLUE RAPS THE CRIMSON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PROVIDENCE (R. I.) May 31.—The Yale golf team defeated Harvard today, six matches to three.

VISIT WAR CRAFT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, May 31.—The U.S.S. Mississippi proved a source of fascination today to the large crowd that came to Venice to enjoy the Memorial Day celebration. Launches filled with passengers chugged out to the big boat all day. The Mississippi was "overhauled" generally by the hundreds of visitors.

The officers were entertained with a dinner and luncheon at noon and evening, while a ball was presented for the sailors in the dance pavilion tonight.

CITY APPEALS CASE.

CALEXICO, May 31.—Appeal will be taken by the city of Calexico in the cotton tax case which has been decided in favor of the Imperial Development Company by the District Court of Appeals. This announcement has been made by Mayor Abbott. He is backed by the Board of Trustees and the City Attorney has been instructed to take the necessary legal action.

The legal questions are complicated ones and the Board of Trustees is of the opinion that it is right and intends to go to the highest course in an effort to obtain what it considers just. It affects the revenue of the city of Calexico considerably during the course of a year.

"WET VS. DRY" DEBATE IS OFF.

Wallace-Windle Word Battle Will Not, Alas, be Held.

Each Side Accuses the Other of Trying to Welch.

Imminent Forensic Display Fizzles Most Sorrowfully.

Charles A. Windle of Chicago, editor of the Iconoclast, has come half way across the continent to debate the prohibition issue with some accredited champion of the Anti-Saloon League in Los Angeles, but last night all bets had been called off and the Chicago man, ready to debate, could not find an opponent.

Mr. Windle sent a challenge to the dry forces in Los Angeles, and its was promptly accepted. Definite arrangements were made that former Lieut.-Gov. Wallace should take the prohibition side of the question on the platform at Trinity Auditorium this evening. The subject was loosely defined as "Wet vs. Dry" in the agreement, signed by representatives of both sides, and it was decided that each speaker should be limited to fifty minutes, forty for the main speech and ten for the rebuttal. The Anti-Saloon League gave out free tickets for reserved seats, and all Los Angeles pastors were urged to announce the coming event to their congregations.

But it's all off.

Mr. Windle will make an address at Trinity Auditorium this evening. He will declare that prohibition is neither right in principle nor Christian in character. He will argue that the prohibition amendment to the Federal Constitution is an unjustifiable infringement upon the personal liberties of the people. And no voice will be raised to say him nay.

S. T. Montgomery, local superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, and H. H. Childers, who had the verbal joust in charge on behalf of the dry element, insist that Mr. Windle tried to change the subject of debate at the last moment, that he tried to make a change in the time allotted to the two speakers, and that the rearrangements proposed by the Chicago man would give the drys the affirmative side instead of the negative and would force them to assume the burden of proof. The drys would not accede to this and withdrew.

"Resolved, that the prohibition of the manufacture, sale and use of alcoholic beverages is right in principle and Christian in character."

That is the question Mr. Windle wanted to debate, according to the letter sent to Mr. Montgomery by C. Carter Steen, chairman of the western division of the Order of Camels, a national antiprohibition organization. And that is the subject upon which Mr. Wallace will not debate, in spite of the fact that Mr. Windle and Mr. Steen declare that "Wet vs. Dry" is a subject so far from specific that if it were offered for debate the chairman could not enforce order and might find himself with a hopeless wrangle on his hands.

In view of the fact that the debate has fallen through, tonight's meeting will be turned into a public organization meeting for the Order of Camels, and the wets will be able to do as they please—so far as talk is concerned.

TO DROP BOTH SUITS.

Divorce Complaint and Alienation of Affections Case to End.

Gordon R. Hagerman will ask for a dismissal of a suit for divorce and one for damages for alienation of the affections of his wife when the cases come up in the Superior Court today. The alienation suit was filed against Clifford Thomas, whom Mr. Hagerman claimed broke up his home. It was understood both cases would be taken off the court calendar today.

CAPTAIN OF AVALON DID NOT SEE LAUNCH.

FORMAL DENIAL ISSUED SAYS DISABLED BARBARA NOT PURPOSELY IGNORED.

The captain of the Avalon did not see the disabled launch Barbara Saturday afternoon according to Manager Wood of the Santa Catalina Island Company, in charge of the company's offices at Wilmington. He yesterday denied that the ship's captain had refused to pick up the passenger's on the disabled launch, as printed in a morning paper yesterday.

Some of the passengers on the Avalon saw the disabled launch, Mr. Wood said, but the captain and the crew did not. The Barbara was so far away from the Avalon that the movement on the launch could not be seen on the larger vessel.

The Barbara was disabled by an explosion of the automatic air tank. Three passengers were slightly injured and Capt. Weiss, in charge of the launch, had both of his legs broken. Richard L. Lucas, a former policemen of this city had his right leg broken.

AMERICANISM MEMORIAL KEYNOTE

Name of Hearst Hissed at Great Bible Institute Meeting When Speaker Demands That the Disloyal Get Out of America; Impressive Veteran Parade.

Men and women who helped save the Union in the Civil War and men and women who helped save the world in the World War, veterans of the Spanish-American War and Sons and Daughters of Veterans, yesterday joined in impressive memorial observances which stirred Los Angeles and its environs to a reverent appreciation of the deeper meanings of Memorial Day.

The keynote of the day was Americanism. Veterans of three wars were aroused to wild applause at the Memorial Day services in the Bible Institute auditorium yesterday afternoon, when Buron Fitts, acting commander of the Department of California of the American Legion, declared it the greatest issue in America today.

"Let every man, woman and child outlaw himself on that subject," he said. "If he is an American, he belongs here; if he is not he had better get out!"

Whereat someone in the audience cried:

"How about Hearst?"

This brought out a derisive patter of hands, calloused and gloved, and hisses.

Every seat in the auditorium was filled. There were gray-haired veterans of the Civil War, veterans of the Spanish-American War, and veterans of the World War. Women organizations were largely represented. Flags were to be seen all through the vast auditorium. As the familiar song was sung, "The Old Flag Never Touched the Ground," these myriad flags were waved. "The Star Spangled Banner," sung by Mrs. I. H. Fallis, brought the audience to its feet.

Rev. T. D. Wallace, a veteran of the Civil War, delivered the oration, a splendid tribute to the men who fought in the great wars. He invoked enthusiasm when he said that when our public schools demonstrate the usefulness of Boy Scouts and girl scouts, "We will know where we are." There is a vast army of boys growing up, he said, upon whom the salvation of this great country will rest.

"America is facing a crisis," said Buron Fitts. "Two million comrades fought for the same principles for which you fought. In our midst there is a lying, sneaking enemy that knows no principles—the poisoned, lying Bolshevist and the I.W.W., with murder in his heart and the dagger of revolution in his hand. This is the enemy the American Legion will fight as long as it is an organization. We fought to make America safe for democracy. We should not be asked to come back and fight to make America safe for America. Only one thing we ask the Grand Army of the Republic and that is your support for the same principles for which you fought. We have no room here for the Bolshevik, the I.W.W. or criminal syndicalism. We have room for only one ism, and that is Americanism." [Prolonged applause and cheers.]

The program was longer than usual, but it held the vast audience to the end. It began with an organ selection by Otto T. Hirschler and continued with the bugle call, "The Assembly," by Davis Goodman, Post No. 8, American Legion; the call to order by W. H. Chambers, grand marshal; selections by the G.A.R. Drum Corps; invocation, Rev. Almerion Lampert; a brief opening statement by William H. Noll, commander of Stanton Post No. 55, G.A.R.; songs by William Hall, A.E.F., Ninety-first Division (Pine Tree,) Miss Polly Grant, accompanist; Gen. Logan's Memorial Day order by S. H. Enyeart; the introduction of C. B. Wilson, senior vice-commander in chief of the G.A.R.; the "Star-Spangled Banner," by Mrs. I. H. Fallis; Lincoln's Gettysburg address, by O. H. Mennet; songs by the glee club; oration by Rev. T. D. Wallace; remarks by Buron Fitts; "My Country 'Tis of Thee," by the audience, led by John Bissell Trowbridge; benediction by Rev. D. D. Cheney and taps, by J. E. Emonins. Stanton Post. Mayor Snyder, who was on the platform spoke briefly when called upon.

The Memorial Day parade was one of vivid and memorable contrasts. No one could look on the aged men and women who nearly sixty years ago held up the torch of American union and liberty and then on stalwart young men and capable young women who soon must catch it from their failing hands without a thrill of pride for the past and confidence in the future.

It was notable for the deference shown by the veterans of the recent wars for the older veterans. Though there were twice as many members of the American Legion in line as there were survivors of the Civil War, they and the members of all the other younger organizations in all they said and did modestly took the minor roles and paid the tribute of respectful obedience to all the expressed wishes of the older men. W. H. Chambers was grand marshal of the parade and Harry Wagar chief of staff. Both are members of the Grand Army of the Republic. Not only were the old men and women the directing geniuses of the procession, but its pace was adapted to theirs. It was a slow-moving procession, but that made it the more impressive.

Immediately following the grand marshal and his aides were the Sons of Veterans and then Bartlett-Logan Post, Stanton Post, Robley D. Evans Post, and Kenesaw Post, G.A.R., and members of the Woman's Relief Corps of each post. The American Legion, James B. Gresham Post 108, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Spanish War Veterans were next in line.

A remarkable thing about the American Legion division, by far the largest in the parade, was that some of the companies were commanded by enlisted men, while in all of them men with officers' bars on their shoulders marched in the ranks. Walter K. Tuller, chairman of the Interpost Council of the American Legion, was the aide in command of the American Legion division, and Walter Brinkop of L. A. Post 8 and Leo D. Daze of Victory Post 54 were his chief aides.

Army nurses, carrying an immense flag, formed a bright spot in the American Legion division, and were more applauded than any other group in the parade. Many sailors also marched in the Legion division. It was headed by the firemen's band, the American Legion

BOMB THROWER IS NOT THERE.

Police Answer Fervid Alarm During Parade, but Find Not Even a Thrill.

"Come at once! There is a strange man standing on the roof of the Bible Institute. He is armed with a huge bomb and is just waiting to pitch it down on the heads of the members of the American Legion when they come by."

This telephone message yesterday afternoon sent a score of police officers rushing from Central Station to the Bible Institute to save the lives of a couple of thousand husky ex-soldiers.

The only trouble, from the former fighting men's viewpoint, was that there were no man and no bomb—therefore, no excitement.

THEATER BARS OVERALLS.

Rich Mining Man, Denied an Orchestra Seat, Wants Damages and Apology.

Has any Los Angeles theater the right to bar loyal members of the Overall Club from its orchestra seats?

Is there any redress to be had by a rich man who is forced to sit in "peanut heaven" because he wears a sweater coat and pants made of blue denim?

These points will be settled in court unless Richmond Griffith, a wealthy mining man from Kingman, Arizona, receives a satisfactory letter of apology from a prominent local theater, coupled with a public announcement of the policy of the particular playhouse in question. Already a letter making formal demand for such an apology is in the mails, and unless the Arizona man receives a satisfactory reply his local attorney, Ray Chesebro, will file a damage suit.

Mr. Griffith came to Los Angeles on Thursday of last week. While he was in San Francisco, just before coming here, he was a guest at the Palace Hotel, and was then wearing the same clothes, a gray sweater coat and denim trousers, which a Los Angeles playhouse management decided are not the proper garb for a man occupying an orchestra seat. On Friday he telephoned to the box office of a Broadway playhouse, and purchased two tickets for the matinee performance of that day.

When Mr. Griffith called for the tickets, just before time for the performance to begin, he says the man in the box office made no objection to his clothes, but took his money and gave him the tickets.

Accompanied by Mrs. V. V. Crosby of Los Angeles, mother of Fairfax Crosby, local attorney, with whom he has long been acquainted, Mr. Griffith then tried to gain admittance to the theater, but was told he was not sufficiently well dressed to be permitted to enter the orchestra section. This, says the Arizona man's attorney, occasioned great humiliation to Mr. Griffith, who is wealthy and can well afford to buy conventional clothes if he so desired.

As the crowd gathered back of him Mr. Griffith decided to let Mrs. Crosby go in and made arrangements to meet her later. It was then suggested to him, according to his attorney's story, that he buy a second balcony ticket. This he did, and was allowed to see the show from the gallery seats while Mrs. Crosby remained in the orchestra section.

HOME GOING EAST TODAY.

Chief of Police Home will leave today to attend the conference of police chiefs to be held in Detroit beginning next Monday. The Chief announced yesterday that following the conference he will tour the large Eastern cities and study various police departments and their methods. He expects to be gone three weeks. Capt. Murray will be acting chief during Chief Home's absence.

DEATH CALLS RAIL CHIEF.

Charles O. Whittemore, vice-president and general counsel of the late Las Vegas and Tonopah Railroad, was found dead in a retiring room at the Chateau Salotta, Escondido, yesterday morning. Heart disease was the cause, according to Coroner Kelly of San Diego county, who was called and pronounced an inquest unnecessary. The body will be shipped here today.

With his wife and daughter, Miss June, and a party of friends, Mr. Whittemore left here Sunday morning for Escondido, expecting to be gone three days. He was missed by members of his party yesterday morning and when the door of a retiring room was broken open the body was found on the floor.

His son, J. R. Whittemore, a young attorney of this city, died under similar circumstances less than a year ago and friends say the father never fully recovered from the shock.

Mr. Whittemore was 58 years of age and resided at 249 South Kingsley drive. Besides the widow and daughter June, he leaves another daughter, Mrs. Shirley Maserve, formerly Miss Leigh Whittemore; his mother, Mrs. M. B. Whittemore of this city; a brother, R. B. Whittemore of Taft, and two sisters at Salt Lake City.

News of Mr. Whittemore's death caused great surprise in this city. T. C. Peck, general passenger agent of the Salt Lake route, said he saw Mr. Whittemore Saturday in the railroad company's office and that at that time he seemed in the best of health. The Las Vegas and Tonopah Railroad Company has gone out of existence, and Mr. Whittemore was engaged in winding up its affairs.

He also was president of the Bullfrog Goldfield Railroad and was at one time the general attorney in Utah for the Salt Lake line.

FRATERNAL AID DANCE.

The Fraternal Aid Union Lodge, No. 594, will give a dance tomorrow evening at Akey's Hall, Vernon and Vermont avenues, for members and their friends. Busch's orchestra will furnish the music.

TUNNEL CAVES; KILLS TWO.

When James Morton, 14 years old, of Glendale, and James Fuller, 35, of Death Valley Junction, walked into a tunnel of the talc mines at Acme yesterday to escape the desert heat they unknowingly were walking to their death. Hardly had they entered the tunnel when the top and sides caved, killing both almost instantly.

Morton was the son of O. H. Morton of Glendale, and Mr. Fuller was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen's local union at Las Vegas. Both bodies will be brought here for burial. The talc mines at Acme are near Death Valley Junction.

The People and Their Daily Troubles

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

TRY IT ON THE DOG.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

A timid and bashful young girl moaned to me the other day that she never knew what to say to people.

To which I replied:

"My child, there's just one infallible rule for dealing with your fellow-creatures. It's a very old rule and it is called the Golden Rule, and it works just as effectually conversationally as it does ethically.

"Do unto others as you would have them do to you, and say to them the kind of things you would like them to say to you.

"When in doubt try out your little speech on yourself. If it sounds good to you be sure it will sound equally well to Mary or Sally or John or Tom. If your words bring a kindly glow to your own heart and make the day seem brighter and cheerier, do not doubt that they will have the same happy effect on any one else to whom you hand out that optimistic line of chatter.

"All humanity, my dear, is cut off of the same bolt of cloth, and, while we may be made up in different designs and different patterns, down at bottom we are of the very same woave and woof. The thing that pleases one pleases all. The thing that soothes one soothes all, and, conversely, the thing that irritates one and hurts and wounds one wounds all.

"That is why it is always safe to take your own little self as a pretty reliable guide in deciding what you shall say, and refrain from saying, to other people.

"Suppose, for instance, we take the matter of what is called 'plain speaking.' A great many people pride themselves upon saying exactly what they think, no matter how brutal it is, or how much they hurt another by so doing.

"If you have a new hat they will tell you that it is ten years too young for you and that you look like a figure of fun in it. If you sing out of tune they call your attention, and everybody elses attention to it. If you are ill, they tell you how badly you look, and how sallow your complexion is.

"Do you suppose that these people would ever make such cruel speeches if they tried them out first on themselves? They would not. For you will observe as you go through life that the very people who show the least regard for the feelings of others, are the most tender of their own.

"Therefore, my dear, before you tell Mary that blue makes her skin look like a pumpkin, or Sally that she dances as if she had learned the two-step in a school of correspondence, just think how you would like it if Mary and Sally spoiled your pleasure in your new frock, and made you afraid and ashamed to ever get on another ball-room floor.

"If you will, you will keep silent about your friend's defects, and instead you will say something nice that you can truly say to Mary about her lovely fan, or to Sally about the way she does her hair. You can be pleasantly honest as well as unpleasantly so, you know.

"Leave the criticising to others. You are not ordained by heaven to run the world and supervise your friend's taste. Never forget that the hammer is a hideous implement in any woman's hands and that nobody loves a knocker.

"When you are tempted to be smart and sarcastic try out your sharp speeches on yourself. You can't be so superhumanly vain and conceited as not to know that you have peculiarities and weaknesses about which any wag could be funny if he or she chose you as a target for ridicule.

"Can't you see yourself writhe as the shots strike home? Can't you feel your face flame as you hear the laughs at your expense? Can't you feel the dull, hopeless misery that makes you want to go off and hide yourself and die, as you realize that the people whom you thought admired you, are making a mock of you?

"Ridicule is the cheapest form of wit. Even a fool can use it, but no human being would ever apply it to another if he had first applied it to himself.

"When you feel grouchy, and complaining, and as if the world had used you ill, try telling your troubles to yourself before you tell them to any body else.

"Do you enjoy hearing the litany of other people's woes? Is it your idea of passing a pleasant hour to listen to all the piker annoyances that have befallen some friend? Do you feel cheered and uplifted after some girl has wept all over your fresh blouse because she has had a quarrel with her best beau?

"You do not. You would go far to avoid the trouble monger. You could scream when you are called on to hear over again for the millionth time all about how Caroline's mother doesn't understand her, and how Myrtle's boss brutally criticised her spelling, and how jealous Maud's fiance is, and fresh details of Katie's warfare with her landlady.

"Well, then, just reflect that other people enjoy hearing about your private worries just exactly as much as you do listening to the illiad of their woes. Each of us have troubles enough of our own, without having those of our friends dumped on us, and its a brave and galliant, and human thing to bear our own loads in silence.

"Finally, my dear, recall the things people say to you that make you feel as if the sun had suddenly burst through the clouds, the things that cheer you, that brace you up, that make you think that life is worth while, and that give you the courage to go on.

"A jolly little story; a word of deserved praise; a little sympathy and understanding; a warm thank you for some favor done; the recalling of something worth while you did in the past; an inquiry after some one near and dear to you; perhaps just some one remembering some taste or habit of yours.

"If these things make you happy, and they do why, just pass them on to other people. If you will, you need never be at a loss to know what to say. Just try your conversation out on yourself and if it makes a hit with you, it has all the elements of general popularity in it."

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Ireland Must Behave.

LOS ANGELES, May 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] No one can go farther than I do in love and loyalty for true democracy and "self-determination" and all that these terms may include. I am proud to say also that there is a good, generous percentage of Irish blood in my veins. Furthermore, I share absolutely in the true American sentiments which have always taken the side of those struggling for their freedom.

But I want to say now that I have no sympathy with a people who were willing to cast in their lot with the worst enemies to liberty which the centuries have produced, and who played the traitor to freedom and to the most democratic country in the world, at a time when England was virtually struggling for its very life.

Had Ireland been loyal at that time to the principles for which she has all along claimed to be struggling, there would have been almost nothing that England would not have granted to them. In fact everything that in reason could be asked has already been granted.

Whatever may have occurred in the past, Ireland is today an integral part of the great British Empire, and to seek to break away from it now is equivalent to the secession of Rhode Island or Nevada. A few of the Southern States tried this a half century ago, but did not succeed. Probably now every intelligent Southerner is glad they did not.

The worst thing that could possibly happen to Ireland now would be for England to permit it to have its way in its wild dream of an independent government. I agree with you that all true Americans have before them today but one course, and that is to stand loyally by our great Ally in the serious problem which a seemingly infatuated people are insisting upon keeping before the world.

C. C. PIERCE.

Results Tell.

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Now that the returns are all in from the recent primary election it is interesting to observe which localities favored each of the two leading candidates, and study the characteristics of the people residing in those localities. In those sections, like Pasadena, Long Beach, Pomona, Monrovia, Whittier and many others, where law and order are generally observed and where prohibition has been in force several years through local option methods, we find that Hoover got rousing majorities, while the cities and towns that have been wet until recently, like San Francisco, Sacramento, Venice, Vernon, Watts, etc., etc., where the laws are enforced with difficulty or not enforced, as the case may be, gave strong majorities for Johnson.

San Francisco for the last fifty years or more, has been the backbone of the liquor interests in this State, and Sacramento is considered the second wettest city in the State, and both notorious for their defiance and violation of law, and both gave immense majorities for the Hearst candidate. The moral, social and political conditions in San Francisco are so rotten and corrupt that Gov. Stephens has recently been compelled to send State officials there to enforce the laws and protect the people, and poor old rum-ridden, vice-controlled Frisco is strong for Johnson.

If we compare the returns from the different sections of this city, and judge them by the same standard we get the same results.

This difference between the adherents of the two candidates is so plainly visible that we are compelled to ask why does the temperate, law-abiding orderly citizen, as a rule, endorse Hoover, while the revenue type usually favors the Hearst candidate? Has some pussyfooting been done?

Why the MULTIGRAPH Saves

THESE two jobs look alike, don't they? But there's a big difference—a 75% difference. "This one was printed on a job press. This one was PRINTED on the Multigraph, from real type with real printer's ink.

"Printed in our own office, by one of our employees and delivered just when we wanted it. No big overhead, no expensive equipment, no high-priced labor, no delays."

Just an ordinary case showing a few of the "saving graces" of the Multigraph—how it saves 25% to 75% on printing, saves bother, saves delay. But there are other savings even bigger and more vital.

A big saving of time all around—for instance, a delayed order blank, or route card, or letter, or folder may hold up the entire office, a factory department, or a sales campaign.

A big saving of sales effort—timely Multigraphed letters, bulletins, announcements, sales helps of one sort or another make it easier for the sales force to get and hold business.

A big saving of advertising effort—nothing like a Multigraph typewritten or printed follow-up to drive home the impression made by your advertising, to apply it directly to jobber, dealer, or customer and get action—to cash in on the advertising effort. Many a time, too, you can go direct to your audience with the Multigraph and save the expense of general advertising.

A big saving of opportunity—with the Multigraph you can strike for business while the iron's hot—every time.

In fact the only time the Multigraph doesn't save is when it's idle. Save time, now, by phoning for full information.

THE MULTIGRAPH SENIOR This is a complete, compact equipment that turns out high quality printing and form typewriting at very low cost—averaging a saving of from 25% to 75%. It is simple and easy to operate; rapid and convenient. Electrically driven, with printing ink attachment, automatic paper feed, signature device, automatic platen release and wide printing surface. Easy payments if desired.

THE MULTIGRAPH JUNIOR This is a wonderfully efficient equipment for concerns which have a limited amount of work. It does both form typewriting and office printing and produces the same high quality of work as the Senior Equipment, but it is hand-operated only and cannot be equipped with electric power, automatic feed and signature device attachments as can the Senior. Easy payments if desired.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY MYRA NYE.

Woman's City Club.

No election could more clearly demonstrate the harmonious and unanimous desire of the rank and file of a club than the one of the Woman's City Club yesterday afternoon, when those nominated by circulating petitions during the last four weeks were chosen as officers for the ensuing year.

Mrs. Herman S. Darling, who was heard to say conversationally away from her club rostrum, "Next to my home and my family there is nothing quite so near to my heart as the Woman's City Club," was chosen for the presiding officer to succeed herself. Mrs. Emma L. Reed was elected first vice-president; Mrs. John S. Myers, second vice-president; Mrs. John T. Coleman, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Harriet H. Barry, Mrs. Robert T. Brain and Mrs. H. C. Fallang, directors.

On account of the illness of Mrs. Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith, who was scheduled to speak on "The Greatest Drama in the World," an interpretation of the book of Job, a substitute speaker, Miss Annette Foster, who spoke with charm on the "Emersonian Philosophy of Life," mitigated the disappointment of the club in great measure.

Ebell Club.

Eliminating all business from their Memorial Day program the Ebell Club yesterday afternoon enjoyed numbers of high artistic merit in an artists' program of Spanish rhymes and rhythms.

Mme. Estelle Heartt Dreyfus, contralto, accompanied by Blanche Eber Seaver at the piano, sang two groups of Spanish folk songs. In the second group especially pleasing was the Basque song, "I Weave as I Spin," the folk song of the West, composed by Gertrude Ross, and "Swing," the music rythmically suiting the words with charm, composed by Mrs. Seaver. Thus was Spanish rhythm reproduced in song.

In the dance, Norma Gould was the personification of rythm, while her pupils brought old Spain before Ebell members in "La Posarid," by Doris Carl; "La Jota," by Josephine Spata and in the Spanish Gypsy dance.

Preceding the program there was a memorial service for members of the club, who had passed on during the year and for the twelve sons of mothers in the Ebell Club, who paid the supreme sacrifice in the World War.

Thought Marriage Licenses Were Liberty Bonds; Regrets by Phone.

When the thief who entered and burglarized the residence of R. S. ("Cupid") Sparks, 2646 South Normandie avenue, discovered that he had taken several blank marriage licenses in his loot, thinking them to be Liberty Bonds, he immediately notified Mr. Sparks by telephone that he would return the documents and other loot.

Mr. Sparks was attending a funeral on Saturday when his home was robbed. He was called on the telephone yesterday, he said, and informed by a man on the wire that he had discovered the mistake and would return the blank marriage licenses and some jewelry stolen. The stranger said he remembered Mr. Sparks as the man who had issued his marriage license. He also apologized for the theft, said Mr. Sparks.

DOUBLE-HEADER.

If the Democrats name McAdoo and Cox they would try to catch 'em on both sides of the fence. McAdoo is indorsed by the drys and Cox by the wets.

RIVAL CLAIMANTS.

The Republican convention at Chicago will have to nominate at least four men for the Presidency, else that many campaign managers will be branded as flossy prevaricators.

SIMMERING DOWN.

Felix Diaz says he will be good and give the new government in Mexico his best will and support. Pretty much all the personal and private revolutions have been tamed down except that of Villa. Pancho is still trying to behave like the wild man of Borneo and constitutes the most unpleasant problem with which Mexico has to contend. He can be placated with the military government of Chihuahua, but the powers are afraid to trust him. If Villa should run a splinter in his thumb and take blood poisoning the State would be glad to furnish six pallbearers.

SOUNDING BRASS.

Eugene Debs was in his full prison regalia when he received his notification of his fourth nomination for the Presidency by the Socialists. It was visitors' day at the Federal penitentiary and Eugene was permitted to knock off from his tasks long enough to tell his callers that he was a Bolshevist in full accord with the Russian revolution and that he would remain a radical to the uttermost. He gave each of his visitors a kiss so that they could go home and tell the folks that they had been caressed by Eugene Debs, the tireless terrier of the proletariat. It is simply impossible to make either a hero or a martyr out of Eugene. He doesn't seem able to develop into anything more than a cheap agitator lured by his own voice. The Socialist nomination is a part of his stage business and furnishes some of the notoriety upon which his noodle fattens.

SUBSTITUTES.

Henry Ford turned out some 200,000 gallons of benzol at his plants during a short gasoline famine and the stuff had so much pep that it would make one of Henry's road rabbits climb a cliff. Thirty years ago they were making alcohol out of sawdust. Now they find that this mill refuse will produce a splendid fuel agent for motors and they are making some of it right here in this city. Some of the oil fields are going dry, but new ones are being discovered every week and there are still wonderful possibilities in this country and Mexico. If the gasoline supply does wane the substitutes will come in and there will be a number of them. Also Sir Oliver Lodge and his atomic energy are yet to be reckoned with. Sir Oliver can take a ouija board and a navy bean and create enough power to run a battleship up Niagara Falls. There's enough energy in an atom to do anything but pay off the national debt, and an atom by itself is smaller than the soul of a cockroach.

WORK AND WAGES.

On account of strikes and the excessive cost of building materials there has been a slump in construction work in Chicago. Three and two years ago there were over 60,000 men at work in the building trades. Today there are less than 40,000, and the banks and financiers are restricting their loans on new operations. They allege that building materials are now costing more than they could possibly be worth and that a forced sale under a foreclosed loan would not come near covering this advanced price. Some of the large construction operations, involving millions, have been abandoned for the time being. Until the labor market is steadied only the work that is essential will be undertaken. The men who struck for a dollar an hour may get that wage when they work, but they will not secure the employment they might have had if they had better considered the situation. Sixty cents an hour and full time is better than a dollar an hour and no work at all. But the labor unions can't see it that way.

A ONE-MAN WAR.

The historians are again reminding us that our recent friction with Germany was a one-man war. When the North and the South fought it out histories were all cluttered up with the names of generals and there was a famous hero in every community. The little town of Galena produced no less than seven major-generals and had only Capt. U. S. Grant to start with. Although there wasn't the opportunity for publicity we enjoy in these days, there were actually hundreds of names that were household words. But after the World War the average American remembers the name of Pershing and not much else. And Pershing is not remembered through his brilliantly leading his forces against the foe but because he stood behind a stack of blue prints and responded to every demand of Marshal Foch. There are a few who recall Alvin York, who was awarded medals as the champion soldier, but mostly America's contribution to the Valhalla of fame was the name of Pershing. Even army commanders like Bullard and Liggett are unfamiliar to the masses and Admiral Sims is better remembered for his fight with the Navy Department than for his service at sea.

FRANCE'S SICK PRESIDENT.

France is confronted by a crisis which reveals a weakness of a republican form of government which is not based on a written constitution. President Deschanel has been temporarily incapacitated for performing public service; but he does not realize the gravity of his condition and insists on exercising all his prerogatives as President of the French republic.

There is a provision in the American Constitution that when the President is incapacitated the duties of his office shall devolve upon the Vice-President. The article is somewhat obscure and lends itself to various interpretations. But our condition is vastly superior to that of France, which has neither constitution nor Vice-President nor established precedent for dealing with a situation wherein the President is incapacitated, but is still living.

If France were the Solomon Islands the solution would not be difficult. When a chief is incapacitated there he goes into the free lunch and a new chief is selected. But civilization has its inconveniences. We are so accustomed to a government by law that when a situation arises which has not been foreseen by our lawgivers we are as helpless as a drum major who has mislaid his baton.

It was not until the President of France was found wandering along a railroad track, clad only in his pajamas, that the people of France came to realize his unfortunate mental condition. He said he had fallen from a passing train; but none of his effects was found in any of the apartments of the train which he designated. Physicians who have examined him report that he is suffering from an acute anemic condition of the brain, combined with a fatigued state of the arteries. His condition is such that a guard is kept about the palace where the President resides. Before he was attacked by the present illness President Deschanel possessed one of the most brilliant intellects in France. At the time he was elected he was in the best of health; and his early state papers were models of logic and precision.

During the last two months, however, he has displayed an irritability at Cabinet meetings which at first incensed and later alarmed his associates. For more than a month he has been virtually a prisoner. But there is no legal authority for the guard that has been placed about him; and if he were to insist on speaking for France in his present condition there is no process of law by which he could be forbidden.

During the fifty years of the third republic there has never arisen a condition in which a French President was mentally incapacitated. The only legal way to vacate the office would be to arrest the President on a charge of treason. Under the French law no legislative enactment is valid and no decree is enforceable until it has received the President's signature. When the brain of the President ceases to function the whole machinery of the French government stops moving.

One of the weaknesses of present-day republics is plainly the lack of machinery for removing an official incapacitated in any way for service and filling the vacancy. There are provisions against armed attacks from without and revolts from within; but none against a revolt of nature which attacks the physical composition of the Chief Executive. America can sympathize with France in the misfortune that has overwhelmed its President. His health has broken down at one of the most critical periods in the history of the republic. Negotiations with Germany over carrying out the terms of the peace treaty are in their early stages; and France is now recognized as the strongest military power on the continent of Europe, and her force is depended upon to preserve at least a semblance of peace while the new nationalities are establishing themselves. It is a misfortune to any people for its Chief Magistrate to break down in the midst of a crisis.

POSERS FOR CONDUCTORS.

The London General Omnibus Company has a training school for its conductors and many are the posers put to aspirants for the job.

"Supposing a lady gets into your bus and discovers she has lost her purse, what should you do?" This is one of the questions involving a nice sense of delicate diplomacy.

Another question, replete with wistful reminiscence, is "How would you handle an intoxicated male passenger?"

They don't have the transfer system over there, the fares being regulated according to distance. "What would you do with a passenger who endeavored to travel beyond the destination of her ticket?" is another question—that "her" implying that the sin is peculiar to the gentler sex.

London, one observes, is strong for decorum, peace and politeness. When a bus conductor has passed this sort of an examination with eclat he should be eligible for the diplomatic service.

The training of these men is done by cinema methods, all the possible embarrassments of a conductor being graphically illustrated, together with the ideal solutions. The trouble is that, while the conductors may thus become proficient actors, the public remains replete with human cussedness and can rarely be trusted to play its part "as written."

THE SCOFFER'S RETURN.

People who said they would never come back to Los Angeles on account of the high cost of living in apartment-houses last winter are already figuring on their reservations next season. And they are getting them. They have found that, in spite of the crimes and excesses of Los Angeles profiteers, the rents have really been lower here than in any large city of the country. In New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Boston, Detroit, Cleveland and every town of our class the human leg was pulled more fiercely than in good old Los Angeles. Now the situation is reasonably clear. There are almost enough houses and apartments to go round and more and more the East is understanding that it is as a summer playground rather than a winter resort that Southern California has its greatest glory. The visitors who complained of apartment rentals are acquiring homes of their own and becoming permanent residents. Pretty soon they will be as perky as some of our native sons

Results of the Freight Tie-up.

WHITHER ARE WE DRIFTING?

Thoughtful wives now pin hero medals on the vests of their loved ones when the loved one is able to negotiate the tangles and intricacies of our rerouted street-car traffic and reach home in time to go to bed.

According to the thermometer hanging on the outer wall of The Times fortress there are seventy thousand hot-tempered native sons who are daily trying to find the heart of their home town by following up the main arteries on a yellow car.

One of our esteemed bankers, who is afraid to coax his own motor to town since the no-parking ordinance was devised, now brings the family bloodhound down with him in the morning. He keeps the animal in one of the tellers' cages during the day and after office hours he lets Pluto out and trails him on the home journey. He says he is afraid to trust himself to the street-car company. Anyhow, he is saving money. The yellow car would cost him five cents, but the dog takes him home on a scent. Fortunately he doesn't live very far out.

But it is pretty tough on people who have neither bloodhounds nor guardians to get acquainted with their home city by the way of the street-car service. They have to learn their alphabet over again and learn it backward.

The city librarian says he has a long waiting list for books like Cooper's "Pathfinder" and Conan Doyle's "Sherlock Holmes" stories. A man who has been reading Fennimore Cooper will behave in a certain way when the time comes for him to hunt his humble shack. He will wet his finger and hold it up to the wind. Then he will catch the position of the falling sun and measure his shadow. After that he will grope on his knees until he finds the trail of a yellow car. If he locates the car he will deftly fix a bit of cotton fleece to the rear platform with his wad of gum and this will enable him to identify and follow the car.

If he has been reading "Sherlock Holmes" or a Gaboriau story the man will carry a magnifying glass and by deftly filching a morsel of dust or earth from the heels of passengers alighting at the postoffice attain his end. If the dirt is found to be a reddish adobe it is from the Griffin avenue line. If it is black and thin it is from West Jefferson. If it is a sort of bleached blonde with plenty of yellow dust it is from Hollywood. If it is blue mud the car comes from Vernon. According to the laws of gravity, average and Copernicus the car will reach the line from whence it came within the next twenty-four hours and the sleuth can govern himself accordingly.

He can take a chance, anyhow.

That is the best that any of us can do.

At the Wednesday evening prayer meeting a heart-broken wife asked the prayers of the congregation on behalf of her husband, who was about to intrust himself to a trip on the Angeleno Heights line. He has a weak heart and his bump of location is really a cavity instead of a lump.

The poor devil will need those prayers before he gets back.

Also pity the wife of the poor conductor who goes forth in the morning knowing not what he will conduct or whither he will conduct it. Likewise the motorneer must not only be highly skilled in the science of navigation, but should also be master of the ouija board and be able to tell which shell the little pea is under by induction. Fortunately, he draws the same pay as the navigator of one of Uncle Sam's battleships.

All the same, it is a bit hard on a million of our fellow-citizens who have spent their lives learning to find a certain car at a certain place at a certain time to now realize that there is no car at any place at any old time. If they do find the right car they are put off at the wrong turn with a left-hand transfer. A great deal of the paper shortage is due to the daily use of nine billion extra transfer slips by the Los Angeles car lines.

You can't get anywhere without a transfer and God knows you can't get anywhere with one.

So there you are.

All those in favor say aye.

The noes have it.

BRITAIN'S JAPANESE PROBLEM.

The people of California are not the only ones who have their Japanese problem. Great Britain has a question to settle which will materially affect its future relations with the Mikado's people. The statesmen in Downing street are worrying over it. They want to make up their minds whether they shall renew the Anglo-Japanese treaty or not, and they know that whatever they do they will offend interests with which they wish to be on the best of terms. Lord Curzon, the British Foreign Secretary, has an awkward problem on his hands. Premier Lloyd George, whose acquaintance with Far Eastern politics and stratagems is no greater than with Transylvania, must look to Curzon for advice on the subject. "What is this place Rumania is so anxious to get?" Lloyd George inquired at the Peace Conference when Transylvania was being discussed. He can be pictured as asking his Foreign Secretary, "What's all the bother about Japan and the treaty?" Lord Curzon knows that Australia, with its "White Australia" program, is not at all friendly to a renewal of the treaty. He also is aware that British Columbia, the big Pacific Coast province of Canada, will not shed any tears if it is terminated for good. China, of course, is moving heaven and earth to raise sentiment against a continuing in force of the agreement which has had such a great effect upon that country in its relations with Tokio. Articles now appearing in the British and American press seem to have been inspired by what was once the Flowery Kingdom, but now is an aspiring republic. One Shanghai report declares that America is understood not to be enthusiastic about a renewal. The United States is not in the habit of expressing enthusiasm or otherwise about other people's treaties. Washington knows this is a matter for the courts of St. James and the Mikado to settle.

NEW TYPES FOR AMBASSADORS.

Governments everywhere are looking for new types of ambassadors. Time was when the chief requirements in an ambassador were grace and social standing, tact and political diplomacy. But since the war this exclusively gentlemanly type has become demode and the dire need is for practical, hard-headed business men with a vast knowledge of commercial affairs, export, transportation, finance and industry. The game of graceful diplomacy was all very well in the piping times of pre-war days, but now the countries must get down to hard work, big business, reconstruction, readjustment and persistent efficiency, things of which the former type of ambassador could remain in comfortable ignorance. One recalls how the ex-Kaiser once demurred at the appointment of an American Ambassador to Germany on the score that his private fortune was inadequate to uphold the desired social position and essential entertaining.

But social entertaining is of small importance today. Society, with a capital S, as exemplified in smart dinners, balls, sports and gala nights at the opera, is the least important class for consideration. The ability to associate with titles and royalty, the insouciance for hobnobbing with bejeweled hostesses, the delectable discrimination of the connoisseur in gastronomics, wines, clothes and the grands dame, the art of social persiflage and a genius for small talk have become mere advantageous adjuncts, but have ceased to be essentials. An ambassador today may be lacking in social polish, utterly indifferent to sartorial rectitude, devoid of graceful rhetoric and a bit of a bore with the ladies, if his mind is but an encyclopedia of commercial and industrial conditions and he can meet the big business men of the country to which he is assigned as man to man.

The appearance of Mrs. Fiske in this city revives memories of the days when actresses were made from birth up and did not grow over night under a Hewitt Cooper light and the bunk of the press agent. We remember her when, as Minnie Maddern, she appeared in plays of the Lotta and Maggie Mitchell type. But that was long ago.

Had you ever thought of it, that high prices had been so scared by Atty.-Gen. Palmer that they are afraid to come down?

EDITORIAL OPINION.

Carranza could not unify Mexico. The greatest unity it has known since the days of Diaz is shown now by rival chieftains in expelling Carranza. The nation at last seems capable of acting together in a national cause. Is it too much to hope that this new unity will find some strong man as a rallying center, and that Mexico again will have a government capable of taking care of domestic affairs and dealing intelligently and honestly with the United States? Any such tendency should be fostered by our government in all friendliness.—[Tacoma News-Tribune.

The process of jacking up wages to meet each new rise in the cost of living, thereby jacking up the cost of living by just so much, and so on ad infinitum, is one of the chief causes of our present injustices of reward and general discontent. The laborer with the greatest effrontery and the least foresight wins—wins temporarily, that is. In the long run this vicious circle helps no one, and through disturbance of business and wages lost while idle the trades which have struck most have lost more than they have gained.—[New York Tribune.

The shooting of a third notorious labor leader within a little more than three months should prove illuminating not only to the class of labor led by such chieftains, but to self-respecting unions whose reputations are besmirched by inference that unionism is to blame. The Enright case, the Coleman case and now the Kikulski case form impressive evidence that there are perquisites attached to the jobs of such labor leaders far beyond the legitimate salaries. Enright, Coleman and Kikulski were not shot merely to open the way to jobs which paid $75 a week or thereabouts. They were shot because the system of labor exploitation which they had built up offered a fortune to a possible successor.—[Chicago Tribune.

It seems almost too good to be true that the Public Printer has taken advantage of his privilege and has shut down on printing special editions of campaign speeches for the benefit of Congressmen. The Printer does this in order to conserve paper, but the direct results should prove more or less of a moral boon to the country. It is too much to hope, however, that this decision, coming on the eve of a Presidential campaign, means that we are to have an entire new deal in this matter of public printing for purely private purposes and that the abuse of the Congressional frank for campaign purposes is to be relegated to the junk heap of discredited and useless methods of carrying on political campaigns.—[Philadelphia Ledger.

The former service man who is a candidate for office and is qualified for the position is, we think, entitled to special consideration by the voters. In this we make no discrimination between those who were so fortunate as to have crossed the sea and engaged in actual combat and those who were kept at home to do essential but less dangerous work. But to hold that the wearing of a uniform is superior to every consideration of fitness for public office is an idolization that cannot but prove disastrous to the well-being of the community, including the service men themselves, if the idea shall become widespread.—[Portland Oregonian.

Now the trial has been made and there are few opposing voices to the declaration that government operation has proven a failure. It is now evident that the American people prefer to have the railroads operated by the people who have their money invested in them and who must make good on the proposition or suffer loss. And having such preference the public will now take a much fairer view of the necessities of the railroads and the difficulties that they face.—[Bangor Commercial.

We can go on raising wages on the railroads and in the factories indefinitely, but every time we do it we rob the farmers more and more of their labor, and we put a new premium on every ounce of food that goes into urban mouths. In such a race with disaster the nation may appear for a time to be the winner, but it is the rosy cheek that comes from paint and rouge and not from glowing health.—[Manufacturers Record.

This national impulse and movement of self-denial is monumental proof of the sound hearts and sound heads of the American people. The wastrels splurge visibly and noisily. Silently, steadily, fruitfully the great, quiet, thrifty mass abstains from unnecessary purchases, refuses to pay skyscraping prices. At last the prices begin to come down.—[New York Times.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

THE PRESIDENCY.

If Grimes is our next President, the land will be in clover; we all shall bask in sweet content, our troubles will be over. So say the boys who whoop for Grimes and fix his divers fences, and hint we ought to dig some dimes to pay campaign expenses. If Grimes wins out, the useful lad who's always busy toiling, will never lack a helpful scad to keep the kettle boiling. And in the bank he'll have a hoard of large gunmetal dollars, and he will own a nice tin Ford, and Sunday shirts and collars. If Grimes wins out the idle jay will have no decent standing; he'll loaf throughout the golden day, free soup and pies demanding.
'Twill be the same if Grimes should lose, his hopes to ashes turning;
all kinds of men will get their dues, will get just what they're earning.
The man who buckles down to work will find the times are booming, and we will see the village shirk in some cheap poorhouse rooming. I'll vote for Grimes, but if he wins I'll keep on sawing manle, that I may fill my shelves and bins with fancy grub and staple WALT MASON.

FLIRTATIONS.

BY EUGENE BROWN.

"What do you want to hang around here for when you might be on your way to Chicago to bet your roll on Johnson?" said I in greeting the Old Resident, who was emerging from the Third-street tunnel in all the glory of a new straw hat and a baby-blue necktie.

"I thought maybe I could pick up a few bets around the home nest," responded the pioneer as he coyly waved his hand at a Broadway chicken in the distance.

"So you are in the game, eh?" continued I. "What have you got to offer?"

"I'm betting one to seven that Johnson will not be nominated before the two-hundredth ballot," replied the old man.

"You don't tell me!" exclaimed I. "Why I thought you were one of these sports who were putting up the dough to make the world safe for Hiram Johnson and William Randolph Hearst. Are you sure you haven't got a proxy in your pocket and a heart fired with a determination to support our verbose and unterrified leader until the bullfrogs croak?"

"You know better than that," snorted the veteran. "You know that I parted company with Hiram when he called me a doddering dodo and tried to cut the throat of the Big League."

"So did Mike de Young and Frank Flint," retorted I, "and look where they are now. Carrying nectar and ambrosia to Hiram and drying his feet with their hair. There's a job for you—only you have no hair."

"I'm no flirt——" began the aged sitizen.

"The dickens you ain't!" exclaimed I.

"I mean in politics," explained the old man with a blush.

"Tell that to the undertaker," interrupted I. "You know you've voted for everybody from William Jennings Bryan down to Eugene Debs. I've heard you cheer for Bill Taft and I know about your marching for Grover Cleveland. I've seen you yell yourself hoarse for Teddy Roosevelt and you have Wilson's picture in your watch this moment. You are one of the most enthusiastic Hoover men in the Lowden campaign committee. You have a ligaum vitae head that aches in sympathy with Wood and a heart that hardens for Harding. It should be no trouble at all for you to chip in for Hiram."

"You got me wrong," explained the veteran. "I never voted for Bryan."

"Well, don't worry," soothed I. "You'll probably get a chance yet. You're not so blamed old. But when you say you're not a political flirt you're dreaming. By gee! I guessed it. That's a McAdoo button on your vest this minute! Didn't I tell you?"

"I always wear that when Mac is in town," explained the veteran, apologetically.

"I suppose you were down at the depot to meet your old friend McAdoo."

"Sure I was," assented the veteran.

"What are you trying to work him for?" persisted I.

Well, it's this way," explained the Old Resident. "If Mr. Wilson gets this mandate over Armenia he may need a lot of help. Now I know a lot of Armenians and I've got an Armenian rug in my house this minute. I wouldn't mind being Governor over a band of Armenians and I would be glad to serve my country in her hour of need."

"Yes, and where does Mr. McAdoo come in?" said I.

"Well, he's sort of in the Wilson family and might speak for him——"

"Mr. Wilson will speak for himself," ejaculated I, abruptly—"that is, if Mrs. Wilson doesn't. If you want to talk Armenia you better go right to headquarters, but I presume you could get some very illuminating conversation if you stopped to chat with Hiram Johnson on the way. Everybody will admit that Hiram would be a fit one to have the Armenia mandate in person. It would be a fine thing for everybody but the Armenians, and they are used to taxation and pillage. But a man who snubs the Vice-Presidency of our own beloved country is not to be put off with a measly mandate over a land that can hardly stand up long enough to be skinned."

"The more I hear you talk the more I think of Hoover," exclaimed the old man.

"How's that?" inquired I, slightly puzzled.

"He believes in conservation rather than conversation," answered the veteran.

"The same to you and many of them," retorted I.

OBSERVATIONS.

It's tough when we have to burn next winter's fuel supply this spring.

The girls who used to worry about how their skirts hung haven't much to worry about these days.

Prohibition has taught some of the boys nothing except that wood alcohol is a mighty poor spring tonic.

It's a queer old hemisphere. Overalls are being worn by everybody except those who used to wear them to work.

No wonder the birds sing as they build their homes. The price of building material hasn't gone up for them.

We see by the papers that Dr. Fritsche expects to be elected Governor. We also see by the papers that the Kaiser expects to regain the German throne.

If the women break out in an epidemic of house cleaning this spring, they'll have to start by the calendar instead of the thermometer.

There is no truth in the charge that manufacturers are making the soles of shoes from paper. They can't afford to.

We hear a lot of criticism about modern girls, but you'll have to admit that they show more backbone than the old-fashioned girls. —[Baudette (Minn.) Region.

In view of the high cost of l and the lack of harmony betw some dealers and their customer is proposed to commission Cec DeMille to write a scenario, "H Change Your Grocers."

The bones of a monster sup be 2,000,000 years old have been covered up in Oregon. It was a year or two short of that but it is impossible to verify record of the expert who fixed time.

Some idea of the expense of rying on a Presidential camp under the present primary law indicated by the statement that would cost $1,250,000 to give n al circulation to a single pamphlet for a candidate. The thers of the republic would over in their graves if they k the amount of money now spe national elections. And there not seem to be any way out under the law.

SOMEWHERE.

How can I cease to pray for t
Somewhere
In God's great universe thou
today.
Can he not reach thee with his der care?
Can he not hear me when I thee pray?
What matters it to him who l within
The hollow of his hands all wo
all space,
That thou art done with pain and sin?
Somewhere within his ken hast a place.

Somewhere thou livest and need of him.
Somewhere thy soul sees heights to climb.
And somewhere still there may valleys dim
That thou must pass to reach hills sublime.
Then all the more because canst not hear
Poor human words of bles
will I pray.
O true, brave heart! God bless wheresoe'er
In God's great universe thou
today.

JOS. BLACKWELL GAINS 30 POUNDS

Says Tanlac Put Him Back on the Job.

Had Been Unable to Work for Many Weeks.

Feels Fine as Ever in His Life Now, He Says.

"I was too weak to hit a lick of work, but since taking Tanlac I have actually gained thirty pounds in weight and am in as good health as any man," was the statement made recently by Joseph Blackwell of 3150 Malabar street, Los Angeles.

"The flu nearly laid me out altogether and left me so weak and rundown I wasn't able to go back to work. I had no appetite at all scarcely and simply couldn't force myself to eat enough to keep up my strength. As a result I began to fall off in weight and I kept going down and down until I was no more than a shadow of what I had been. I had a hacking cough that worried me day and night and often it kept me awake nearly all night long. I got as weak as a baby and all I could do was sit around in the sun all day for it tired me out to even move about.

"One day I noticed a part of a bottle of Tanlac that my mother had and I picked it up and started taking it. Well, sir, it helped me right off and I bought another bottle. In all I took four and a half bottles of Tanlac and the way it built me up is simply astonishing. My lost strength and weight came right back, and, as I said, I am thirty pounds heavier than I was and am in as good health as I ever was. I have a ravenous appetite and my big gain in weight shows how well what I eat agreed with me. That cough has left me entirely and I put in good, sound sleep every night. I am back on the job and am feeling so fine I can do as big a day's work as I ever could in my life. There's no use talking about it, Tanlac can't be beat, and I don't mind saying so."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by The Owl Drug Stores under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—[Advertisement.

TULARE COUNTY MAN IS MISSING.

Friends Fail to Locate Well-Known Resident.

Wireless Station at Porterville Receives Message.

Scarlet Fever Epidemic Stops Tulare Commencement.

DINUBA, May 31.—Dan C. Amsden, vice-president of the local Chamber of Commerce and manager of a large grocery store, left May 16 for San Francisco, where he was to undergo an operation. Search of the Bay City Hospitals has failed to disclose his whereabouts.

A letter was received several days ago inclosing the key to the store and instructions regarding several matters in connection with the business, saying that these were the last instructions his employees would receive from him, and bidding them good-by.

Friends believe he is worried over his physical condition, and as far as is known his financial affairs are in good condition.

Mr. Amsden has lived in Dinuba for five years, was prominent in the affairs of the community, taking an active part in all public affairs.

WIRELESS WORKS.

PORTERVILLE.—The first wireless demonstration in Porterville was accomplished Tuesday evening when Harold Zahl and Howard Buchanan, two local boys, succeeded in receiving press news at 10 o'clock. Naval Observatory signals came in sharp and clear from Mare Island. Watches were set and the amateurs listened to the great station, then picked up a San Francisco press station. This station came in exceedingly loud; other stations farther away were picked up, but came more faintly.

The instruments used were the latest type of those developed for war use, and employed the well-known audion bulb and honeycomb coils. The set is also adapted to wireless telephone, and is very efficient.

More apparatus is under construction and the amateurs are hoping to get in touch with other radio enthusiasts.

NARROW ESCAPE.

DINUBA.—F. G. Keys, automobile dealer of Dinuba, was seriously injured while making the trip from Los Angeles over the Ridge Route a few days since. His car turned turtle and dropped down a thirty-foot embankment. The accident was caused by a broken steering arm, resulting in the loss of control of the car. His son, who was also in the car, escaped injury.

QUARANTINE SCHOOL.

TULARE.—On account of the intensified situation of the scarlet fever epidemic in this city the Board of Education at a meeting held Wednesday evening ordered the High School closed at once. Some fifty cases are reported among the pupils of the various schools, with one high school student succumbing to the ravages of the disease last Sunday.

Commencement exercises were to have been held for the graduating seniors Friday night, but formal gatherings are decreed against, therefore diplomas will be presented individually without any ceremony attending the occasion.

TO CHICAGO CONVENTION.

TULARE.—Mrs. M. C. Zumwalt of this city has gone to San Francisco to join the delegates to the National Republican Convention which meets in Chicago. Mrs. Zumwalt is a delegate from this district.

Mr. Zumwalt, who is going East with the convention train, is to join her in San Francisco in a few days. The convention train will leave San Francisco June 2. One hundred and twenty-five delegates are going from California.

HOLD PLANT CONFERENCE.

PORTERVILLE.—Plans are being perfected for a two days' meeting of State and county agriculturists to be held in Porterville on Friday and Saturday, June 26 and 27, and to be known as the State Plant Pathological Conference.

The conference is for the purpose of considering the health and disease of all cultivated plants, and of furthering the welfare of the farmer by acquainting him with the best means of preventing disease in his crops, and of correcting the disease when it does appear.

Eminent authorities of the State and county and professors from the University of California and of Davis farm are to deliver addresses.

Dr. P. A. Boncquet, Tulare county plant pathologist, is father of the idea and is supported in the movement by the Porterville Chamber of Commerce, the Tulare Board of Trade, Lindsay Chamber of Commerce, and other civic bodies of the county.

Dr. Boncquet is confident that such a conference will do much to alleviate much of the lamentable waste of agricultural products of the State.

ON COLLEGE PAPER.

PORTERVILLE.—Earle Crowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Crowe, of this city, has been elected editor of the Daily Palto Alto, the student publication at Stanford University. Earle, who is in his junior year, is on the university baseball team and is leading the team in batting.

ASKS AUTO FRANCHISE.

LINDSAY.—C. J. Graham has applied to the Railroad Commission for authority to operate an auto service between Lindsay and Hanford, via Tulare. There is no service by any steam, electric or stage line from Lindsay to Tulare, or from Tulare to Hanford, the present route being a circuitious one.

GLENDALE HOME IS DAMAGED BY FIRE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

GLENDALE, May 31.—Fire, which is said to have been started either by design or carelessness of a daylight burglar, badly damaged the palatial home and fine furnishings of the residence of Assemblyman Robert White in Glendale, late this afternoon.

The loss on the building is estimated at $15,000 and it is claimed furnishings valued at $12,000 were destroyed. Only a small amount of insurance was carried either on the house or contents.

Mr. and Mrs. White and servants were absent from the home at the time of the fire. The last persons to leave the house were gone before 1 o'clock and the blaze was not discovered until 3:30. When the fire was first seen the entire upper part of the dwelling and roof were in flames, causing the inference that the fire originated in the attic.

A short time before the blaze was discovered neighbors saw a man on the porch and walking around the house, but paid little or no attention, thinking it was Mr. White. Officers advance the theory that the house was buglarized and later fired to cover up the operations of a house breaker.

BURGER EVIDENCE TODAY.

Taking of testimony will begin today in the trial in Judge Houser's court of Charles R. Burger, County Civil Service Commissioner, accused of offenses against three youths. A jury was obtained on Friday.

HOLIDAY CROWDS FILL SAN DIEGO.

CLOSING OF RACE TRACK AND OTHER ATTRACTIONS DRAW MANY VISITORS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, May 31.—The largest out-of-town crowd that ever visited San Diego is packing every hotel, every available room, restaurant, cafe and auto garage in the city.

Hotel men say that never in the history of the city has there been such a demand for rooms as in the last three days, when the crowds came from the north for the close of the race meet. The majority of the visitors are from Los Angeles and owing to the gasoline shortage there may be difficulty in their return.

Many of the men slept in their automobiles last night, having the rooms for the women of their parties.

All gasoline stations have been selling a half order and last night many of them were closed, having sold out their supplies. A three-gallon limit was set on cars today, which will allow machines to get to San Juan Capistrano, where they may secure another allowance. Some firms mixed a quantity of high test gasoline with distillate and sold that today to the cars lined up for gas.

In addition to the crowds here for the races, a large number of members of the Masons order from Imperial Valley are having a get-together meeting with San Diego Masons. They occupied all of the St. James Hotel.

PASSES BAD CHECK.

Gentleman Crook Confesses to Pomona Police.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, May 31.—Bearing all appearances of refinement and being well educated, a young man, giving his name as Frank G. Morrison, was lodged in the City Jail today on a charge of passing a fictitious check to Edward Thiss, local shoe dealer.

According to Constable Slanker, who made the arrest as Morrison was leaving a local hotel, the check was made out on the National Bank of Arizona in Phoenix, for $22.50, payable to himself, signed with the name of Lester G. Horton of the Horton Manufacturing, and Sales Company.

Constable Slanker said that Morrison confessed that the check was worthless and claimed that it was his first attempt at wrongdoing. The officer is disinclined to believe this, however, and is communicating with officials of other cities in an effort to connect him with similar operations in the Southland.

NURSES GRADUATE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, May 31.—The annual graduation of nurses from the Pomona Valley Hospital will be held in the Ebell clubhouse tomorrow night. Diplomas will be granted three nurses, who are Miss Lucille Munday, Washington, D. C.; Miss Isabell Rendall, Manitoba, Can., and Miss Esther Applegate, Springfield, Ill. Prof. Bernard C. Ewer of Pomona College will deliver the graduation address, while Dr. E. E. Kelly will present the diplomas and Dr. J. K. Swindt the medals.

GASTON CHEVROLET IS WINNER.

Runs Away With Indianapolis Speedway Race After Stiff Battle; De Palma's Machine Bursts Into Flames as He Nears Finish Far Ahead of Field.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) May 31.—The most spectacular finish witnessed on the Indianapolis Speedway, Gaston Chevrolet, driving an American-designed car, rods to victory in the eighth renewal of the 500-mile automobile race today before a record-breaking crowd of 100,000. His time was 5:40:16.14, an average of 88.16 miles an hour, the second best in the history of the event.

THOMAS SECOND.

In addition to winning $20,000 first prize, Chevrolet also won approximately $5500 in lap prize commissions and cash prizes offered by accessory firms. Rene Thomas got second place, covering the distance in 5:43:02.29. His average was 87.45 miles an hour. Tommy Milton made third and Jimmy Murphy, winner of the Beverly Hills race at Los Angeles, fourth.

All the thrills came in the last thirty miles when Ralph De Palma, the leader, with a lead of ten miles, and almost certain of winning, but with victory within grasp, his car caught fire and shortly after, the car driven by Joe Boyer, who led for the first 250 miles, skidded, overturned and crashed into a brick retaining wall 100 feet away. Neither Boyer nor his mechanician was injured seriously.

A TRAGEDY.

The accident which snatched victory from De Palma, was tragic. The Italian was racing at breakneck speed when a sheet of flame shot his way to his gasoline tank. His mechanician heroically fought the flames, De Palma, broken hearted, ran to the pits a mile away for a fresh supply.

Undaunted, De Palma resumed the race but after going another mile his car caught fire again. Aided by his mechanician, De Palma pluckily smothered the flames and managed to finish the race fifth. He was given a tumultuous ovation.

Boyer trailed De Palma from the start. He had the fastest pace-maker in the field, but the bomb of fire caught him unaware, and he was among the last to get away. Boyer lost no time he was driven into the pits with a flat tire.

Boyer held the lead 230 miles, being pursued by Jean Chassagne, Gaston Chevrolet and Rene Thomas. When the race half over, Boyer made a pit stop at the pits and De Palma shot into the lead. There was half a dozen accidents, but drivers and their aids miraculously escaped death. While speeding around the treacherous north turn Arthur Klein hit the side wall, wrecking his car so badly it was useless. Louis Chevrolet, designer of the car which his brother drove to victory, also was in a wreck. His car skidded off the course when a steering connection broke. Chevrolet's back was injured and he withdrew.

Roscoe Sarles smashed up two cars. He wrecked his own entry in skidding off the track and while driving as relief for Bennie Hill, a steering knuckle broke and he crashed for the second time.

Chevrolet drove a consistent race and never was below fourth place. Most of the time he was either in second or third. He trailed De Palma from the 350-mile point.

Four winners of former races tried to repeat. Rene Thomas and De Palma, 1914 and 1916 winners, respectively, came in within the money; Jules Goux, who won in 1913, was forced out after 345 miles. Howard Wilcox, last year's winner, had engine trouble and quite after 165 miles.

NOW IT HAPPENED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) May 31.—Gaston Chevrolet and his American-made Monroe Special were crowned monarch and queen of the speed world at a mighty speedway demonstration tonight, but Gaston is still happily wondering what it is all about. His victory, although the result of careful and consistent driving throughout the 500-mile grind, was snatched from the teeth of the brilliant De Palma after the Italian favorite had fought his way to a safe two-lap lead of the field in the 467th mile, only to experience engine trouble and a repetition of his old-time hard luck.

A crowd, estimated variously at 100,000 and 125,000 people watched the Hoosier native son and a big-time field of nearly thirty cars break track records through a long and threatening afternoon.

FEW ACCIDENTS.

They waited in vain for the usual series of fatal accidents and contented themselves with the thrill of following two drivers as they battled down the stretch at well over 90 miles an hour. The speed for the greater part of the distance registered in the nineties.

But two accidents occurred. Louis Chevrolet left the track with a slightly sprained back after the breaking of a steering knuckle early in the race and Joe Boyer, fast and furious pacemaker for the first hundred miles turned over on the back stretch in avoiding a skidding rival near the end of the race. Neither driver was badly hurt. De Palma's car caught fire from the terrific

Lady Luck Plays Rough With This Pair.

Ralph De Palma (above,) who led the Indianapolis racers during the latter part of the gruelling event and was eliminated within thirty miles of the finish when his car caught on fire. Ralph put up a great battle all through the race and looked like an easy winner when bad luck hit him. Joe Boyer (below) led the field for the first 250 miles and then smashed into a brick wall. Neither of these drivers was hurt physically, but, oh, brother, how it hurt not to win! Gaston Chevrolet, the winntr, coasted along serenely behind this pair until they passed out, and then galloped into first money.

DRIVER INSTANTLY KILLED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HANFORD, May 31.—James Drake, driving in the Memorial Day classic at Hanford this afternoon, was instantly killed and his mechanician, W. C. McDonald, sustained injuries from which he later died, when the car driven by Drake crashed into a fence during the third lap. Drake's body was dragged fifty feet and then impaled on the fence, while McDonald suffered a broken leg and internal injuries.

Drake was running fourth in a field of eleven cars in a twenty-five-mile race.

Joe Lewis won the classic of fifteen miles in 17m. 50s. Roy Reed finished second; Fred Funchess, third; Arlo Beattie, fourth, and E. L. Kaster, fifth.

James Drake, known as "Dutch" Drake, who was killed during an automobile race at Hanford yesterday, was a United States Army aviator during the war and served several months in France. He was the owner of a large garage at Reedley, Cal., and one of the most popular drivers in the San Joaquin Valley. He was married recently and retired from the racing game. Yesterday, at the last moment, he decided to enter the Hanford affair and met his death in the first few minutes of the event.

"PECK" BEATS HIS BROTHER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, May 31.—Clarence "Peck" Griffin of San Francisco won the Central California tennis singles championship at the Sutter Lawn Tennis Club today by defeating his younger brother, Mervyn. Griffin won the title held by William Johnston, the present national singles champion. The score was 7-5, 6-2, 6-2.

The most spectacular fight of the tournament took place in the men's doubles championship play between Roland Roberts, Pacific Coast singles champion, and Willis Davis and Bowie Detrick and Howard Kinsey. Davis and Roberts defeated their opponents in two fast matches by the score of 6-3, 6-4.

Miss Helen Baker, Pacific Coast woman's singles champion, captured the Central California title by defeating Mrs. Ream Leachman, 8-6, 6-1. In the women's doubles, Miss Baker paired with Mrs. Leachman, defeated Marjorie Cress and Marjorie Thorn and captured the championship, 6-2, 7-5.

TIA JUANA RESULTS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, May 31.—The race meet of the Tia Juana race track closed today with a card of nine races and a crowd that almost equaled the record attendance of yesterday. More than 10,000 people crossed the border for the races today. Balladin, the fast horse owned by Dr. H. E. Davis, won the Aurevoir handicap and took the $1500 purse, of which $250 was contributed by the Dick Dwyer memorial.

The horsemen are leaving tonight and the next few days for Reno, Nev. Practically all of the employees of the Lower California Jockey Club are going to that meet. The results today:

First race, five and one-half furlongs: Gantano won, Dora Mar second, Anna Star third. Time, 1:08 2-5.

Second race, five and one-half furlongs: Lady Eileen won, Fairy Feast second, Doveridge third. Time, 1:07 2-5.

Third race, five furlongs: Muriel's Pet won, Tommy Chandler second, Hyndia third. Time, 1:01 1-5.

Fourth race, five and one-half furlongs: Beatrice Lucilla won, Lady St. Patrick second, Lady Moore third. Time, 1:07 2-5.

Fifth race, five and one-half furlongs: Hapi Jaki won, Clear Lake second, Juanita Frederica third. Time, 1:06 4-5.

Sixth race, one mile and one-sixteenth: Balladin won, Wyndwood second, Golden Chance third. Time, 1:45 4-5.

Seventh race, five and one-half furlongs: Smiling Maggie won, Cy Merrick second, Little Bobby third. Time, 1:07.

Eighth race, seven furlongs: Bretra Hanigan won, Red Man second, Mex third. Time, 1:27 2-5.

Ninth race, one mile and seventy yards: Tuna B. won, Pan Lery second, Dr. Kendall third. Time, 1:45 1-5.

SALT LAKE CITY (Utah) May 31. "Kid" Davis, Salt Lake bantamweight, won a newspaper decision over George Lee, Sacramento Chinese boxer, in a fast six-round bout here tonight. Lee will leave tomorrow for New Orleans where he is scheduled to fight fifteen rounds with "Red" Watson June 4.

WARREN LOSES TO SNODGRASS.

Clay Court Tennis Crown Captured by Latter.

Miss Eleanore Tennant Victor in Woman's Singles.

Barker Brothers Snag Men's Doubles Honors.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

Twice in the past two years Eugene Warren has hooked up with Harvey Snodgrass in the finals of the Southern California clay court tennis championships, and twice the former U.S.C. man has been humbled—each time in straight sets. The scores in their singles match, played yesterday on the courts of the San Gabriel Country Club, were 6-2, 12-10, 6-2.

Only in the second set did Warren look formidable, when he forced the playing and carried Snodgrass to a long drawn-out decision. He had a chance to win this set, but faltered at the critical moment. With the score standing six games to five in his favor and 30-all on his service Warren committed a double fault, following this up with a bobble of a volley on which he should have scored a clean ace.

QUITE A LIST.

Yesterday's victory marked Snodgrass's fourth over Warren in final matches in the past two years. Last year's clay court title was won by Snodgrass in two straight sets, the city title after five sets, the 1920 midwinter in four sets and yesterday's as has been recorded.

Both men played a back court game yesterday, rushing the net on few occasions. Each had played three matches in the morning, which probably explains the infrequency with which they approached the barrier. When they did amble up the usual result was a volley smash into the net.

Warren started off auspiciously in the first set, taking Snodgrass's serve, mainly on the latter's double faults. Snodgrass took the next three games, Warren won the fifth game and Snodgrass the next three and the set was even. Warren failed to capture a game on his own service in this set.

Warren picked up in the second set, and the games went to 4-all. From there on to 8-all games went with the service. Warren broke through on Snodgrass's service in the seventeenth game and it was 9-8 in his favor, but Snodgrass crashed in Warren's defense and annexed the latter's service, making it 9-all. The score went to 10-all, when Snodgrass grabbed his own service, and again broke through Warren's for the set.

Warren wilted in the third set, though he started out bravely and rang up the first two games. Thereafter it was a walkaway for Snodgrass, his rival collapsing with a suddenness that was surprising.

POINTS SHOW IT.

Snodgrass's superiority is indicated by his point total of 136 for the three sets to Warren's 108. He won twelve of his nineteen service games to Warren's seven in as many trials.

The big surprise of the day came in the third round of the men's doubles when Snodgrass and Reinke, last-year conquerors of Lycett and Thomas, the Australians, were put out of the running by a pair of prep school lads. Herold Godshall and Dick Hinckley tripped them by scores of 6-4, 1-6, 6-4. To cap the climax the latter pair were defeated in the semi-finals by the Barker brothers, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4.

The finals went to four sets, Miles Reinke and Warren losing to the Barkers 6-4, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Miss Marion Williams made Miss Eleanore Tennant step to beat her in three sets. Scores, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2. This was the final match in the women's singles.

MEN'S SINGLES.

Fourth round: H. Snodgrass defeated C. Barker, 6-1, 6-3; Tom Fernandini defeated Joe Reynolds, 6-0, 6-3; Gerhard Busch defeated Van Dyke Johns, default; Gene Warren defeated Harold Godshall, 6-3, 6-3.

Semi-finals: Snodgrass defeated Fernandini, 4-6, 6-3, 6-0; Warren defeated Busch, 9-11, 6-3, 6-4.

POMONA ELKS TOO GOOD FOR KNIGHTS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, May 31.—Before a large holiday crowd the local Knights of Pythias baseball aggregation went down to 15-to-4 defeat at the hands of the Pomona Elks Club of pill tossers on the local high school diamond this afternoon. The game was replete with errors on both sides. It was staged as a benefit for the Olympic Games athletic fund with which to send Southland athletes to the world contest. Over $500 was raised as a result. The batteries were: Elks—Wilber, Krouse and Barnes; Knights of Pythias—Lewison and Patterson.

FRANK TROEH WINS MATCH FROM ELBERT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DES MOINES (Iowa) May 31.—Frank Troeh of Vancouver, Wash., defeated F. B. Elbert of Des Moines, 176 to 170, in the Hazard trophy shoot yesterday. The trophy is emblematical of the world's championship doubles. When Troeh won the trophy he took the last championship possible for him in amateur sports, as he has held all the others at various times in the past.

ALL-STARS DOWNED.

The Los Angeles White Sox baseball team won a 4-to-3 game from Pirrone's All-Stars yesterday at the White Sox park. The game was played in 1hr. 25m. Previous to the game a field meet was held. Glenn of the Sox made the fastest time to first after laying down a bunt; Pirrone won the long-distance throwing, hitting the top of the grandstand from centerfield; Van Osdell was the best fungo hitter and Kyle circled the bases ahead of all competitors. Game score:

	R.	H.	E.
All-Stars	3	7	2
White Sox	4	4	1

Batteries—Kelly and Mohler; Mooney and Shores.

DEL MONTE (Cal.) May 31.—D. E. Bishop, with a handicap of three, won the Memorial Day golf tournament here today, defeating D. Nugent, 8 and 7, in the final round.

BENGALS ENJOY ANGELIC FEAST.

Easily Defeat Killefer in Both Ball Games.

Shellenbeck Pitches Masterfully in P.M. Contest.

Seraphs Boot Away the Morning Argument.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

As a rule when the Tigers hit back they do so with a double-edged sword and this was the case yesterday at Washington Park when they copped both games of a double-header from the Angels, 6 to 0 and 5 to 1. Despite the fact that the Celestials played raggedly in both contests, it is extremely doubtful whether they could have won either game under the best conditions. The heritage of Happy Hogan performed with the old vim and aggressive perfection that characterised their efforts against Red Killefer in the crucial series for the pennant last fall and looked like a million dollars at every stage of the proceedings.

Johnny Mitchell's star was in the ascendant all day. His work was of scintillating cleverness all compact. Around the short field the little fellow was a Hollocher and Bancroft rolled into one, and at the bat, he just slammed out the old apricot as if it were really enamored of his willow. Johnny is undoubtedly the shortstop nonpareil of the Pacific Coast League and getting down to cold foundations—who can surpass him in the big show?

AT HIS BEST.

Shellenback slanted 'em over for Essick in the afternoon armament and he surely was at his best. At no time did the Seraphs threaten to get mussy with his offerings. He mixed them up with tantalizing elusiveness and was master of the situation at all times.

Vic Aldridge mounded for Killefer and was touched up plentifully throughout. Some remarkable fielding stunts of the Angels kept the Bengals from getting familiar with the rubber until the eighth inning when the league champions pulled themselves together and showed their mettle. De Vormer exploded one to right that left scored grass in its wake. It went right at Crawford, or otherwise it would have been a cinch three-bagger. It was here that Aldridge lost his equilibrium and allowed Shellenback to sacrifice De Vormer to second. He had the Tiger pitcher in the hole and had easily struck him out the time before.

MITCH TO RESCUE.

Mitchell then bounded a slow ball to the infield, and reached first safe, De Vormer ambling to third. Chadbourne caused a grand-stand groan by flying to Killefer. Bobby Fisher, corrosive sublimate for the Angels at all times, busted a scorcher right at Aldridge that almost tore Vic's glove asunder. The ball was deflected toward left center, and during its little outing De Vormer passed the rubber, while Mitchell cantered to third. In a double embezzlement with Fisher Mitchell scored. Then came the Angelic collapse, for McAuley threw low to Griggs to nail Long, who had trundled an easy one to the Celestial shortstop, the ball seeking shelter in the Killefer dugout. Fisher tallied.

The only run the Angels made was on a walk to McAuley in the fourth

Just Shoes Won't Do

MEN want good shoes, of course; shoes that wear long and stay good and give full money's worth. But they want something more—they want something on their feet that makes them feel good every time they look at them; shoes with character; shoes that say to people that the man who picked them had his eye with him and knew what he was doing. Florsheim Shoes are more than "Just Shoes." We have anything you want, and will help you find it.

SEALS AND ACORNS BLANK EACH OTHER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—Today's doubleheader was split, San Francisco winning the morning game from Oakland on the Oakland grounds 2 to 0, while Oakland took the afternoon contest 6 to 0. Arnew sent two Seal team-mates across the plate in the fifth by a double. In the afternoon the Seals were unable to hit with men on bases, while Love was wild and ineffective in the box.

ORTEGA TO TRY KAYO KRUVOSKY

Speedy Middleweights to Hook Up at Vernon.

Will Battle for the Championship of Coast.

Mike Doll and Jack Robinson in Semiwindup.

Battling Ortega and Kayo Kruvosky, recognized as the two best middleweights on the Pacific Coast, will meet in the main event at the Vernon arena tonight. Both boxers have appeared here before, Kruvosky having boxed Cliff Jordan twice and Walter Caldwell, while Ortega's one performance was against Cliff Jordan from whom he took a decision last Tuesday night.

UNDISPUTED CHAMP.

The winner of tonight's bout will be the undisputed champion of the Coast.

The semiwind-up will mark the reappearance of Mike Doll, one of the most popular welterweights that ever entered the Vernon ring. Doll's opponent will be Salinas Jack Robinson, a rough and ready scrapper from Oakland whose chief stock in trade is a willingness to mix it at all times. Doll is a slugger pure and simple so the pair figure to put a lot of action into their meeting.

Sailor Joe Fisher will meet Tommy Cello, the clever Oakland boy who took a decision from Henry Gastine last Tuesday night. Sailor Kramer, the aggressive little fellow who has been going good of late, is matched with Battling Vierra, an Oakland boy, who is said to be a slugger all the way.

GOOD BOUTS.

Sailor Walter, one of the best featherweights in the Pacific Fleet will meet Jimmy Berry of Pasadena and Ralph Pena will take on Fred Young. Fred Norman, the colored boy who made something of a hit by his good showing of a week ago, it matched with Chief Avalez, an Indian Lattier, who in one start at Vernon looked fairly good.

RACE IS WON BY G. CHEVROLET.

sped he demanded in his last spurt for first money but was able to finish in fifth position after the breakdown.

Barney Oldfield, natty in a light suit and straw hat, slid away from the field when the starting bomb sounded and paced his former rivals for the first lap, pulling dismally to the side lines to watch Joe Boyer flash into the real lead.

BOYER LEADS.

De Palma drew into the pits at the outset losing twelve seconds and Boyer held for 200 killing miles until he was forced in to take on gas and water. Rene Thomas, whose masterful driving had brought him to hug the leaders' rear tires, swept into first position with De Palma driving hard to catch him. At 275 miles De Palma was two seconds behind his team-mate and he whirled into the lead at the south turn for the first real thrill of the day. The crowd stood up again a moment later when Roscoe Sarles, driving a Monroe car struck the retaining wall in banking for a turn, righted himself and limped into the pits.

It was not until this period that his Indiana admirers noticed the remarkable performances of Gaston Chevrolet who had worked from the rear to fourth position and now began to brush De Palma. He drove steadily in second place while the flying cars reeled from the 350 to 400-mile tapes and whipped past the fallen favorite at the 450-mile mark while De Palma limped to the pits for gasoline. At 475 miles De Palma had again gained second position in the burst of speed that cost him first division prize money when his car caught fire. Then Chevrolet settled down to careful driving, even coming to the pits for a safety first supply of gasoline when he had put four laps between himself and the eleven cars which finished the race.

EASY WINNER.

He came down the stretch an easy winner, three minutes ahead of Rene Thomas. Tommy Milton, whose performance on the Pacific Coast this year made him the talk of the speed fans, drove his Duesenberg into third money with an ease never before equalled on the Indiana saucer, six minutes ahead of his teammate, Jimmy Murphy. De Palma finished fifth and was given a great reception from the grand stand, pulling out with the remarkable average of 82-12.

inning and a present of first base to Crandall by Shellenback. Then Griggs sacrificed, Shellenback to Borton; Crawford sent a sacrifice fly to Chadbourne, McAuley scoring after the catch, and Bassler struck out.

OLD MAN WHEEZE THERE.

The morning game found Wheezer Dell in good fettle. The Angels kept presenting him with runs as the game proceeded, and the more runs they donated the better Wheeze heaved 'em over. Freddie Haney had a bad morning, and he just butterfingered everything that came his way. The little fellow became so rattled that he allowed Chadbourne's easy grounder to him in the eighth to go through his legs and Mitchell walked home from second.

Thomas officiated for the Seraphs, and was easy meat for the feasting Tigers at all times. The jungle babes surely gave the lie to the superstition that they can't negotiate a left-hand twirler. The scores:

DUCKS DROP PAIR TO SENATORIAL CREW.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) May 31.—Sacramento won both games from Portland today six to nothing and five to two. In the morning Ross was wild in the first inning and six runs crossed the plate on three passes and three hits. Juney held the visitors safe the rest of the way.

In the afternoon two errors in the first inning gave Portland two runs. Penner, who allowed only six hits, held the Beavers scoreless for the rest of the game. Penner drove in three runs in the fifth with his double.

CHESS CONTEST PROSPECT GOOD.

LOS ANGELES PLAYERS IN WIRE TOURNAMENT CLAIM EDGE OVER BAY CITY.

So close was the chess tournament yesterday between the Los Angeles and San Francisco Chess Clubs that the result depends upon the adjudication of three unfinished games, all of which are claimed by Los Angeles players.

Play began by wire at 9 o'clock yesterday morning with twelve men on each side. Los Angeles scored the first victory, but San Francisco later took the lead. At the close of play at 7 o'clock last night San Francisco had five points and Los Angeles four. In all of three unfinished games the advantage appeared to rest with the local contestants. Brilliant playing by Los Angeles players in the last hour and a half of the match turned the tide from what appeared to be defeat to a situation that may be turned into a victory.

—do you still fuss with an Egg-beater?

THE woman who has learned the magic of Egg-In-Itt in baking of all kinds can't see why any other woman should still do her work in the old tedious and expensive way.

It's so much easier to make cakes, doughnuts, fritters, muffins and the like, with Egg-In-Itt, than it ever was when you had to do so much beating and whipping of eggs.

For, you see, Egg-In-Itt is already a blend of egg and baking powder—thoroughly and perfectly mixed.

So, when you've sifted Egg-In-Itt with the flour and sugar, and added the shortening—you simply add the necessary liquid—and with the least bit of stirring your cake (or what not) is ready for the oven!

Take the wise housewife's "tip." Try Egg-In-Itt.

LOVE GOD TRIUMPHS.

WALLACE McDONALD AND DORIS MAY ARE WED.

By Grace Kingsley.

It's all exactly like one of those sparkling romantic comedies by May Tully, at least in the way it was announced. And it concerns that lovely and clever little ingenue, Doris May, and that handsome young leading man, Wallace McDonald. And the upshot of it all is they're married, and are honeymooning at Coronado Hotel.

The way those two delightful youngsters let me know about it is quite worthy the genius of Agnes Johnston or Anita Loos. Two telegrams arrived yesterday. They were worded exactly alike and were dated at same time and place, viz., Coronado Beach, May 31. One was signed Doris May and the other Wallace McDonald. Both read: "Spending week-end here. Had lunch yesterday at Santa Ana."

Which would have been quite enough for any cupid hound of a motion-picture reporter, ever on the scent for romance, particularly as Santa Ana is a regular Gretna Green.

It happened, too, that I had spent Saturday afternoon with the two, had been witness to their glances and to the fact that there were tears in Miss May's blue eyes, but a slightly rebellious pout about her lips, when her mother telephoned sternly to the hotel where we were dining that Doris should come right straight home after the church service which she and Mr. MacDonald were going to attend immediately after dinner. Yesterday being a holiday it was impossible to get in touch with any of those cupid agents known as marriage license clerks, either in San Diego or Santa Ana, but one or the other must be responsible.

A telephone message to the Coronado Hotel last night confirmed the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McDonald, bride and groom, were registered there, but out for the evening.

Miss May is one of Thomas H. Ince's most popular stars. She co-starred with Douglas McLean, but is expected soon to appear in her own pictures. Mr. McDonald is one of the best known and best liked of young leading men. It is rumored that he is shortly to sign a starring contract.

Elsie Ferguson Here Soon.

Elsie Ferguson is to come West to make pictures for Famous Players-Lasky within a few weeks, according to telegraphic word received from New York. Miss Ferguson's health broke down suddenly, according to the same report, and "Sacred and Profane Love," the play in which she has been appearing, closed. Miss Ferguson plans to sail within a week for the Orient, where she will tour China and Japan before coming to Los Angeles for her film enterprise.

Otis Skinner Ditto.

Another famous one who will soon arrive in this city to make pictures is Otis Skinner. He is expected here June 20, and will soon thereafter enter on the filmization of his most famous play, "Kismet."

Louis Gasnier is the clever god in the machine who maneuvered the move by which Mr. Skinner, who has been somewhat hard to approach in the matter of pictures, was persuaded to affix his John Henry to the Pathe contract. Mr. Gasnier returned yesterday from New York, where the deal was made.

FAIR SPEED SHOWN BY ORPHEUM BILL.

If you're fond of dancing you'll surely enjoy yourself at the Orpheum this week, as there are all sorts, from the common or garden variety of buck and wing, to the high-class interpretative stuff, wherein you can't tell whether the lady who dances holding out a steaming pot of something is doing it because she's worshiping some idol or because the pot is hot. All the acts are new.

Vic Quinn is a dainty little terpsichorean queen, and she is assisted by Frank Farnum, who is one of the best male dancers the Orpheum stage has ever seen.

They have a nicely arranged and prettily staged routine, with an orchestra, and the voice of George Kreer furnishes a nice jazz obligato.

"Doc" Baker is billed as a protean artist, and certainly gets into his changes of clothes rapidly. He is assisted by a lovely harem of misses, headed by one of the prettiest girls in vaudeville, Polly Walker. The girls all walk out of a mammoth book at the back of the stage.

Ernestine Myers and Paisley Noon work hard to put something over in the way of dancing, but the sensuousness of Miss Myers's oriental number is too obvious to be artistic. Grant McKay at the piano pleased very much.

If Mme. Claire Forbes, pianist, billed as one of the Boston Symphony orchestra, is grooming for a concert tour with odd mannerisms as a part of her stock in trade she may find success. I suppose her connection with the Boston organization makes her quite irreproachable, but for me I prefer the pianists who don't twist and snort and double up in knots. Mme. Forbes plays brilliantly and dramatically.

A nice little playlet, even if a bit creaky as to plot, is that done by Wallis Clark, Devah Morel and Louis Ancker. Wonder what that bronze make-up is which Rinaldo Bros. use in their posing and stunt act? It's very effective, anyhow. The inevitable wop act is supplied by Anthony and Rogers, and evidently Orpheum audiences like 'em. Duval and Symond, boy and girl, have "Their First Quarrel" right there on the stage, and are mildly amusing. They're young and good looking.

"THE GIFT SUPREME" MIGHTY GOOD FILM.

Have you ever seen a picture that's so naturally played and so intimately human that you felt as if you were peeping through a window at the people in it? Well that's the way it is with "The Gift Supreme," at Tally's Broadway this week, from a novel by George Allen England.

There is just a touch of the tonically acting new thought idea in the story. This has to do with two young people in love with each other who work practically for the uplift of mankind. But there's not a touch of preaching in the story.

Uplift work on the part of a man seems to require a lot of main strength and muscle, judging from this story, in which Bernard Durning plays the masculine lead—the man who will fight to make people reform if need be. He is wounded by a touch, and the gift supreme is the gift of blood from her own veins, offered by the heroine when the young man is bleeding to death. Seena Owen plays the girl, and is delightfully sincere, giving the conviction of genuine womanhood and a beautiful spirit.

The cast has been well selected, those supporting Miss Owen and Mr. Durning including Claire McDowell, Melbourne McDowell, Jack Curtis, Lon Chaney, Scott McKee, Eugenie Besserer and others.

The story has been freshly and vividly done, and will doubtless have a very wide appeal.

Agnes Johnston to Wed.

If all goes well, Agnes Johnston, one of Thomas H. Ince's kingpins, or should we say queenpin, scenario writers, is to go to New York on Thursday to be married. She will wed Frank Dazey, son of Charles Dazey, author of "In Old Kentucky."

A honeymoon in a lodge in the Catskills is on the books for the two, but it does look as if it might be an intermittent honeymoon, inasmuch as Mr. Dazey has a play scheduled for opening some place near New York during the happy days and, of course, Mr. Dazey will have to be present to prepare for the New York showing. Also Miss Johnston has promised cross-her-heart-and-hope-to-die she'd start a picture story before she comes home.

Hampton Star Rests.

Just one nice vacation after another is what H. B. Warner, Hampton star, is having these days. No sooner did he return from Coronado yesterday than he left immediately for Catalina Island on a week's fishing trip. Moreover, his boss, Jesse D. Hampton, won't scold him for being absent from work because he, Hampton, is accompanying the actor.

Production on the next Warner feature, adapted from a novel by John A. Morosco, will start June 10, with Henry King directing.

Franklyn Farnum Contract.

Franklyn Farnum has signed a contract with the Selig company to make five-reel outdoor features of the West and the Canadian woods. Otto Lederer is to direct and Genevieve Berts will be leading woman. The first photoplay is titled "Riding the Winds." During the past year Farnum has made twelve two-reel westerns and a fifteen episode serial, "Vanishing Trails," at Selig's.

Good Mixed Bill.

Remember Charlie Chaplin in "The Pawnshop." It was one of the best pictures made on his present contract. You'll have a chance of renewing acquaintance with the film this week at the Alhambra, where it is showing in slightly altered version and winning a full share of laughs.

The main feature of the program is "Silk Husbands and Calico Wives," the problem picture starring House Peters. Mr. Peters manifests his splendid capabilities in this story of a man's advance in the world, and his consequent differences with a wife that is not equal to the progress. The picture has a pleasant ending and is well produced.

"The Dancin' Fool."

Wallace Reid and Bebe Daniels are amusing picture fans again in their comedy, "The Dancin' Fool," this week at the Garrick Theater. The picture touches the high spots of cabaret life, and also contains a good homespun romance. It is one of the typical and popular Reid starring vehicles. An excellent supporting cast, with Raymond Hatton presenting a very clever character role, appears.

"Below the Surface."

Hobart Bosworth remains a magnetic attraction for theatergoers at Grauman's Rialto Theater. His picture, "Below the Surface," has a vigorous and impelling theme, and is unusual in its glimpses of life on the shores of the sea. Bosworth is renewing the excellent impression he made in "Behind the Door."

Margarita Fisher Play.

Margarita Fisher's luminous charm is pleasing audiences this week at the Hippodrome, where her photoplay, "The Hellion," is showing. The picture is fairly unusual as to story, and affords the star excellent dramatic opportunities.

The vaudeville bill is topped by Hirschoff's Troupe of Gypsies. In swift and thrilling dances. Others on the program are Downing and Bunin, painless laugh extractors; Antoinette Crawford and company, in a zippy comedy, "A Perfect Day;" the Pearl Duo, wop musicians; Robetta and Dalton, in a song and talk prescription of the humorous kind, and Cress and Sarataro, who offer acrobatic excitement.

MUSICAL.

TENOR'S SPELL THRILLS.

McCORMACK AGAIN TRIUMPHS IN RECITAL HERE.

By Jeanne Redman.

John McCormack, Irish tenor, again demonstrated his immense popularity last evening at Philharmonic Auditorium. He sang to an audience which crowded every section of the theater, to the stage itself.

McCormack was in excellent voice; his qualities, long since firmly established, were evident at their best.

There is no secret, whatever, to this continued and enormous success of McCormack. His following is easily accountable. His perfect enunciation, which admits of perfect understanding of every word, his beautiful voice and his whole-hearted interpretations are things which everybody understands.

McCormack can sing classic arias most artistically, as he did Handel's "Sacred Raptures," "Imperial Solomon" and, for encore, the "Largo," but when he gives his famous and simple songs he sheds the mantle of virtuosity, and while maintaining his Lel canto, throws himself, heart and soul, into the sentiment, which he lifts by his sincerity, to the dignity of emotion.

All those feelings of sympathy and generosity which the American, above all, has, and is loathe to manifest, McCormack expresses for him, and in a manner which makes the listener expand, and respond, as last evening with shouts of "Bravo!" and shrill whistles that refused to be downed until McCormack, alwalys generous with encores, had lengthened his group of four Irish folk songs to eight.

"The Harp that Once," which opened this series was done with immense dramatic effect. For the singing of "Mother Machree" McCormack turned his back to the theater and addressed himself to the stage, where auditors sat enraptured with a song associated, as "Dear Old Pal O' Mine" and "I Hear You Calling Me," only with McCormack. Aside from the arias and the Irish numbers McCormack sang a group of American compositions, including "Only You," written by his accompanist, Edwin Schneider, beside several French and Italian songs.

Lauri Kennedy, a young 'cellist, played the famous Boellman "Variations Symphoniques" and two short numbers, Popper's "Tarantelle" and the "Romance" of Saint-Saens.

Zoellner's Tonight.

The Zoellner Quartet will give the last but one of their series of chamber music programs tonight at the Ebell Auditorium. The interest will chiefly center, perhaps, on the "Terzetto," opus 74, by Dvorak, for two violins and viola. This combination of instruments is most unusual. Other works to be played are the Mozart "Quartet in F" written by the composer at the age of 16, and the "Quatuor Slave," opus 26, of Glazounow.

The Zoellner Quartet gave a reception at their home in honor of Eugene Ysaye and Mischa Elman last Friday. During the evening, much to the joy of the 100 assembled guests, Eugene Ysaye, with his son Gabrielle, joined forces with Joseph Zoellner, Sr., and Joseph, Jr., playing a Beethoven quartet. This was a most novel quartet, with a personnel of two fathers and two sons.

PEPFUL MUSICAL SHOW AT PANTAGES.

Pep and dash and lots of both make "Derby Day" the kind of musical comedylet that's easy to look at and easy to listen to this week at the Pantages Theater. This tabloid novelty is the headliner of the new show that opened yesterday. There's a young American of the Little Johnny Jones type who goes to England to ride the ponies, and incidentally he wins an attractive American bride on Derby Day. The music, lyrics and scenic effects are enhancing background for the summery chorus and the principals who are headed by Joe Kemper and Ralph Bell.

Others on the bill are Frank Morrell, who tells stories and sings popular numbers: Housch and Lavelle in a humorous sketch laid in the wilds of Arizona; Peggy Laney, who sings "Dancing at That Moving Picture Ball" and other selections; J. C. Mack and company in the original comedy creation, "Mother's Boy;" Sterling and Marguerite in an acrobatic novelty; King Baggott and company, in another episode of "The Hawk's Trail."

REVIEWS.

MARDI GRAS PLAY.

MRS. FISKE'S PERSONALITY SCINTILLATES.

By Edwin Schallert.

As variocolored as the lights of the Mardi Gras, the personality of Mrs. Fiske filled with its enchantment the audience which attended the opening performance of her "comedy of moonshine, madness and make-believe," "Mis' Nelly of N'Orleans," last night at the Mason. It was for her a triumphant reentry into the hearts of her public here that reached a climax in the applause that brought a brief expression of thanks warm with feeling, at the close of the rhapsodic and enthralling second act.

There is witchery both to the play and the woman who portrays the leading role, but the personality of the woman is far greater. Without her presence the glamor of a beautiful moonlit garden would die in cold gray. Mrs. Fiske's comedy is, however, illumination that lights the way to the final curtain.

"Mis' Nelly of N'Orleans" is in its way one of those epochal things of times and places, even despite the seeming barrenness of the final scene after the magiery of the carnival night. The play reflects a life that is a world to itself, just as "The Bird of Faradise" with its exotic atmosphere is typical of a fascination separated by the seas of custom and romance. There is only one New Orleans, and there is only one Mardi Gras, and with music and laughter and emotion as a part of the picture Laurence Eyre's comedy conjures up the fantasy of a seductive festival.

Mrs. Fiske has forsaken her first two names completely on the program and elsewhere in her billing. That is the highest prerogative of the famous. She gives the key to herself at the very opening of the play. It is a personal revelation. "I know I am not 16 any more. I have no illusions about myself," she said as if confiding a secret to her audience. And her entire interpretation had just that intimacy.

Her Mis' Nelly is a plotter and a counterplotter, who is so used to saying "damn" that it comes without effort; even when she'd rather conceal the habit. Her scheming concerns getting a wayward boy married to a very determined little twentieth century girl. She reawakens the spirit of thirty years ago to accomplish her purpose, meantime teaching a very bull-headed former suitor of hers a sharp-pointed lesson. Mis' Nelly's method is that of laughter. Only those who can gain years with grace can really accomplish such diplomacy, and both Mis' Nelly and Mrs. Fiske are at heart only as old as they look in this play.

The chief supporting role is played by Hamilton Revelle as Georges Durand, the impetuous, irascible father, who never gives a point until he is forced to. Revelle played, acted, growler and barked his way through this part in a thoroughly acceptable manner. Very smooth and engaging was the interpretation of kindly Pere Andred Clement by Joseph Grene, the man who made the sacrifice for the woman he loved, in return for her own to him. Dorothy Day did the "rishing" ingenue role capably, while Victor Benoit presents a rather too eccentric Felix Durand that looks like Buster Keaton in the comedy. Azra Walck is capital.

For charm, romance and at times, the sorcery of mingled music and drama, "Mis' Nelly of N'Orleans," with Mrs. Fiske, is one of the delights of the season.

"SICK-A-BED" PROVES GREAT CHUCKLE FILM.

If "Sick-a-Bed" turns out to be any funnier on the stage than it is on the screen this week at Grauman's Theater, the audience will probably be locked up for disturbing the peace with their laughter. It so happens that the cinema vers on of the farce is being presented just a week in advance of the opening of the footlight play at a new stock theater in a quiet party of the city. Wallace Reid is the hero in both instances.

Really, I believe that 'Sick-a-Bed" is the biggest chuckle of the year. Its humor bubbles forth so naturally that you'll laugh in spite of yourself.

The satirical view of the sentimental would-be scenario writer alone is worth the price of admission. It is she who is the instigator of the mirthful string of complications.

In her ambition to live her plot said lady writer involves Wallie in her domestic troubles by luring him into the depths of a forest. The luring consists in running away with his cap. She calls him her Hector and avers that she is his Vanilla, and when Wallie and she are caught in the storm she exclaims: "What a wonderful scene for my photoplay!" To which Wallie replies, "Yes, if we don't catch pneumonia from double exposure."

The subtitles are as good as a two-reel comedy. The beauty of it is a great many of them aren't written but action titles. Ingenious stuff!

The best scenes are, of course, where Wallie is put to bed to keep him from testifying in the divorce case. The amateur scenarioist filed the suit because her husband happened to be kept out all night by the storm the same time as she herself was cavorting in the forest. Wallie's "sick-a-bed" episodes the night nurse, or the "good night nurse," as she is called, and the day nurse prove incentives to humor and romance respectively.

After the real doctor is brought on the scene to find out whether Wallie is spoofing there is a smile or a grand ha-ha every five feet of film.

Reid reveals a splendid range of expression in his role, because it calls up more of his ability. His interpretation is capital in balance and ease. It is the best thing he has done since "The Lottery Man"—and I believe a bit better than that.

Winifred Greenwood does a very real piece of work as the love-sick wife, who goes silly over Hector. You may hate her before you get through, but that's all in the part. And there are such women.

Bebe Daniels is perfectly satisfactory as Nurse Durant, alias Miss Romance. George Kuwa as Wing Chow, the Chinese servant, corners a group of laughs. Tully Marshall, John Steppling and others are excellent.

A singer who manifested that simplicity which is art in her rendition of Thurlow Lieurance's Indian Love Song; a juvenile dancing specialty, and drawing-room recitations with high and lowbrow music fill out an interesting bill. And that isn't saying a world about a bear-cat of a kat kartoon.

"Naughty Wife" Soon.

Furbishing up the interpretation of "The Naughty Wife," which has been in rehearsal, is now in progress preliminary to substituting this attraction for "Polly with a Past" next Sunday at the Morosco Theater. "Polly" is in the twelfth and final week. Eleanor Woodruff and Louis Calhern have principal roles in this play, and will also be seen in the leads of the new farce-comedy.

"That Something" Continues.

With its interesting sidelights and highlights on social conditions, "That Something" still continues to draw a large attendance at the Victory Theater. The photoplay is well played and has a strong and optimistic theme. Charles Meredith and Margery Wilson have principal roles.

Domestic Note.

Mme. Olga Petrova's husband, Dr. John D. Stewart, arrived in town Sunday to spend a mere three days with his wife. This is Dr. Stewart's first trip West, he being a noted New York physician, who has not much time for travel about the country. So the h from New York here and b again is certainly a tribute to actress wife's charm. He's g take in some scenery today, i pany with Mme. Petrova, and tomorrow for home.

P.S.—Referring back to a conversation with Petrova, it recorded that the doctor occupies separate suite at the Lankersh

Mrs. Rinehart Here.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Month in Review; Price Cutting; Business News Notes.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

The holiday was well observed by Los Angeles business, and activity throughout the marts of trade and speculation was at a standstill, although many took advantage of the fact that the intermission came at the end of the month to put their affairs in order ever against the rush of today's renewal.

Although we have heard a good deal, during May, of diminished volume in many lines the remarkable bank clearings for the month offer the best evidence that the affairs of business Los Angeles are in excellent condition, and while there is little encouragement to anticipate a fall in food products other commodities appear to be on the decline, and there is a noticeable tendency to return to a more normal basis of production and labor.

Banks everywhere are contracting their loans, and there has been a marked deflation of currency which will continue. It was obvious that banks could not go on indefinitely expanding their credits and taxing the resources of the Federal reserve system. The situation will be better understood by comparing the figures reported by the national banks of the country in their statements to the Comptroller of the Currency, and which leads to the following comment by the Federal Reserve Board:

"Clearly, the present is not an appropriate time to extend business merely for the sake of increased volume of profits. This applies not only to producers and distributors, but to bankers as well, for the present opportunity to take on new borrowing accounts and to reloan borrowed money at a profit, is tempting to many. Nor is it a time for public or private improvements not absolutely necessary for health and safety. . . . Making new loans for purposes which will not further production or distribution of necessary goods creates fresh demands on labor at a time when there is not enough labor to meet pressing needs. Reduction of existing loans for similar purposes tends to reduce demands on labor. Loans for the purpose of speculating in commodities, securities and real estate, absorb credit required for necessary production, and tend to increase the cost of living."

The American National Bank of San Francisco reviews the situation in this wise:

"A survey of the agricultural field gives little encouragement that the cost of living essentials is approaching lower levels. Sugar at 27 cents a pound retail means higher prices for canned and preserved goods, unless other materials are obtained at prices lower than hitherto. The government forecast is for a wheat crop about one-third less than that of 1919, while from all parts of the country come reports that shortage of farm labor may seriously curtail all crops. Farms cannot be worked without men to work them, and the lure of bigger wages, shorter hours and easier living conditions in cities is drawing hired men and farmers' sons away from the land.

"California seems more favored than many other sections. Even though the crop prospects are a little less favorable than reported in April, owing to cool weather and drying winds, the indications are for fairly good yields of both grains and fruits. Less wheat than last year will be produced, but the barley crop is expected to equal that of 1919. Prunes will show an average yield, but apricots will be somewhat short. Oranges indicate a crop of 14,000,000 boxes, marketed at very satisfactory prices. Apples, peaches and pears are expected to fall somewhat below last season's figures. On the whole, however, sentiment in the big valleys of California is very cheerful and may be summed up in the following extract from a letter received from an interior banker: 'Our country in all is blooming with prosperity both in production and growth of new crops. In fact, I never saw this section of the country when it looked more beautiful than it does at the present time.'"

Cutting Prices.

The Better American Federation of California discusses price-cutting in its weekly letter to members, and takes the ground that there can be no general reduction until Federal taxes are lowered and the price of labor returns to normal, together with a readjustment of hours between the agricultural and mechanical laborer.

"If the public demands a continuation of high wages and short hours," the letter, which is signed by H. M. Haldeman, president, says: "It must not be surprised at high prices and short weights for the products of labor. The truism that a short day makes a short dollar cannot be too often repeated.

"There is undisputable logic in the complaint of organizations of farmers that the farmer works fourteen hours a day and sells his products for a moderate profit, but is compelled to buy goods made by men who work eight hours a day or less and receive for a day's work about double what the farmer receives.

"It is not to be denied that it is unfair to the farmer to be expected to exchange the product of a fourteen-hour day in return for the product of an eight-hour day. On the other hand, the eight-hour day for mechanical workmen has come to stay. It is the opinion of many that eight hours is long enough for a day's work and that no man should be required to do more. A readjustment between the hours of the agricultural worker and the mechanic must be made, however, before industry returns to normal."

Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

The stock exchange was closed yesterday in observance of Memorial Day. So was the produce exchange, the grain exchange, and all others throughout the country. The volume of business for the Los Angeles organization, while below the average for the preceding months, was decidedly healthy and promises satisfactory activity as soon as the conditions which have actuated the market during may are sufficiently removed to encourage the public to again take a hand in the game. During the month 1,968,773 shares were traded in on the home floor to a total value of $2,112,961.10. Of this amount oil stocks led in value and mines in volume. The recapitulation shows the following:

	Shares.	Value.
Banks	167	40,055.00
Industrials	19,454	165,342.29
Oils	340,646	970,747.28
Mining	1,605,436	296,586.23
Totals	1,968,773	$2,112,961.10

Union Oil of California shows the heaviest value, $322,380.50 for 1828 shares with Associated Oil second, $259,716.25 for 6000 shares. Telluride led the mines in value, $118,175.86 for 177,546 shares. In industrials, Goodyear, preferred, was the leader, 571 shares to a total value of $54,241.50 changing hands, and in bonds the Liberty fourth 4 1-4s proved the most popular trader; volume, 983; value, $254,507.56. The lowest price touched by any of the government issues during the month was $1 5-8 for second 4 1-4s and the highest, 97 for Victory 4 3-4s. Except for first 2½s and first 4s, which declined half a point and a point and a quarter respectively, all of the war notes closed materially stronger than the month's opening quotations.

Hawaii Likes P. G. & E.

Dean Witter, head of the firm of Blyth, Witter & Co., has returned from a trip to the Hawaiian Islands, and reports that the distributors of the recent issue of Pacific Gas and Electric bonds in the Islands have greatly exceeded their commitments.

Dividend Notices.

California Packing Corporation will pay a regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 per share on common stock, June 15. Books closed May 27.

Amalgamated Oil will pay a dividend of $1.50 per share July 5. Books close June 30.

West Coast Oil will pay a quarterly dividend of $1.50 per share July 5. Books close June 30.

San Joaquin Light and Power has declared dividend No. 22 of $1.50 a share on preferred stock, payable June 15 to stockholders of record May 31.

Machinery by Mail.

Because of transport conditions and difficulty of getting either freight or express matter through in fast time the Westinghouse Company is shipping by parcels post, and has established a packing school where the machinery is separated into parts, each part marked, and sent separately by insured special delivery parcels post. Instructions are also mailed the receiver for assembling the parts. Some of these shipments run into the tons, and the detail involved in reducing them to mailable size is said to be immense.

Strike in Gompers's Office.

A good story is told at the expense of Sam Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor whose large office force was busy circularizing book-keepers, telephone operators, clerks, typists, etc., urging them to join the A.F.L. at $2 down and so much a month. The work was hard and results disappointing so the Gompers force demanded a rise in pay and a reduction in hours. The request was ignored. Then the clerks formed a union of their own and presented formal demands, with threat of exposure of brutal capital as exemplified by Samuel Gompers and downtrodden labor as personified by the clerks, unless all their claims were granted. Faced by a strike of a union against the head of unionism Mr. Gompers surrendered.

New Straus Issue.

S. W. Straus & Co. is offering under the amortization plan of that house a $5,000,000 issue of the Fisk Rubber Company building, a proposed twenty-five-story structure to be erected in New York's automobile district. The issue is in the form of first mortgage 6 per cent serial coupon bonds, maturing from May 1, 1922 to May 1, 1935.

Farmers Buy Motor Trucks.

The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company has compiled some interesting statistics; the result of a questionaire to which 42,000 farmers responded.

More than 44 per cent of the farmers questioned stated that they were considering the purchase of motor trucks. Applying this percentage to the 2,000,000 farmers which it is estimated the replies represented, there are revealed nearly 1,000,000 prospective motor truck buyers.

Only 26 per cent of the farmers who replied were truck users, while 74 per cent used horses. Reasons why those who believe in motor trucks did not buy them immediately indicate that 33 per cent were holding back for financial reasons and 11 per cent felt that the highways were not sufficiently developed.

Philadelphia Plan.

"What is the Philadelphia plan of financing?" is a question occasionally asked this department. Its chief feature is the interjection of a trust so that the security does not pass direct, but is safeguarded by annual payments usually covered by certificates of indebtedness. It is often applied to equipment issues for railroads, in which event legal title remains in the trust company until entirely paid out, setting up a relationship something akin to that of landlord and tenant. If the interest on the certificates or instalments on principal is not paid when due the trustee may declare the lease broken and maintain possession of the equipment.

OHIO CITIES GAS CO.
In the Form of
5-Year 7 Per Cent Serial Notes
The Ohio Cities Gas Company, one of the six largest companies of its kind in America, covers every part of the petroleum industry in its operations. It is at the present time doing $10,000,000 worth of business annually. $2,000,000 of which is represented by notes, $2,000,000 of which mature on June 1st of each year from 1921 to 1925, inclusive. These notes are a direct obligation of the company and are convertible into common stock at $45.00 per share from June 1, 1920, and increase at the rate of $1.00 per share each year to $49 per share in 1925.
The gross earnings of the company for 1918 were $40,000,000, for 1919, $54,000,000. The net earnings after depreciation of the past three years averaged more than $11,500,000. The record for all maturities is on an 8 times basis.
* * * *
The Ohio Cities Gas Company is an even greater oil business than a gas business, and operates properties in nine States. The company is both a holding and operating corporation and, according to statement by President Dawes, the Ohio Cities Gas Company has had a corporate existence for seven years. Some of its underlying properties have been in successful operation upwards of 75 years, while others of its oil properties have an operating record of 50 years and we are giving concerns many years before gas was discovered west of Ohio. At this time the Ohio Cities Gas Company holds under lease nearly a million acres of land and owns in fee some 8000 acres. Of these holdings no more than 60,000 acres are developed leaseholds and 1500 operated fee land.
* * * *
The company owns in excess of 2000 wells, producing oil in Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Illinois, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Louisiana, and owns and operates six refineries whose total refining capacity exceeds 25,000 barrels per day; pipe lines to the extent of 2360 miles are connected to 3000 wells and operated by 6 pump stations.
* * * *
The company owns the controlling interest in the United States Pipe Line Company, the only pipe line for the transportation of refined oils in the world; 2850 miles of telegraph and telephone lines; seven casinghead gasoline plants, extracting almost 15,000,000 gallons of gasoline annually; and five large natural gas companies serving a population of 500,000 people with 100,000 consumers and with sales of 100,000,000 cubic feet of gas per year.
* * * *
The company operates 1500 tank cars, 1300 owned and 200 under lease; and one of the largest salt plants in America with a capacity of 1000 barrels of salt per day.
To reach consumers the company owns the Moore Oil Refining Company and operates, in addition to the company, throughout the Eastern and in the Central West, many distributing stations having combined annual sales of more than 80,000,000 gallons per year.
* * * *
The above figures do not include operations of the Oklahoma Producing and Refining Corporation with a net production of 6500 barrels per day and a 3000-barrel refinery as well as pipe lines, casing-head plants and distributing stations, also owned by the Ohio Cities Gas Company besides the Oklahoma.
On March 30, 1920, the company had about 18,500 stockholders, and the Oklahoma Producing and Refining Corporation about 10,000 stockholders.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Month in Review; Price Cutting; Business News Notes.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

The holiday was well observed by Los Angeles business, and activity throughout the marts of trade and speculation was at a standstill, although many took advantage of the fact that the intermission came at the end of the month to put their affairs in order over against the rush of today's renewal.

Although we have heard a good deal, during May, of diminished volume in many lines the remarkable bank clearings for the month offer the best evidence that the affairs of business Los Angeles are in excellent condition, and while there is little encouragement to anticipate a fall in food products other commodities appear to be on the decline, and there is a noticeable tendency to return to a more normal basis of production and sale.

Banks everywhere are contracting their loans, and there has been a marked deflation of currency which will continue. It was obvious that banks could not go on indefinitely expanding their credits and taxing the resources of the Federal reserve system. The situation will be better understood by comparing the figures reported by the national banks of the country in their statements to the Comptroller of the Currency, and which leads to the following comment by the Federal Reserve Board:

"Clearly, the present is not an appropriate time to extend business merely for the sake of increased volume of profits. This applies not only to producers and distributors, but to bankers as well, for the present opportunity to take on new borrowing accounts and to reloan borrowed money at a profit, is tempting to many. Nor is it a time for public or private improvements not absolutely necessary for health and safety. . . . Making new loans for purposes which will not further production or distribution of necessary goods creates fresh demands on labor at a time when there is not enough labor to meet pressing needs. Reduction of existing loans for similar purposes tends to reduce demands on labor. Loans for the purpose of speculating in commodities, securities and real estate, absorb credit required for necessary production, and tend to increase the cost of living."

The American National Bank of San Francisco reviews the situation in this wise:

"A survey of the agricultural field gives little encouragement that the cost of living essentials is approaching lower levels. Sugar at 27 cents a pound retail means higher prices for canned and preserved goods, unless other materials are obtained at prices lower than hitherto. The government forecast is for a wheat crop about one-third less than that of 1919, while from all parts of the country come reports that shortage of farm labor may seriously curtail all crops. Farms cannot be worked without men to work them, and the lure of higher wages, shorter hours and easier living conditions in cities is drawing hired men and farmers' sons away from the land.

"California seems more favored than many other sections. Even though the crop prospects are a little less favorable than reported in April, owing to cool weather and drying winds, the indications are for fairly good yields of both grains and fruits. Less wheat than last year will be produced, but the barley crop is expected to equal that of 1919. Prunes will show an average yield, but apricots will be somewhat short. Oranges indicate a crop of 14,000,000 boxes, marketed at very satisfactory prices. Apples, peaches and pears are expected to fall somewhat below last season's figures. On the whole, however, sentiment in the big valleys of California is very cheerful and may be summed up in the following extract from a letter received from an interior banker: 'Our country in all is blooming with prosperity both in production and growth of new crops. In fact, I never saw this section of the country when it looked more beautiful than it does at the present time.'"

Cutting Prices.

The Better American Federation of California discusses price-cutting in its weekly letter to members, and takes the ground that there can be no general reduction until Federal taxes are lowered and the price of labor returns to normal, together with a readjustment of hours between the agricultural and mechanical laborer.

"If the public demands a continuation of high wages and short hours," the letter, which is signed by H. M. Haldeman, president, says: "It must not be surprised at high prices and short weights for the products of labor. The truism that a short day makes a short dollar cannot be too often repeated.

"There is undisputable logic in the complaint of organizations of farmers that the farmer works fourteen hours a day and sells his products for a moderate profit, but is compelled to buy goods made by men who work eight hours a day or less and receive for a day's work about double what the farmer receives.

"It is not to be denied that it is unfair to the farmer to be expected to exchange the product of a fourteen-hour day in return for the product of an eight-hour day. On the other hand, the eight-hour day for mechanical workmen has come to stay. It is the opinion of many that eight hours is long enough for a day's work and that no man should be required to do more. A readjustment between the hours of the agricultural worker and the mechanic must be made, however, before industry returns to normal."

Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

The stock exchange was closed yesterday in observance of Memorial Day. So was the produce exchange, the grain exchange, and all others throughout the country. The volume of business for the Los Angeles organization, while below the average for the preceding months, was decidedly healthy and promises satisfactory activity as soon as the conditions which have actuated the market during may are sufficiently removed to encourage the public to again take a hand in the game. During the month 1,946,773 shares were traded in on the home floor to a total value of $2,112,961.10. Of this amount oil stocks led in value and mines in volume. The recapitulation shows the following:

	Shares.	Value.
Bonds	2,000	$ 631,640.80
Banks	167	46,055.00
Industrials	19,656	183,342.50
Oils	940,648	970,747.28
Mining	1,005,438	298,580.23
Totals	1,969,773	$2,112,961.10

Union Oil of California shows the heaviest value, $322,386.50 for 1825 shares with Associated Oil second, $359,716.25 for 6000 shares. Telluride led the mines in value, $111,175.66 for 177,566 shares. In industrials, Goodyear, preferred, was the leader, 571 shares to a total value of $54,241.50 changing hands, and in bonds the Liberty fourth 4 1-4s proved the most popular trader; volume, 983; value, $254,507.56. The lowest price touched by any of the government issues during the month was 81 5-8 for second 4 1-4s and the highest, 97 for Victory 4 3-4s. Except for first 2½s and first 4s, which declined half a point and a point and a quarter respectively, all of the war notes closed materially stronger than the month's opening quotations.

Hawaii Likes P. G. & E.

Dean Witter, head of the firm of Blyth, Witter & Co., has returned from a trip to the Hawaiian Islands, and reports that the distributors of the recent issue of Pacific Gas and Electric bonds in the Islands have greatly exceeded their commitments.

Dividend Notices.

California Packing Corporation will pay a regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 per share on common stock, June 15. Books closed May 31.

Amalgamated Oil will pay a dividend of $1.50 per share July 5. Books close June 30.

West Coast Oil will pay a quarterly dividend of $1.50 per share July 5. Books close June 30.

San Joaquin Light and Power has declared dividend No. 12 of $1.50 a share on preferred stock, payable June 15 to stockholders of record May 31.

Machinery by Mail.

Because of transport conditions and difficulty of getting either freight or express matter through in fast time the Westinghouse Company is shipping by parcels post, and has established a packing school where the machinery is separated into parts, each part marked, and sent separately by insured special delivery parcels post. Instructions are also mailed the receiver for assembling the parts. Some of these shipments run into the tons, and the detail involved in reducing them to mailable size is said to be immense.

Strike in Gompers's Office.

A good story is told at the expense of Sam Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor whose large office force was busy circularizing book-keepers, telephone operators, clerks, typists, etc., urging them to join the A.F.L. at $2 down and so much a month. The work was hard and results disappointing so the Gompers force demanded a rise in pay and a reduction in hours. The request was ignored. Then the clerks formed a union of their own and presented formal demands, with threat of exposure of brutal capital as exemplified by Samuel Gompers and downtrodden labor as personified by the clerks, unless all their claims were granted. Faced by a strike of a union against the head of unionism Mr. Gompers surrendered.

New Straus Issue.

S. W. Straus & Co. is offering under the amortization plan of that house a $5,000,000 issue of the Fisk Rubber Company building, a proposed twenty-five-story structure to be erected in New York's automobile district. The issue is in the form of first mortgage 6 per cent serial coupon bonds, maturing from May 1, 1922 to May 1, 1935.

Farmers Buy Motor Trucks.

The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company has compiled some interesting statistics: the result of a questionaire to which 42,000 farmers responded.

More than 44 per cent of the farmers questioned stated that they were considering the purchase of motor trucks. Applying this percentage to the 2,000,000 farmers which it is estimated the replies represented, there are revealed nearly 1,000,000 prospective motor truck buyers.

Only 26 per cent of the farmers who replied were truck users, while 74 per cent used horses. Reasons why those who believe in motor trucks did not buy them immediately indicate that 33 per cent were holding back for financial reasons and 11 per cent felt that the highways were not sufficiently developed.

Philadelphia Plan.

"What is the Philadelphia plan of financing?" is a question occasionally asked this department. Its chief feature is the interjection of a trust so that the security does not pass direct, but is safeguarded by annual payments usually covered by certificates of indebtedness. It is often applied to equipment issues for railroads, in which event legal title remains in the trust company until entirely paid out, setting up a relationship something akin to that of landlord and tenant. If the interest on the certificates or instalments on principal is not paid when due the trustee may declare the lease broken and maintain possession of the equipment.

6% Per Cent Basis for All Maturities a Direct Obligation of the OHIO CITIES GAS CO.
In the Form of
7 Per Cent Serial Notes
Ohio Cities Gas Company, one of the largest companies of its kind in America, covers every phase of the petroleum industry in its operations. It is at the present time issuing $10,000,000 worth of these notes, $2,000,000 of which will mature on June 1st of each year from 1921 to 1925, inclusive. These notes are a direct obligation of the company and are convertible into common stock at $45.00 per share from June 1, 1920, and increase at the rate of $1.00 per share each year to $49.00 for 1925.

Net earnings of the company for 1919 were $40,000,000, and for 1918, $34,000,000. The net operating earnings after depreciation during the past three years averaged more than $11,500,000. The retail value of all maturities is on an 8 per cent basis.

* * * *

The Ohio Cities Gas Company is not even a greater oil business than it is a gas business, and operates in nine States. The company is both a holding and operating corporation and, according to a statement by President Dawes, the Ohio Cities Gas Company has had a successful existence for seven years. Many of its underlying properties have been in successful operation for periods of 75 years, while other of its properties have an operating record of 50 years and were operating concerns many years before they were discovered west of Ohio.

From time to time the Ohio Cities Gas Company holds under lease nearly 100,000 acres of land and owns in fee 8000 acres. Of these holdings more than 60,000 acres are operated for households and 1500 operated for fuel.

* * * *

The company owns in excess of 1000 wells, producing oil in Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Illinois, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Louisiana, and owns and operates refineries whose total rated capacity exceeds 25,000 barrels per day; pipe lines to the extent of 2000 miles are connected with its wells and operated by 89 stations.

* * * *

The company owns the controlling interest in the United States Pipe Line Company, the only pipe line for the transportation of refined oils in the world; 2850 miles of telegraph and telephone lines; seven casinghead gasoline plants, extracting approximately 18,000,000 gallons of gasoline annually; and five large gas companies serving a population of 500,000 people with natural gas for consumers and with sales of more than 50,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day.

* * * *

The company operates 1500 tank cars, 1200 owned and 200 under lease, and one of the largest salt companies in America with a capacity of 1,000,000 barrels of salt per day.

With such consumers the company has the Moore Oil Refining Company and operates, in addition to the above, throughout the East and in the Central West, many distributing stations having combined sales of more than 50,000,000 gallons per year.

* * * *

The above figures do not include those of the Oklahoma Producing and Refining Corporation with a production of 6500 barrels per day and a 3000-barrel refinery as well as pipe lines, casing-head gasoline plants and distributing stations, also in the Ohio Cities Gas Company and the Oklahoma.

On March 31, 1920, the company had about 12,800 stockholders, and the Oklahoma Producing and Refining Corporation about 10,000 stockholders.

TRADING VERY QUIET ON PRODUCE MARKET.

CHERRIES WEAK UNDER HEAVY RECEIPTS; NEW POTATOES ARE LOWER.

On account of the holiday yesterday trading was very quiet on the local produce market. There was little demand for fruits and vegetables by local retailers and peddlers, and there were practically no arrivals from the country. Rail receipts were also very small. As a result of the general inactivity of the market, prices for the most part remained at the level of Saturday's market, few changes occurring. New potatoes reflected a slightly weaker tone yesterday, due to the fact that supplies in the hands of the retailers were heavy, while there was practically no buying demand. Fancy stock was moving at a decline of 25 cents per big box, while for the poorer grades the market averaged about 15 cents per box lower.

Imperial Valley tomatoes declined slightly, although stock of fancy quality continued to sell to retailers as high as $2.75 per crate. Some tomatoes, however, were offered stock of fairly good quality as low as $2.35 per crate, a decline of 15 cents from the previous low level. Mexican tomatoes dropped 1 cent per pound for all grades. Heavy receipts of cherries during the last few days, amounting in all to several carloads, seemed a weaker tone to develop yesterday for this commodity, prices averaging about 2 cents per pound lower. Supplies of watermelons are becoming more liberal, and prices are pulling about 8 cents per pound lower than the opening quotations, which were 9 cents per pound. The only commodity to advance during yesterday's session was cantaloupes, which sold as high as 7.50 per standard crate, an increase of 50 cents per crate over the previous high level.

are regular folks, just like you and I. They are here, and must be housed, even as you and I. They are salaried people, or wage earners, or retired folks; and they are buying a house, trading with our merchants, and possibly have their Hivver in the garage. Summed up, they are fixed—located. All right then.

You have money to put at interest. You want the most you can get for your money with safety. You want to know something about what is to be done with your money — what security you have for your money. All right: It's right here at home for you. These people have put a 50% mortgage on their properties and the people holding the mortgages are offering you an opportunity to invest your money in them. It's an eyesight proposition. Here's the house. It sold for so much, the mortgage is so much. Here are the people who bought it. They are living in the house, and it's a new house, too. Then there's the guarantee that you will be paid your interest when it's due, and that when the time comes for the principal payment, it's going to be ready. All of this is possible in the Mortgage Trust Certificates we offer, to net 7% interest, payable every three months at the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank. Why not investigate?

After the decided check in the declining market of last week it is not likely that the readjustment period will last very long and it is very likely that good, conservative securities may be picked up practically at bottom prices during the present week. With the decline in various commodity prices and the accompanying liquidation in the Securities market the present situation is on a considerably firmer foundation and offers to investors more conservative opportunities than have existed for some time. We strongly recommend that prospective buyers take action and will be very pleased to recommend investments we have in mind or to advise them regarding those in which they may be interested. We will carry high grade securities on margin or under the terms of the "Monthly Payment Plan" and will be pleased to correspond regarding this phase of the business.

IN LINE OF MARCH.

The organizations which took part in the parade were:

Bartlett-Logan Post and Woman's Relief Corps, Stanton Post and Woman's Relief Corps, Kenesaw Post and Woman's Relief Corps, Robley D. Evans Post and Woman's Relief Corps, Roosevelt Camp and Auxiliary, U.S.W.V.; Glass Camp and Auxiliary, U.S.W.V.; Rosecrans Camp and Auxiliary, Sons of Veterans; Stanton Camp and Auxiliary, Sons of Veterans; Jesse Fremont Ttent, Daughters of Veterans; Clara Barton Ttent, Daughters of Veterans; Helen Jean Christy Tent, Daughters of Veterans; Auxiliary to Sons of Veterans, Union Circle, Ladies of the G.A.R.; Columbia Circle, Ladies of the G.A.R.; Lawton Circle, Ladies of the G.A.R.; Los Angeles Post, No. 3, and Auxiliary, The American Legion; Victory Post, No. 54, and Auxiliary, The American Legion; Hollwood Post, No. 43, The American Legion; Army and Navy Union; Mary A. Logan Auxiliary, Army and Navy Union; Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post No. 8.; James B. Gresham Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars; and the Boy Scouts. The Red Cross, Y.M.C.A., Salvation Army, Knights of Columbus and other welfare organizations were represented.

As a bugle call throbbed its way into an echo at Forest Lawn Cemetery yesterday a big navy dirigible floated overhead and discharged a sky shower of flowers upon the graves of World War veterans below. Six thousand persons witnessed the impressive spectacle.

Lieuts. Peck and Haworth brought the dirigible here from North Island, leaving there at 10:45 a.m. and arriving here shortly after 2 p.m. with two scout planes acting as pilots. The blimp cruised near the shore line as far north as San Pedro and then flew over the city to the cemetery, where two enlisted men from a height of 300 feet, tossed overboard a ton of flowers that had been taken to San Diego by truck Sunday.

The address of the afternoon was delivered by Rev. B. D. Snudden, pastor of the First Methodist Church of South Pasadena. He declared that militaristic nations do not observe Memorial Day as the people of this country do because they regard their soldiers as cannon fodder, rather than as martyrs in a great cause.

"Our nation has always fought for great principles," said he, "and in its last struggle has, I hope, proved that no country shall hereafter successfully make war for the lust of power. But we must now provide the international machinery to bring about world peace, else we will be giving our consent to the permanency of what we sought to destroy."

Maj. J. C. Shindler of the United States Army made an impressive patriotic talk in which he declared that we are not pro-English or anything else than extremely pro-American since the World War was fought. He made the declaration that hereafter this country will have no room for hyphenated Americans. "My Lad Sleeps in Flanders" was sung with great feeling by Constance Balfour.

IN THE CEMETERIES.

In an eloquent tribute to those who fell in the Spanish-American War and some of whom are buried in Rosedale Cemetery, Judge Shenk, orator of the day, spoke there yesterday both of the blessings and the horrors of war and of the great patriotic lesson they teach. The reward is, he said, that "we can stand today among these graves and thank God that we survive to enjoy the civilization that has been saved to us survivors to carry on the great work toward the great goal of all human endeavor—liberty, but without license, justice as between man and man, and equality of opportunity for all.

"Disloyalty and the anarchistic spirit cannot long endure in the face of an aggressive, patriotic people. Those who are not satisfied with our form of government should be compelled to go elsewhere. This is a big nation, but it is not big enough for two flags. The anarchistic disturber has no more place in our body politic than has a quarrelsome stranger in our private homes. He must be dealt with expeditiously and whatever hurtful influence he may have left behind him must be counteracted by precept and example."

The memorial services at Rosedale Cemetery was conducted by the United Spanish War Veterans. Seated on the speakers' stand were Judge Weller, president; A. D. Banks, treasurer; R. Morgan Galbraith, chairman; W. D. McConnell, secretary. The organizations in line were the G.A.R. Fife and Drum Corps; Los Angeles police and firemen, (Spanish War veterans;) World War veterans, Roosevelt camp, No. 3, and Admiral Glass camp No. 36. Capt. W. B. Heincke commanded a squad of National Guardsmen. The firing squad was composed of Spanish War veterans. J. W. Fiskes, past commander, and Commander Charles Armstrong were the buglers, the latter sounding taps. Rev. Jonathan E. Bell delivered the invocation. Mrs. Robert Wankowski sang "America." The benediction was by Rev. Jonathan E. Bell. Department Inspector Tom C. Galbraith had charge of decorating the graves. He was assisted by the Ladies' Auxiliary.

The flowers placed on the graves of veterans of the various wars were more beautiful than ever.

Grand Army veterans, who marched first to Rosedale Cemetery, decorated Stanton Post plot. Comrade S. H. Enyeart made the oration, dwelling on the dark past and bright future. He drew a lesson from the lives of those who had gone to the blessings of the future. Patriotic songs were sung.

The graves of the G.A.R. dead were also decorated at Inglewood Cemetery. Rev. C. C. Saleeman was the speaker. Many attended the services.

FOR FALLEN COMRADES.

Simple Memorial Day Exercises are Held in Pershing Square.

A crash of firearms in tribute to the dead from the firing squad concluded the exercises in Pershing Square yesterday, around the monument to the memory of men of the Seventh California Volunteers and the One Hundred and Sixtieth Regiment. Gen. Robert Wankowski presided.

Ford Callender was the speaker of the day and called attention to what citizenship means after the horrors of the late war. Seated on the stage were Dr. Frederick M. Farr; Capt. Bert T. Demmit, president of the Seventh Regiment Association; Paul Heydenrich, secretary; Gen. V. C. Prescott, former president; Judge Weller, R. Morgan Galbraith, and Col. S. M. Saltmarsh.

Constance Balfour sang "America," the spectators who crowded the park joining in the chorus. The salute and taps were given by the Los Angeles Military Academy. The Pace Military Band played selections and the cadets of this academy gave an exhibition drill after the services at the monument.

DECK "TIMES" GRAVES.

Floral Tribute Paid to Memory of Victims of Dynamiters.

The twenty graves surrounding The Times monument in Hollywood Cemetery, which mark the last resting place of the loyal employees who lost their lives in the dynamiting of The Times Building, were beautifully decorated yesterday with flowers taken by former fellow workers and a generous supply of blossoms sent by Howard & Smith. The services at the graves were in charge of The Times composing-room force.

BANKERS TRUST COMPANY, NEW YORK, TRUSTEE

Interest payable without deduction for federal income taxes now or hereafter deductable at the source, not in excess of 2 per cent.

The following information is summarized from a letter of Mr. Alanson P. Lathrop, President of the Company:

The American Light and Traction Co. was organized in 1901, and owns over 99 per cent of the capital stocks of fourteen operating companies engaged principally in the production and sale of gas and electricity for light, heat and power.

The business fields embrace a present estimated population of 2,400,000 and include some of the most important manufacturing and industrial cities in the country, notably Detroit and Grand Rapids, Michigan; Milwaukee and Madison, Wisconsin; St. Paul, Minnesota; San Antonio, Texas; St. Joseph, Missouri; and Binghamton, New York.

These notes will constitute the sole funded debt of the American Light and Traction Co., the equity being represented by preferred and common stocks having a market value, based on present quotations, in excess of $40,000,000.

The detachable warrants entitle the holder thereof to purchase, during the periods stated above, common stock of the company at prices ranging from $142 to $152 per share. The range in quotations for the common stock during the past ten years has been from $125 to $450 per share. Cash dividends have been paid on the common stock during the past seventeen years, the rate since 1911 having been 10 per cent per annum, and in addition stock dividends of 10 per cent per annum have been paid since 1909.

The net income of the American Light and Traction Co. for the twelve months ended March 31, 1920, amounted to $4,201,139 as compared with annual interest requirements on the five-year 6 per cent gold notes of $360,000. During this period the consolidated gross earnings of the company and the operating companies were $22,686,216 and net earnings on $5,826,016, as compared with interest and other deductions of the operating companies and annual interest on these notes amounting to $1,984,877.

The operating companies have been in existence from twenty to sixty years and have shown an uninterrupted growth regardless of general business conditions. The management of the company is in the hands of the same men who have conducted its operations since its inception.

Price 94.75 and Interest Yielding Over 7¼%

WE RECOMMEND THESE NOTES FOR INVESTMENT.

The notes are offered, if, when and as issued, subject to prior subscription by the stockholders and to opinion of counsel as to the legality of the issue and the propriety and sufficiency of corporate action with respect thereto. It is anticipated that temporary notes will be ready for delivery on or about June 15, 1920.

SOUTH HONORS MEN WHO SERVED

People of Many Communities Bear Tokens of Love and Appreciation to Soldier and Sailor Graves and Strew Flowers on Unmarked Sepulchers of the Sea.

With new earnestness and new meaning imparted by the presence of thousands of young men who last May were soldiers and sailors overseas, observance of Memorial Day was completed in cities throughout Southern California yesterday. In many instances the ceremonies were the most solemn and impressive individual communities have ever known. The beautiful custom of strewing flowers upon the sea, in tribute to United States sailors who lie in the unmarked graves of the deep, led yesterday to unusually touching exercises on Santa Monica Bay, at the harbor and at Long Beach.

FOR THE NAVY'S HEROES.
BLOSSOMS STREWN ON SEA.

SANTA MONICA, May 31.—On the waters of Santa Monica Bay were scattered today the choicest blossoms of hundreds of gardens, in memory of American sailors who have made the supreme sacrifice while fighting on the sea. A small army, representing the patriotic forces of the nation during the wars of half a century, paraded through the streets and along the piers from which the posies were thrown into the ocean. Members of the American Legion, the G.A.R. and the Ladies of the G.A.R., Boy Scouts, school children, policemen and military cadets made up the major part of the column.

MRS. FORBES MARCHES.
BEAUTIFUL THOUGHT HERS.

VENICE, May 31.—Strength of feeling was added to the observance of Memorial Day here by the presence of Mrs. A. S. C. Forbes of Pasadena who twelve years ago originated the national custom of scattering flowers on the sea in honor of American sailors who have died while fighting there. It was at Venice that Mrs. Forbes began the practice. Today, with members of the American Legion, she led a parade along Windward avenue to the end of the pier, from which a wealth of flowers was strewn on the water. The band of the U.S.S. Mississippi, which is at anchor off Venice, and a platoon of sailors from the ship took part in the march.

LINCOLN'S FRIEND TALKS.
EXERCISES AT LONG BEACH.

LONG BEACH, May 31.—Memorial Day was observed here this afternoon with a patriotic parade, with exercises in the municipal auditorium and in Pacific Park and with the ceremony of distributing flowers on the sea in honor of the sailor dead. Maj. Walter F. Linneberger was marshal of the parade and B. B. Stakemiller, William Kollender and G. Baker were aides. A detachment of bluejackets from the New Mexico, flagship of the Pacific Fleet, participated. At the auditorium, Dr. Ervin Chapman, nationally known dry campaigner who was a personal friend of Abraham Lincoln, spoke on "The Truth About Lincoln."

IN WATERS OF HARBOR.
FLOWER CEREMONY THERE.

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, May 31.—Escorted by soldiers from Fort MacArthur, by sailors of the Pacific Fleet and by the band of the flagship New Mexico, members of patriotic bodies marched from the Fifth-street school to the First-street wharf at 3 p.m. today, and strewed flowers on the water of the harbor, in memory of the Navy's hero dead. Chaplain W. R. Hall of the cruiser Minneapolis, Frank G. Tyrrell, Los Angeles attorney and W. H. Savage, attorney and the oldest living marine, were the orators.

G.A.R. and W.R.C. organizations today decorated soldier and sailor graves at the Wilmington Cemetery. Reverend Father C. Norman Raley delivered the oration. Music was furnished by the Elks' band.

BUSY DAY FOR VETERANS.
SOLDIERS' HOME EXERCISES.

SOLDIERS' HOME, May 31.—Aging veterans at the Pacific Branch, National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, completed their observance of Memorial Day with a long and varied program that began at 9 o'clock this morning, when they marched to the cemetery in company with members of various patriotic organizations and with school children of Sawtelle. At 2 p.m. military exercises were conducted at the cemetery and the graves were decorated. At the same hour, a special program began in Ward Memorial Hall at the Home, where Judge Weller, commander of Roosevelt Camp No. 9, United Spanish War Veterans, was the orator of the day.

AGAINST SOLDIER BONUS.
POLITICS, SAYS PASADENAN.

PASADENA, May 31.—Delivering the principal address at Memorial exercises in Library Park here today, Leslie B. Henry, who was a Liberty Loan campaigner during the war, denounced the plan for a cash bonus for soldiers as a "device of politicians." He was applauded by an audience that contained many soldiers and sailors of the World War.

The exercises were preceded by a parade in which Civil War veterans, members of the American Legion, Spanish War Veterans and auxiliary bodies took part. School children distributed to the veterans flowers which this afternoon were strewn on soldier and sailor graves in Mountain View Cemetery.

BESIDE POMONA GRAVES.
SERVICES ARE IMPRESSIVE.

POMONA, May 31.—Memorial Day services at the Pomona Cemetery, following a long parade of veterans, officials, representatives of civic bodies and school children, were the most impressive ever conducted in this city. Rev. Walter C. Buckner in his memorial address declared that the spirit of greed, selfishness, petulance, faultfinding, suspicion and envy is seeking to destroy all that the men of the nation in three wars have fought to preserve.

FLOWERS FROM THE AIR.
POSIES SHOWERED ON DEAD.

REDLANDS, May 31.—While army airplanes dropped flowers as symbols of honor to the memory of unknown soldier dead, the people of Redlands gathered at the big outdoor amphitheater here this morning for the most elaborate Memorial Day exercises ever conducted in this city. The feature of the parade of veterans and of townspeople that preceded the exercises was a cannon recently given to Redlands by the government in recognition of the community's fine war record. The piece of ordnance was formally presented to the municipality by Mayor Brock. Edward Treat spoke of the attempts being made by radicals to wreck that for which the country's soldiers have fought.

OVER THOUSAND ATTEND.
OBSERVANCE AT ANAHEIM.

ANAHEIM, May 31.—More than 1000 persons attended the memorial services conducted at the Anaheim Cemetery today. The ceremonies were in charge of Malvern Hill Post, G.A.R., Julia Ward Howe Tent, Daughters of Veterans, and Anaheim Post of the American Legion. Capt. Harry E. Insley of Los Angeles was the speaker.

OAKLAND SETS FAST PACE FOR ANGELENOS.

CITY THIRD THIS SIZE WILL VOTE ON $5,000,000 SCHOOL BOND ISSUE.

The City of Oakland proposes to bond itself for $5,000,000 to construct intermediate and high schools. Oakland has a population of 211,000, according to the recently announced census figures.

The population of Los Angeles has not yet been officially announced but most expert estimators agree that this city is about three times as large as Oakland. With three times the population, Los Angeles is asked to bond itself, a week from today, for less than twice $5,000,000 for its entire school system, for $9,500,000 to be exact.

To equal Oakland's record Los Angeles would have to bond itself for $15,000,000 for high schools and intermediate schools alone, but Los Angeles is asked for less money for its high schools than is Oakland.

The needs of the high schools of Los Angeles are more than three times as great as Oakland. The high school enrollment is more than three times as great. Los Angeles is growing at a greater rate than is Oakland. It is a question which city has more outgrown its present high school equipment.
